SOCIALISTS FOR SOVIET.

Red Championed at Albany Trial.

Unseated Assemblymen Admit Bolshevik Sympathy in Opening Argument.

Attorney Asserts Affiliation with Lenine-Trotzky Regime not Crime.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY, Jan. 21.—A defense of soviet Russia was made today on the floor of the New York Assembly chamber by Seymour Stedman of Chicago, an attorney for the defense in the trial of the five suspended Socialist Assemblymen, before the Assembly Judiciary Committee on charges of disloyalty.

Asserting in connection with the charge that the Socialist party at its convention in Chicago last summer had expressed solidarity with soviet Russia, and that the Assembly had condemned the suspended members because they were members of a party which expressed such approval, Mr. Stedman declared that expression of belief in the soviet system was not an offense in England, Germany, Italy or Norway, where it had become an issue, and that in this country it was not a crime for which a man could be tried and sent to the penitentiary nor did it even afford the basis for a civil libel suit.

NO WAR WITH RUSSIA.

"We are not at war with Russia," he said. "It is true that some of our troops are over there and some of the troops of our associates. It was rather unfortunate for some of our associates' troops, for the Russians shot some ideas into their regiments."

Mr. Stedman, who said educational institutions were being developed in Russia despite the fighting that was going on there, asserted feeling toward that country was changing, and cited dispatches to the effect that the Allied governments were preparing to resume trade relations. This, he claimed, was commercial recognition of the Russian political and economic structure.

Arguing a motion to dismiss the charges because they do not include cause for exclusion of the Socialist members, Mr. Stedman declared that "you specify no act that would justify the exclusion of these men."

"Can you say that if we plead guilty to the first cause (adherence to the Chicago platform,) it justified our exclusion?" he asked.

Mr. Stedman declared the first charge was made on the assumption that conditions in Russia were "responsible," but he declared that information received from that country was mostly in the form of dispatches and that what "was fully known" to the Assembly might not be "fully known" to the Socialists and vice versa.

He declared that "it is news to us" that the Socialist party, as charged, had indorsed the communist international in Moscow, which demands overthrow of organized government.

NOT CRIMINAL.

A tilt occurred before the session adjourned until 2 o'clock, when Chairman Martin objected to the use of the word "indictment" in referring to the charges against the Assemblymen.

"This is hardly an indictment," said Mr. Martin. "This is an allegation. Strict criminal law cannot apply here. We are not claiming these people are criminals."

"It is important to know," said Morris Hillquit, attorney for the defense, "if they are not charged with crime, if they are not charged with anything else, what are we here for?"

PACT FIGHT NEARS END.

Deadlock Break is Expected.

Bipartisan Conference is Making Progress Toward a Compromise.

Difference Over Article X and Colonial Votes is Almost Adjusted.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Marked improvement in possibility of composing the Senate deadlock over the peace treaty was reported tonight by leaders participating in the bipartisan compromise negotiations.

Although the leaders yesterday came close to a schism, today's meeting, it was stated upon authoritative information, resulted in material progress toward a compromise. At no time since the bipartisan conference began a week ago, one of the active leaders declared, have prospects been so bright for an agreement between the four Republican and five Democratic members of the committee. It was added, however, that tomorrow might bring another situation.

Possibility of harmonizing differences over the fundamental controversial article X of the League of Nations covenant, and the question of equal voting in the League—was the basis of feeling among the conferees tonight that a compromise yet may be reached. The conferees also feel sure that, possibly with some difficulty, any compromise on which the bipartisan conference could agree would be accepted by the Senate.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader in the treaty fight, called the Senate's attention again today to results of the intercollegiate vote on treaty questions. He said that of the votes cast, less than one-tenth were in opposition to ratification and that less than one-fifth were in favor of the Lodge reservations.

The final returns as received by Mr. Hitchcock were said by him to be more complete than those previously published, including results from eight additional colleges. The returns as placed by him in the Congressional Record follow:

THE RETURNS.

For unqualified ratification ..	48,232
Against ratification	13,933
For Lodge reservations	27,970
For compromise reservations	61,494

ARKANSAS POSSE HUNTS DESPERATE NEGRO BAND

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DUMAS (Ark.) Jan. 21.—A large posse was being formed here tonight to start tomorrow in search of armed negroes who late today compelled J. H. Breedlove, a deputy sheriff, to surrender a negro prisoner at a negro settlement, eight miles east of here.

Deputy Breedlove and two white men accompanying him escaped uninjured, after exchanging shots with the negroes, who, according to the authorities, are believed to be well armed and organized. Immediately after the trouble the telephone wires between Dumas and the negro settlement were cut.

In addition to formation of the posse, Gov. Brough has been asked to send troops to the scene if the situation becomes formidable.

Fight Will of Steel King's Widow.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A jury was selected today before Surrogate Cohalan to hear evidence in the contest over the will of Mrs. Rosa Spang, widow of a Pittsburgh steel manufacturer, who left nearly $2,000,000, the bulk of her estate, to create a charitable institution for the care and maintenance of young girls until they become self-supporting

PHELAN WOULD DENY CITIZENSHIP TO ALL JAPANESE BORN IN AMERICA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A constitutional amendment denying citizenship to all Japanese born on American soil was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Phelan, Democrat, California, and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Under the proposed amendment only persons "whose parents are white, Africans, American Indians or their descendants and all persons naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof would be eligible for citizenship."

"In a short time," said Senator Phelan, "the Japanese will own all the best lands in California unless restrained. It is necessary, therefore, to deny citizenship to Japanese born on our soil and discourage their presence, thus preventing race conflicts and the saving of the white population from destruction."

JAPAN'S BIG ARMY MENACE TO WORLD IS VIEW OF EXPERT

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Close study of the military situation throughout the world in the light of recent important changes in the military and political situation is being made by military experts and diplomats in Washington who are especially concerned over the spread of Bolshevist militarism and who are speculating as to the role Japan will play in the changed situation.

The important alterations in the general situation are the collapse of the Russian anti-Bolshevik movement, the rapid spread of the Red armed menace toward Japan, China, India, Persia and Western Europe; the decision of the American government to withdraw its armed expeditionary forces from Siberia, which has in turn developed a new and unexpected situation for the Japanese; important changes in the map of the Pacific as a result of the ratification of the Versailles treaty which has given Japan certain important geographical advantages and the imminence of a concentrated military attack by the Bolshevik army against Poland.

The Japanese government has not yet indicated what its attitude will be toward the Siberian situation—whether Japanese troops will be left in their present status in Siberia and Manchuria, or whether they will be withdrawn or greatly increased. In its decisions as to changes in the status quo in the Orient the Tokio government will act after conversations with the British government, with which it has a treaty of alliance. Viscount Uchinda, the Japanese Foreign Minister, was scheduled to address the National Diet at Tokio today on Japan's policies, discussing the Siberian and Shantung questions, as well as Japan's international relations in general. Premier Hara and the Finance Minister were also scheduled to address the Diet today.

JAPAN'S GREAT MILITARY ADVANTAGES.

The study that has been made of the military situation, considering the world as a unit, has convinced military experts that it pivots very largely around the fact that Japan is in a greater position for military offensive and defensive operation at the present moment than ever before in history. The outstanding fact is declared to be that Japan is the only great power with a large national army that can be quickly mobilized and thrown into war anywhere at will. Before the outbreak of the world war in 1914 there were other nations that could use their armies at will, notably Germany and Austria, but they cannot longer do so. Japan is the single remaining great power that is not hedged around by the check against using the military force without express approval of legislative bodies.

Military experts have also discovered that a second important element of power possessed by Japan has been acquired through the acquisition of the Pacific Islands north of the equator. These have furnished Japan with an insular barrier of defense against naval attack which is regarded now in the highest military circles as furnishing Japan with control over the whole Pacific Ocean from Asia. Japan's insular ocean barrier now starts with the Kurile Islands near Kamchatka. These link with the Empire of Japan proper which extends to the island of Formosa, off the coast of Fuchan. The chain extends via Bonin, the Ladrones, Mardane and Caroline Islands, east of the Philippines to Micronesia.

COMPLETE NATIONAL INSULAR BARRIER.

With the acquisition of the Pacific islands north of the equator, Japan now has a complete natural insular barrier which she is now understood to be planning to utilize in setting up an elaborate system of submarine torpedo boat defense. Japan is known to be making an intensive study of the possible use of submarine boats on this long chain of islands, is training submarine officers and making a special study of the opinions of German submarines in the world war. These newly acquired islands, in conjunction with those which were previously owned by Japan, are regarded as now giving that nation an immunity from naval coercion by sea and the opportunity to throw a submarine barrier between the United States and the Philippines.

The third element of power that Japan has acquired through changed conditions is geographical. Formerly Japan was faced from the continent of Asia by the Russian Empire. This no longer exists and Japan is not threatened with attack from the continent by any strong power other than the menace contained in the eastward advance of the Bolshevik forces through Siberia.

BOLSHEVIK ADVANCE GREATEST MENACE.

This is a menace which the rest of the world also now concerns itself about seriously and has been under serious consideration by the Allied powers. The Bolshevik military control now extends from the Polish frontier to Irkutsk, and has been spreading toward the Black Sea and the Dardanelles, across the Caspian Sea through Turkestan and Afghanistan toward India and Mongolia. Military experts are now convinced that Bolsheviks have a more stable military power than at any time since the soviet revolution was initiated. Kolchak has been rounted in Siberia, his first, second and third armies have been dispersed and Kolchak himself is a prisoner. Denikine's army also has been routed and forced to retreat with a wedge driven between its wings.

Finland is friendly toward the Bolsheviks and Lenine has announced that the changed military situation has given him a chance to square accounts with Poland. The Esthonian army is of no real value in the present situation.

Letvia is resuming hostilities against the Reds, and the Bolsheviks are concentrating forces near Smolensk preliminary to opening an offensive this spring against Poland. The Ukraine is considered by military experts to be nil as a military factor in the situation and Petlura has fled to Poland.

MOVEMENT ON PERSIA GAINS MOMENTUM.

The Bolsheviks now control Russian Turkestan, have access to Afghanistan, have occupied Baku, crossed the Caspian to Krasovodok and are moving through the Trans-Caspian province toward Merv, where the British have a military contingent, as a covering force against Persia and Afghanistan.

All of western Siberia is under Bolshevik military control as far east as Irkutsk and Lake Baikal. Eastern Siberia is dominated by Semenoff, who is in turn under the influence of Japan, and by Japan.

In northern Russia the military initiative has passed to the Bolshevik forces along the Murmansk front. The best military information is that the situation also favors the Bolsheviks on the western front. Esthonia has, through an armistice, made it possible for the Bolsheviks to redistribute their forces in preparation for a concentrated attack against Poland early in the spring, as soon as weather conditions permit. This attack is expected to come from the northwest against Poland for various military reasons. It cannot be made frontally through the Privet marshes nor from the Southeast.

RED AND WHITE ARMED FORCES COMPARED.

The latest military advices, of a reliable character as to the relative strength of the Bolshevik and anti-Bolshevik forces on all four fronts, is as follows:

Northern, 25,500 Bolshevik, 20,200 Anti-Bolshevik; Western, 125,000 Bolshevik, 137,000 Anti-Bolshevik; Southern, 215,000 Bolsheik, 165,000 Anti-Bolshevik; Eastern, 75,000 Bolshevik, 130,900 Anti-Bolshevik; totals, 440,500 Bolsheik, 453,100 Anti-Bolshevik.

Military experts point out that the Bolsheiks have the advantage of victories in their favor, while the anti-Bolshevik forces, through reverses in

BRYAN HITS PARTY WET

Opposes Edwards for President.

Says Cummings Must Choose Between Democratic Office and Jerseyite.

Aroused at Chairman's Aid to Governor Who is Foe of the Drys.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NORFOLK (Va.) Jan. 21.—William Jennings Bryan, speaking here today under auspices of the Anti-Saloon League, declared he would oppose any movement to bring about selection of Gov. Edwards of New Jersey as the Democratic nominee for President in 1920.

Mr. Bryan asserted that if the address made by Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, at a dinner last night in Newark, correctly expressed the chairman's attitude he would oppose him for chairman of the National Committee.

"Edwards has picked out my own State, Nebraska, to launch his campaign in," declared Mr. Bryan. "But if Nebraska instructs for Edwards, I'll never be a delegate to the National Convention."

Referring a second time to Gov. Edwards, who, he said, conducted his campaign in New Jersey on a "wet" ticket, Mr. Bryan reiterates:

"If Nebraska instructs for Edwards, and I am a delegate, I shall resign. I shall never vote to nominate a man like that."

Following an eloquent appeal for support of the Anti-Saloon League, Mr. Bryan digressed to say:

"Twenty-four years ago I commenced running for President." Laughter followed.

"Nineteen hundred years ago," he said, "the Wise Men came from the East. And New York editors think they are still coming. No reform ever started in New York, and they can have no faith in reform of any kind."

Referring to the possibility of Republican victory this year, Mr. Bryan said:

"God did not put the impossible in the hands of any human being, especially a Republican, and no Republican is going to be permitted to nominate the next President of the United States."

CONTINUES ATTACK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RICHMOND (Va.) Jan. 21.—William J. Bryan, in an address here tonight, continued an attack against Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, which he inaugurated in a day address at Norfolk.

Referring to Chairman Cummings' attendance at an inaugural dinner for Gov. Edwards of New Jersey last night in Newark, Mr. Bryan declared that Cummings must either separate from the New Jersey Executive or resign as head of the Democratic National Committee.

"The Democratic party," said Mr. Bryan, "is too near me to ever consent to have its interests allied with those of the liquor interests."

"I won't join with Mr. Edwards in trying to turn the Democratic party over to the liquor interests," said Mr. Bryan.

"If the chairman," he continued, "referring to Mr. Cummings, "has not sense enough to know better than to join in a boom for a candidate like that, he hasn't sense enough to be on the committee."

HOT FIGHT PROSPECT.

Mr. Bryan, referring to reports that Edwards had announced his candidacy for President in Nebraska and Virginia, said:

"I don't know why Mr. Edwards went to Nebraska to announce his candidacy," he said, "unless he wanted a hot fight. And if he did, he sure came to the right place. If Edwards comes down here, I want you to be ready for him."

Asserting the liquor interests were going to take the fight against nation-wide prohibition into politics and try to elect a "wet" President on a "wet" platform, the former Secretary of State announced he could bring evidence to prove his statements.

Many members of the State Assembly were in the audience and to them Mr. Bryan directed an appeal that the woman's suffrage amendment be ratified at this session.

EXCHANGE COLLAPSES.

Foreign Money is Demoralized.

British, French and Italian Remittances Reach the Lowest Records.

Unfavorable Trade Balances and American Failure on Treaty are Causes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Utter collapse and demoralization overtook the foreign exchange market today, resulting in new low records for British, French, Italian and various other European remittances.

The rate for British demand bills fell to $3.60¾, or 3½ cents under its previous minimum, and Paris checks, Italian lires and Belgian francs broke in corresponding or greater degree.

Dealers in exchange were again inclined to attribute today's collapse to such well-known and long-existing conditions as the unfavorable trade balances against almost all the foreign centers, and the failure of the U. S. Senate to ratify the peace treaty.

The latest reversal in exchange is believed to bear close relation to the policy recently inaugurated by the Central Bank, which aims to reduce all unnecessary credits. It and individuals have been holding large amounts of exchange, thereby tying up enormous sums of cash. Today's liquidation and that which is expected to follow will have the effect of turning frozen into liquid form.

No important form of exchange, not even rubles, which are only nominally quoted at 4½ to 4¾ cents, against the pre-war quotation of 51½ cents, has suffered as much as the German mark. Quoted before the war at 23 1-8 cents, the mark today dwindled to slightly under 1½ cents.

New low records on English, French and Italian exchange were as follows: Demand bills in the pound sterling, which reached a record low of $3.64 1-4 on December 12, fell today to $3.62¾, off 2 7-8c from yesterday's close.

French exchange, which was quoted yesterday at the rate of 11.75 francs for the American dollar, a new low, dropped today to 11.97, or 17 points below last night's closing quotation. Lire checks dropped from yesterday's new low of 13.87 to a rate of 14.07 for the American dollar.

AGREEMENT REACHED

Carranza to Permit Drilling Again.

Temporary Arrangement to Hold Until After the Elections There.

Forty-six Companies Ready to Operate Under New Carranza Rules.

That at least a temporary settlement of the oil situation in Mexico has been reached and that the likelihood of an oil shortage which might have been disastrous to this country's merchant marine has been removed for the next year is the information received here last night from New York by Dr. Norman Bridge and other prominent Los Angeles investors who have large oil holdings in the Tampico fields and elsewhere below the border.

Dr. Bridge is advised by the representatives of forty-six American oil companies doing business in Mexico that the old manifesto scheme which has seriously interfered with Mexican oil developments for at least two years has been set aside by an arrangement with President Carranza, and that the drilling of new wells and operating of wells already productive will be permitted until the Mexican Congress meets next fall and enacts a new law directly applicable to the interests of the companies in question.

TEMPORARY PERMITS.

The arrangement under which future activities will be conducted is explained as follows:

"The petroleum companies having manifested in an express manner that they are disposed to comply with all of the legal requirements, provided they do not imply the violation of their rights previously acquired; having manifested equally that they are disposed to accept provisional permits for drilling wells valid until the Congress of the Union issues the organic law of the Twenty-seventh Constitutional Article, providing that the acceptance of the use of said permit does not attack or prejudice the rights of the petroleum companies; having manifested equally that they will not claim from the fact of receiving said permits to acquire any new right, nor that the Mexican government by the issuing of said permits abandons any right or principle that it

LATEST NEWS.

Burglars Blast Safe

Five burglaries in different parts of the city were reported to the police early today, in which the burglars obtained over $1200 worth of loot. When T. L. Green of 7076 Franklin avenue returned from a three months' absence to his Hollywood home, he found that burglars had ransacked the place, had stolen more than $300 worth of clothes and had blown open his private safe, which, fortunately, happened to be empty at the time. The other burglaries were at the homes of J. Lewis, 6663 Selma avenue; A. J. Childs, 2024 Canyon drive, and Mrs. J. M. Metcalf and Mrs. W. B. Simons, 135 North Commonwealth avenue.

Japs Spreading Out

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) Jan. 21.—Several carloads of tractors and farming materials arrived here today for use on a portion of the 10,000-acre tract of land southwest of here, recently sold to wealthy Japanese and Chinese residents of California. "The California Vegetable Growers' Association" is the name of the incorporated concern which will farm most of the land, according to announcement. The local agent of those figuring in the deal said today E. T. Arima, a prominent Japanese of California, had recently been here looking over another large tract with a view to its purchase.

Injured in Fire

Rush Red Hearings

SEATTLE, Jan. 21. — Secret hearings began today before U. S. Immigration Commissioner H. M. White in the cases of thirty-five alleged radicals arrested by Federal authorities here in the last few days and held on deportation warrants. Commissioner White said the hearings probably would be completed within ten days. As hearings in each case are completed the records will be forwarded to Secretary of Labor Wilson at Washington, who will determine whether deportation shall be made, Mr. White said.

For Democratic Powwows

BUTTE (Mont.) Jan. 21.—While establishment of western headquarters for the national Democratic party rests with him, it probably will not be until after the convention in San Francisco, January 28, that the particular location will be selected, according to J. Bruce Kremer, vice-chairman of the national committee, who today returned to his home in Butte from Washington. The matter of establishing headquarters, said Mr. Kremer, will be left largely to the convention's Presidential nominee, although the fact that the convention is to be held in San Francisco will mean many meetings will be held in the West.

Kentucky Derby Money

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Jan. 21.—Matt J. Winn, vice-president and general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, announced here tonight that the Kentucky derby, one of the leading American races, this year will carry $30,000 in added money. Heretofore it had an added-money value of $20,000. This would indicate that the derby displaces the Preakness handicap, which carried $25,000 in added money, as America's leading fixture.

REPUBLICANS IN STERN ECONOMY

House will not Put Public Building Bill Up.

Diplomatic and Consular Service Bills Slashed.

General Economy Drive Marks the Day in Congress.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Congress held its "thrift week" celebration today, a wave of economy sweeping both Senate and House. The result was:

Decision by the House Public Buildings Committee not to recommend passage at this session of a public buildings bill.

Reduction by the House Foreign Affairs Committee of the annual diplomatic and consular service appropriation bill to $8,848,038, which is $3,085,125 less than the State Department's request and $1,023,074 less than the present fiscal year.

Elimination, by the Senate of an appropriation of $42,500,000 from the Americanization bill and substitution therefor of an appropriation of $6,500,000 restricted to use until the end of the 1921 fiscal year instead of an expenditure over four years as the larger appropriation contemplated.

NEED FOR ECONOMY.

Senator McCumber said that according to careful estimates the government would start the fiscal year beginning July 1 with a deficit of $2,000,000,000. Should expenditures for 1921 be kept within the conservative estimate of $6,000,000, the Senator thought they might be provided for but there would be nothing left to take care of the left-over deficit.

"We have gone mad on the question of conceiving new questions that will reach into the Federal treasury," said Senator McCumber, referring to the Americanization bill which is designed to educate illiterates and Americanize foreign-born citizens. "The only thing that will stop it will be when we get to the end of the rope and have to bond the country to meet expenses."

LANSING BILLS CUT.

In cutting down appropriations in the diplomatic and consular service bill the House committee denied Secretary Lansing's request for increases in the salaries of ambassadors and ministers. The only increases granted over present expenditures were a flat $1000 advance in salaries to secretaries of embassies and legations and an additional item of $250,000 for passport control, bringing the total for that purpose up to $440,421.

The sweeping cut in appropriations for rivers and harbors improvements, ordered by the House Rivers and Harbors Committee in paring down the annual appropriation bill for that purpose from $45,000,000 to $12,400,000, continued to arouse members of the House and minority committee today who began the drafting of a substitute bill which would appropriate $25,000,000.

the past six months, have lost morale. The Bolsheviki also have an additional reserve force of 250,000 men at this time. Semenoff, who dominates the narrow pass between Mongolia and Lake Baikal, has made himself dictator at Chita. He has been standing at this pass between the advancing Bolsheviki and Eastern Siberia.

MONGOLIAN PLAN.

To prevent his left flank being turned from the west through Mongolia he has undertaken the domination of Mongolia. Going down into Mongolia he had himself made a "grand duke," probably with the aid of certain Japanese influences in which the Anfu Club in Peking has figured. All information received here goes to show that Semenoff is now under the domination of Japanese militarists, and it is fully realized that with control of Mongolia, Japan would be in a position to dominate the pagan world from China to India. This is not as far-fetched as it may sound, according to statements made in a high quarter today, where it was pointed out that Semenoff recently sent a message to the Dalai Lama of Thibet, who sent back his approval of Semenoff's pretensions.

Semenoff has been seeking to place himself in a position where he may be able to deal with the leaders of the Pan-Turenian movement, who are now very active in trying to establish a corridor of control across Asia, from Turkey through Caucasia, Turkestan, inner and outer Mongolia to China, while Enver Bey has established himself at a base in Asia Minor, where he has been intriguing and planning to link up the Pan-Islamic movement with that of Pan-Turenians. Information has reached Washington that Enver Bey will probably play in with the Bolsheviks to the extent that he is given a free hand, and that they are likely to do so because he can help them in their diversion against India.

DENY DISCRIMINATION IN PRINT PAPER QUOTA.

CANADIAN ANSWER SAYS AMERICAN DAILIES ARE GETTING A SQUARE DEAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Jan. 21. — The contention of the State Department at Washington that the Canadian government ordered the Fort Frances Company, an American-controlled news-print concern in Ontario, to divert a large part of its product from American customers to Western Canada, was denied today by John M. Imrie, manager of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association.

Mr. Imrie said the company arbitrarily reduced its shipments to Canadian customers from their requirements of fifty tons a day to fourteen tons, which it had fixed as its proportion of Canadian requirements, and proposed to increase its shipments to the United States by the difference between these figures. The Canadian paper controller insisted, he said, that the company continue to supply Canadian customers, and the company agreed to do so on condition that a mill in Eastern Canada ship to the United States an amount of paper equal to the difference between the company's quota for domestic use and the requirements of its Canadian customers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—As a retaliatory act against Canada for enforcing an embargo on print paper, Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, today introduced a bill prohibiting the export of coal, culm, slack, shale or coke for five years. He said Canada receives about 12,000,000 tons of coal annually from the United States.

NATION FACING CAR SHORTAGE.

Expert Says Three Years will be Used in Building.

Scarcity of Materials and High Labor Cost Factors.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEMPHIS, Jan. 20.—An acute car shortage for at least three years yesterday was predicted by C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, in an address before 230 hardwood lumber manufacturers and shippers attending the annual meeting of the Southern Hardwood Traffic Association in this city.

Mr. Markham asserted that 700,000 additional freight cars will be required by American railroads during the next five years to meet the traffic needs of the nation.

With both material and labor scarce, he said, the task of providing this enormous amount of equipment is almost an impossible one.

More cars, more motive power, more tracks, more shops and more machinery are urgently needed by the railroads to put them upon a basis to handle maximum traffic, Mr. Markham said.

He intimated that shippers must be ready to pay increased rates to provide the revenue needed to put the carriers on an efficient operating basis.

M. Nicker of Memphis was elected president of the association and J. H. Townsend was reappointed secretary-manager. Fred W. Mowbray, of Cincinnati, was elected vice-president in charge of the Cincinnati office and George W. Hand, of Cincinnati, was elected a director. W. H. Lockwood was reappointed district manager in charge of the Cincinnati office.

DEPEND EXPORT RATES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Commercial interests of the Middle West and the South have joined forces in a fight in defense of export freight rates recently announced by the Railroad Administration to stimulate shipments through gulf and south Atlantic ports.

A meeting of delegates from twenty-two States involved has been called for January 27, to prepare to defend the rates which are being attacked by the eastern railroads. On the same date the delegation will appear before the Senate Commerce Committee to urge the continued operation of government ships on trade routes leading from southern ports.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, has announced the intention of the eastern railroads to seek the abolition of the export rates to southern ports as soon as the roads are returned to their owners, March 1.

Walker D. Hines, director-general of railroads, in a letter to Mr. Willard, defends the rates and says that the cheaper handling of freight at southern ports offset the additional distance. He points out that difficulties in handling export freight through eastern ports have constantly increased.

DEATH CLAIMS WELL-KNOWN POLITICIAN.

FORMER POSTMASTER OF SAN BERNARDINO VICTIM OF ASTHMA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 21.—Stephen F. Kelley, aged 61, for the past thirty years a force in Republican politics in San Bernardino, and postmaster here from 1898 to 1914, died suddenly today of asthma, which affected his heart.

His early career was identified with the railroads in the Southwest, and later he was customs inspector at Wrangell, Alaska. In 1898 he was appointed postmaster at San Bernardino by President McKinley, and reappointed twice, by President Roosevelt and President Taft.

He was prominent in the management of the U. S. Grant, Jr., Senatorial campaign in 1899. Following his retirement as postmaster here he was named county sealer of weights and measures, and served until about two months ago, when he resigned because of ill health.

Kelley was a native of San Francisco, and is survived by the widow and three children, Mrs. James A. Guthrie of San Bernardino, Mrs. John M. Guest of Los Angeles and James Kelley, a high school student. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. He was downtown today and was feeling no worse than usual just prior to the fatal stroke this afternoon.

DENY JEANNE DE KAY IS ATLANTA AVIATRIX.

CHICAGO FRIENDS OF MISSING GIRL SAY DESCRIPTIONS FAIL TO TALLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 21.—Dressed in the masculine uniform of an aviator, a young woman was held tonight by the police, who were frankly puzzled as to whether she is Jeanne Anna de Kay, missing protege of Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago.

The girl in appearance corresponds to press descriptions of Miss De Kay, except that her hair is bobbed and the word "Helen" is tattooed on her arm. Under questioning today, police said she first declared she "knew" Miss De Kay, and then said she was Miss De Kay, but tonight denied it. Newspaper men who talked with her told the same story. She first gave her name as Jeanne de Longe, Belgian widow of a French soldier.

The young woman was arrested Monday because she was wearing men's clothing on the streets, but she asserted she was an aviatrix, and that she merely happened to appear in her uniform. She showed such a knowledge of airplanes that Chief of Police Beavers freed her. Yesterday she was arrested again, and will be held pending definite identification.

REACH MEXICAN OIL AGREEMENT.

might wish to defend, the President of the republic has seen fit to decide that the provisional permits shall be conceded to the oil companies that may petition for the drilling of wells upon the following basis:

"The permits will be valid only until the Congress of the Union issues the organic law of the Constitutional Article Twenty-seven. The permits that may be granted in the premises may cover all the wells that have been commenced or drilled since the first of May, 1917. Also all the wells that may have been finished as well as those that now may be in the process of drilling.

"The respective petitions for permits to drill which each of the petroleum companies may present must contain the statement that the permits will not mean the acquisition of any new right, nor the claim that the Mexican government by the fact of issuing said permits abandons any right or legal principle which it may desire to sustain. The petitions will also contain an agreement that the permits requested will be valid only until the Congress of the Union enacts the organic law of the Constitutional Article Twenty-seven, relating to petroleum, when the interested parties must comply with the provisions of said law or in the contrary case the provisional permits will lapse.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

"It is understood not to have prejudiced in any manner or in any sense the different questions that are now being discussed before the judicial power of the federation in the Amparo suits nor the discussion before the Federal tribunals of general jurisdiction relating to the application of Article XXVII and of the different legal decrees on the subject of petroleum issued by the executive power, nor with the discussion of the petroleum law now pending before the Congress be prejudiced in any way."

Dr. Bridge assumes that the Mexican Congress, which meets in the early fall, will probably not enact a petroleum law and put it into full force before the end of another twelve months. He sees in the present arrangement only temporary relief from a decidedly unsatisfactory state of affairs, but nevertheless a situation which will afford this country great relief so far as oil supply is concerned.

He states that about two years ago when the Mexican government decided to require the filing of manifestations by all American oil companies operating below the border the companies all refused to comply with the demand, because they considered that to do so would be to surrender their properties for virtual confiscation by the Carranza government.

SOLDIERS INTERFERE.

Oil operations were seriously interfered with and finally the Mexican army stepped in and prevented the companies from drilling more wells. Operations have been almost at a standstill for several months, and Dr. Bridge says it has looked at times as though the country might face a serious oil shortage and that the merchant marine of this country might not be able to secure enough fuel oil to operate its big fleet of freighters. However, local oil operators regard the present arrangement as being satisfactory as a temporary measure, and they hope for better results after the next Presidential election in Mexico, which occurs during the summer.

URGES MAILED FIST BE USED IN MEXICO.

INTERNATIONAL LAW EXPERT PRAISES DIAZ'S POLICY, CRITICISES WILSON.

Criticising President Wilson for his policies and attitude in regard to Mexico and declaring that the United States would be within its moral and international rights in enforcing the protection of law-abiding Americans in Mexico, Dr. Warren E. Lloyd, who owns land in the southern republic and who is an authority on international law, spoke yesterday to 200 members of the City Club, at a noon luncheon.

Dr. Lloyd declared that he differed from President Wilson in the latter's statement that Mexican institutions have been corrupted through foreign exploitation.

"I don't believe American capital has exploited Mexico any more than British capital exploited our own republic in her young days, nor any more than New York capital exploited Western America in her infancy," said the speaker.

"Diaz did not sell out his country. He invited capital there and protected it. What Mexico needs most today is an interchange of material commodities and ideas with other nations. Nothing can accomplish that result but capital, and where should that capital logically come from today if not America? One of the main troubles lies in the fact that the native land owners in Mexico do not want the Americans to come in and raise the wages of the peons."

Dr. Lloyd concluded by pointing to the fact that all the American money so far invested in Mexico has been expended to the mutual benefit of the citizens of both Mexico and America.

STATE RAINFALL IS ONLY A TRACE

Forecaster Says No Hope this Time for Wetting.

Area of High Pressure in Sierras Moving East.

Small Amount of Snowfall Effects Power Problem.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—The light rain which fell today is the result of an unsettled weather condition that does not promise immediate heavy rains, G. H. Willson, forecaster of the U. S. Weather Bureau, said today. The rain was not general throughout the State.

The forecaster said that there was no immediate hope that the long drought was to be broken by a good wetting, which would to any extent bring the seasonal rainfall up toward normal. At present (in the north) the rainfall has been 4.36, as against a normal precipitation of 10.87 at this time.

Willson said that, while there was no hope that the present weather would bring general relief, indications are favorable for a larger storm. The high-pressure area that has been stationary over the Sierras for more than a month has finally moved eastward. This area forced storms which appeared in the Pacific to pass north of California, Willson said. If a storm appears off the coast now, California will get a good drenching, in his opinion.

DROUTH IS SERIOUS.

The water situation in the State is serious, Willson said. He stated that there has been no surplus of water for three years, and that the underground water level throughout the State has receded many feet. Rainfall and snowfall in the other Pacific Coast States are also far below normal, the forecaster said. He attributes this to the fact that storms have been passing to the north for several years.

Today's report showed only thirty-five inches of snow at the summit of the Sierras. The normal snowfall for this period of the year ranges from eighty-four to 120 inches. There is no snow on the ground below the 5000-foot level, where snows usually occur. This condition is said to cause the power companies to generate nearly 50 per cent. of their electricity by steam. This is always done during the summer and autumn months, but the light rainfall has kept the steam plants in operation.

Willson said that conditions might be righted if heavy rains occur for the next three months, and that in other years heavy rains have followed a dry spell as severe as that of the present year.

FIFTY PER CENT. NORMAL.

The rainfall in Northern California is less than half of normal today. The rain which fell today added less than .25 of an inch to the total precipitation.

The forecaster says unsettled weather probably will continue.

REAL ESTATE LICENSE ACT EFFECTIVE FEB. 1.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—R. L. Riley, State Real Estate Commissioner, has sent letters to all District Attorneys in California notifying them to enforce the Real Estate License Act, beginning February 1.

Under the new law, all realty brokers and salesmen must obtain a license yearly. All those who have not complied with the law by February 1 will be prosecuted, said Riley.

Oriental children far outnumber the negroes in California, judging from reports of the school census now being received by Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction. In Alameda county, the enumerators report 1830 children of the yellow race, as against 1148 blacks. In Kern county a similar condition prevails. There the census takers found 412 orientals and only 131 negroes. Minors only, boys under 21 and girls under 18, are counted in the school census. Wood does not expect complete returns until March.

DEMOCRATS SEEK NO TWENTY-MILLION FUND.

CUMMINGS DENIES CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTION STORY OF NEW YORK "TRIBUNE."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Chairman Cummings of the Democratic National Committee today made public a letter to the editor of the New York Tribune, denying statements in that newspaper that the committee planned "to raise a fund of $20,000,000 for this year's Presidential campaign."

"At no time and under no circumstances," said Mr. Cummings, "has the chairman of the Democratic National Committee or anyone else authorized to speak for the financial department of the committee made any statement indicating that it was the purpose of the Democratic National Committee to raise a fund of $20,000,000 for this year's Presidential campaign.

"Such a fund could not be raised and could not be properly used if raised. Our purposes have been plain and unmistakable. We seek only enough campaign contributions to enable us to conduct a legitimate campaign and to present our cause adequately to the people."

MONDELL KILLS KAHN ARMY BILL

Universal Military Training Gets Body Blow.

Harreld, a Pacifist, Goes to House Committee.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Republican leaders of the House delivered today what may prove to be a body blow for the movement for the establishment of universal military training by taking steps to pack the Committee on Military Affairs against the proposition.

With the twenty present members of the Military Affairs Committee evenly divided on the question about to be decided the Republican Committee on Committees selected for a vacancy, a Republican who is a pacifist and opponent of universal military training. If the House approves the selection and Chairman Kahn is unable to convert any of the opponents the committee will be divided ten for and eleven against universal training.

Representative Harreld of Oklahoma, who was elected to the House for the first time in November to fill a vacancy, was the selection. He was chosen by the Committee on Committees, composed of a Republican from each State, with the vote computed on the basis of the whole Republican membership, standing: Harreld, 130; Crowther, New York, 73; Newton, Missouri, 9.

NEW YORKERS PEEVED.

Representative Crowther was committed to universal military training. Because of the fact that the vacancy was caused by the resignation of a New York member, former Representative La Guardia, the New Yorkers were insistent that their State was entitled to the appointment and are threatening to join with military training supporters from other States in a fight to overturn the committee selection on the floor of the House.

The fact that Representative Harreld was one of the half dozen members who voted against the exclusion of Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, has aggravated the situation.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican floor leader and chairman of the Committee on Committees, is accused of responsibility for the selection. Mr. Mondell tonight expressed his opposition to any consideration of universal military training at this session.

"With a deficit of $3,000,000,000, I think that it would be absolutely silly to think of appropriating $500,000,000 a year for universal military training," said Mr. Mondell. "It is especially ridiculous when it is not proposed to put it into effect for a year or more."

MONDELL'S VIEWS.

"The Republican Steering Committee has taken no action on the subject and I am only expressing my personal views. I do not know that I would oppose some compromise form of military training some other year."

Representative Kahn of California, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs and a member of the Committee on Committees, cast his ballot for Representative Crowther.

While Mr. Kahn made no comments on the situation, it is known that he has no intention of dropping his fight for universal military training and will force action in the military committee within the next few days and then carry it to the floor, regardless of the decision in committee. The bill pending in the Senate includes a universal military training provision.

PEST THREATENS PASADENA OAKS.

EXPERT TELLS HOW TO SAVE TREES NOW IN DANGER OF DISTRUCTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Jan. 21. — Beautiful oaks of Pasadena and vicinity are now threatened with destruction. A pest which has been working among the oaks of Santa Barbara and Montecito has made its advent in Pasadena and has attacked the beautiful trees in several sections of the city, according to Bert Montgomery, a specialist in the care of trees. According to Mr. Montgomery the insect is about the size of a flea and burrows into the heart of the tree, taking its life. One tree on a local estate was killed in ten days.

Dr. George A. Coleman of the department of entomology, University of California, has prepared a report on the threatened destruction of the Santa Barbara oaks. Concerning the pests and their work of destruction, Dr. Coleman writes, in part, as follows:

"The fact that the entrance holes made by the beetles in the bark are so small and are immediately closed, make it impossible to reach them by means of a spray or fumigation after they are in the tree, the only possible chance of reaching them by these means being to catch the adult before they have entered the bark, or by treating the trees after they are dead and still contain the larvae and the adults.

"The most effective treatment to be followed at present, is a campaign of cleaning up and burning all the dead branches, and dead trees which are past recovery. If a very valuable tree is found to be affected, but is still alive, and it is desirable to save the tree, it should be well cut back, all the dead and dying limbs removed and the trees stimulated by giving it plenty of water and even some fertilizer and cultivation. This campaign of trimming and burning should start at once and be continued until thoroughly completed, as right now seems to be a very active time for the beetles in the trunk and the limbs and the larvae of the twig girders are still mostly in the twigs while later they will have developed into the adult beetles and these will have gone to fresh twigs."

NO EPIDEMIC OF FLU IS FEARED.

Washington Says State Authorities are Vigilant.

California Summary is not Considered Alarming.

Harrison Says Situation in State not Menacing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—State medical authorities have the influenza situation so well in hand that no epidemic of the malady is expected, the public health service announced today.

California reported 264 cases last week, as compared with twenty-four cases the week before, but officials pointed out that at this time of the year there is a greater prevalency of colds and grip than at any other time.

DECREASE IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Although the number of new influenza cases reported today decreased as compared to yesterday's figures, the heaviest death toll for twenty-four hours since the epidemic of 1918 was indicated. The pneumonia situation was reported to be similar. The health department announced that thirty-five deaths from influenza and forty-seven from pneumonia occurred. New influenza cases totaled 1135, against 1235 yesterday, with new pneumonia cases numbering 191. Yesterday's figures were 297.

Four more cinema theaters have been closed, the health department announced, and warnings have been sent to other playhouses to observe strictly the department's regulations as to ventilation and sanitary conditions.

More than 4000 persons in Chicago today are ill from influenza and reports were that the disease had appeared in cities and towns throughout the Middle West. Three hundred additional nurses are urgently needed at once, the Red Cross Commissioner announced.

GREAT LAKES (Ill.) Jan. 21. Sixty additional cases of influenza were reported at the Naval Training Station at noon today, making 118 for the previous day. The total for the twenty-four hours numbered four.

HARRISON OPTIMISTIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Announcement that the influenza epidemic in mild form had become widespread in certain portions of California, but that there was no indication that it would spread to any extent or become more virulent, was made today by Dr. W. F. Harrison, surgeon in charge of the United States public health service in California and Nevada.

"There is not the slightest reason to believe that the epidemic will be anywhere near as severe as was last winter."

STION WOOD S TO TOWNLEY.

...n Fears General in ...partisan Trade.

...North Dakota Governor ...a Deal for Senate.

...may Swing Delegates to Gov. Lowden.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

...APOLIS, Jan. 21.—Minne- ...ally direct answers to two di- ...ions: ...Wood, either directly or ...h his political managers— ...John T. King, late director of ...ood campaign, or Col. W. C. ...ow in charge at the Chi- ...Wood headquarters—a party ...lled deal in North Dakota ...the Wood leaders and ...e Nonpartisan League?

...e, does the alleged arrange- ...ment to Minnesota, where ...nonpartisan League is a criti- ...ctor in State affairs and State ...ed, and if not, will Gen. Wood disavow whatever dickers may have been made in his name?

Upon Gen. Wood's disclaimer concerning North Dakota depends largely whether he gets the Minnesota delegation to the Republican national convention.

This was the entirely unexpected situation that was found by Gov. Lowden when he arrived in Minneapolis this morning, for his first stop on a trip through the trans-Mississippi country. He had no sooner reached his headquarters here than he was made aware of the overnight flip-flop in Minnesota conditions, caused by full publication of the alleged trade in North Dakota that seems to savor of Republican cohabitation with the Townley league.

MAY LOSE DELEGATES.

Notwithstanding statements issued by Gov. Burnquist and Republican State Chairman Lindquist that Minnesota is safely for Gen. Wood, active Republicans in Minneapolis, evidently deeply stirred by the North Dakota mess, averred that the Wood movement is dead in Minnesota unless the general can get entirely from under the understanding that now prevails politically.

Gov. Lowden, therefore, reached Minnesota at a moment for himself psychologically correct, and he and his managers made all the hay that was possible. The Illinois executive addressed the Lincoln Club—the Republican organization—where he registered a distinct hit, and later spoke before 2000 members of the organized lumbermen from all over the Northwestern States. Tonight he left for Omaha, where he is to have important conferences tomorrow, and Thursday he will be in Denver.

The North Dakota affair that has precipitated the ruction, briefly is this:

J. F. Shea of Wahpeton, went to Washington in December to the Republican National Committee session as proxy for National Committeeman Gunder Olson. Shea gave out an interview there for Wood, and has been considered the Wood manager in the State.

OLSON ISSUES CALL.

Last week, over the signature of Olson, a call was issued for a Republican State convention to be held January 28 in Bismarck, at which a national committeeman and ten delegates and alternates to the national convention were to be slated in advance of the direct primaries of March 16.

The published allegation is that the arrangement between Olson, Shea, U. S. Senator McCumber and others, connects up with Townley and the Nonpartisan League, the idea being that the national convention delegation is to be handled by Shea, presumably for Gen. Wood; that Gov. Frazier, the Nonpartisan League governor, is to be unopposed by the parties to the arrangement for renomination in June; that Senator McCumber is to have a free field, so far as the league is concerned, in 1922, and that some other than Senator Gronna is to be slated for Senator in 1920, possibly leaving an opening for a Nonpartisan League Senator in Gronna's place.

REPUBLICANS ALL AGOG.

To say that this report has stirred up Republicans in Minneapolis is a mild statement. That it may have developments of the most far-reaching political significance is held to be distinctly probable. This came atop of a decided unrest among the recognized Republican leaders, caused by the announcement from Chicago headquarters that Gov. Burnquist had accepted a place on the Wood campaign committee, and that State Chairman Lindquist, who is Gov. Burnquist's secretary, had broken over the lines of neutrality as State chairman and declared for Wood. Apparently, such action had been taken without consultation with influential Republicans.

"Before this morning it would have been a fair guess that Wood could have had six or seven of the ten districts, and the delegates-at-large, without serious trouble," was the statement of one of the best-posted political men in Minneapolis. Somebody has slipped somewhere, and if Gen. Wood cannot completely alibi himself with respect to North Dakota and the Nonpartisan League he is gone in Minnesota.

In view of the new developments, it begins to appear that United States Senator Kellogg may get instructions, and the delegates from most, if not all, of the State.

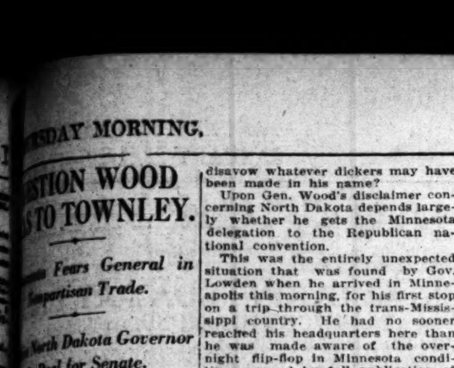
Last December, it is understood, Senator Kellogg determined to stay out. Within the week he has determined to get in, and it is certain that the effort is to be made to elect twenty-six Kellogg delegates from the State.

GERMANS FOR JOHNSON.

Senator Hiram Johnson is strong in two or three Congressional districts. One of these is largely German-American in its make-up, and another is full of Irish voters. Nothing has been done in the State for Senator Harding or for any other candidate.

Gov. Lowden was born in Minnesota. His managers here advised him that his chances for securing the support of the State when he will need that support have brightened materially.

Simply Worn Out



How Many Women Are Like This?

Is anything be more wearing for women than the ceaseless round of household duties? Oh! the monotony of it all—dust and drudge; no time to be sick; tired, ailing, yet can- not stop. There comes a time when something "snaps" and they find themselves "simply worn out," and to make matters worse, have contracted serious feminine disorder which almost always follows the constant overtaxing of a woman's strength.

Every woman should remember that there is no remedy like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the experience of these two women establishes that fact:

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my mother came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. PAUL PAYNE-PURSE, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

Ida, Iowa.—"After the birth of my last child I had such pains that I would walk me to my bedroom. I suffered from other female ailments and was so nervous at times I felt like I would have to have an operation. I was an awful thing to have my mother and four other women come to see me and tell me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me how it had helped them and I decided to try it. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound, Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier and now I do all of the housework and sewing for my family and also do a day's washing and ironing for others. I am forty-three years old and have not had a day's sickness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. E. ROGERS, 617 Ellis Blvd, Des Moines, Iowa.

WRITES OF "SHAGGY" BRAIN, BROKEN HEART.

TRUANT FATHER HINTS SUICIDE AT LONG BEACH IN LETTER TO WIFE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Jan. 21.—Daniel Webster Ray, 53, father of six children and missing since January 11, has sent his wife an unsigned letter asserting that he was at Long Beach, Cal., with a "broken heart and shaggy brain." He wrote that he was "able to drop out any minute," which is taken by the police to mean that he plans suicide.

Ray is an operator for the Menget Box Company. On January 11 he left home seemingly in the best of spirits and said that he was going to church. Nothing was heard of him until the letter came to his wife, who was not able to account for his disappearance. She at once turned the letter over to the police, who probably will wire the police of Long Beach to look for Ray. When she asked a few days ago that a search be made she said that he had a crooked finger due to a fracture.

The letter follows:

"Dear Sweet Good Wife: It is with a broken heart and shaggy brain that I sit on this pier one mile out in the mighty ocean to drop a line to you to let you know I am still alive, but able to drop out any minute. There is no one that can arrive at all conditions of my mind. I have been trying to keep the trouble off today by watching the ships go through the mighty waves, but, dear wife, the job is only temporary. I can't watch them tonight.

"Well, Aggie, I can't write more this time. If I leave today I will write again. Long Beach is thirty-five miles west of Los Angeles. Well, dear, if you have anything to say, say it now or I will not get it. My present address is 83½ East First street, Los Angeles. Only for a short time, so good-by; God bless you and the children."

SEAMEN'S UNION ASKS NEW TRIAL FOR MOONEY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Resolutions demanding a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings were adopted at the annual convention here today of the International Seamen's Union, said to represent 75,000 seafaring residents of the United States. The resolutions mentioned that the American Federation of Labor favored a rehearing of the cases.

Resolutions advocating the principle of the eight-hour day for sailors, were adopted also.

President's Wife to Aid Churches.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Robert Lansing and Mrs. Josephus Daniels have accepted places on a committee of 250 women who will have charge of arrangements for an interchurch world movement conference to be held in Washington, February 7, 8, and 9, it was announced tonight.

PAN-AMERICANS DISCUSS FINANCE

Ecuador to Refund Internal and External Debts.

Brazil Advocates International Aviation Field.

Chile Would Establish Branch Banks Over Here.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Delegates to the Pan-American Financial Congress completed today their intensive study of particular national problems as carried on in group sessions, with American business men acting as advisers, and tonight they were the guests of Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing at an official reception.

The national group conferences, in a number of cases, adopted resolutions directly or indirectly recommending to American bankers the granting of loans to South American republics. Dr. Luis Borja, Financial Minister of Ecuador, reported to and obtained adoption by his national group of a plan for the refunding of the entire internal and external debt of the country, involving $50,000,000, and for the supplying of a surplus to be used in railroad construction.

Nicaraguan delegates asked for a loan of $5,000,000 to complete railroad lines now under construction, and the Bolivian representatives, in addition to a loan asked yesterday for railroads, suggested that further financing be attempted by United States bankers.

CUBA PROSPEROUS.

The Cuban delegation reported unparalleled prosperity within the island, a favorable trade balance of $200,000,000 in 1919, and a national budget of expenses less than the total raised by taxation. The only fear expressed by the Cubans was the possibility of a fall in the present prices of sugar, and to avert that the general congress will be asked to oppose any special granting of sugar bounties in Pan-American countries.

A number of commercial recommendations were decided upon by the Brazilian group, including the elimination of customs taxes on commercial travelers' samples, extension of parcel post and the establishment of improved communications by wireless and cable.

The Brazilians also suggested the establishment of an international training ground for the development of an aviation service between the Americas, especially utilized for parcel-post purposes. The delegates voted to request the governments of the United States and Brazil to appoint a joint commission to study communication possibilities.

More and larger ships were asked for by the Brasilians for the trade between the two continents.

Many of the other groups touched on the transportation situation.

In connection with the proposals for loans to the Latin-American republics, Richard S. Hawkes, president of the American Bankers' Association, and a delegate to the Pan-American conference, said today the present international aims of American financiers were closer and more productive of relations between the Americas and the extension to Europe of such properly-secured credits as would assist in developing foreign trade and in stabilizing world unrest.

TO COLONIZE BELGIANS.

Dr. Eusebio Ayala, Paraguayan Finance Minister, presented a report to the Paraguay group on requirements of that country for financial aid and transportation development; and announced that a definite plan to colonize 2000 Belgian families had been adopted.

The Peruvian group recommended that the whole traffic situation between Peru and the United States be submitted to a traffic expert, with instructions to report to both governments on plans for increasing facilities of ocean commerce between the countries.

A bill giving effect to the convention between the United States, Cuba and Central and South American republics for protection of trademarks was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

CHILE FOR BRANCH BANKS.

The taking of steps which would enable Latin-American banks to open branches in the United States was advocated by the Chilean group. Recommendation also was made that the dollar be made legal tender in Chile, and that dollar exchange be quoted on the exchanges at Santiago and Valparaiso.

It was agreed by the group that modification of Chilean laws to permit longer franchises to companies developing electric power and other investments requiring large outlay of capital was advisable to permit a life of eighty years before installations should revert to the government.

The recommendations of the Brazilian group regarding improved wireless and cable communication were that steps be taken to insure direct cable communication between the United States and Brazil and that government-controlled wireless stations be established in Brazil and this country.

WANT FLORAL PATENTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Patents for plants, providing government protection to introducers of new varieties of flora, were advocated today by delegates to the convention of the American Carnation Society. An effort will be made to secure enactment of a bill by Congress to place the discovery, introduction or invention of new varieties of flora on a plane with patentable commodities, that their inventors may be able to enjoy remuneration for their labors, according to Mrs. Ella Grant Wilson, of Cleveland, flower editor for a number of eastern magazines and newspapers.

OLIVE IMPORTERS' PROTEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Recent deaths in New York from bacillus botulinus poisoning caused by eating improperly-sterilized domestic ripe olives, has worked an injustice upon packers of Spanish green olives, according to Frank Gulden, president of an importing company.

"Experts familiar with food and its preservation will testify that Spanish green olives are wholesome and an absolutely safe relish," he said.

CLAIM MILLIONS LOST IN NAVAL CAMP SITE.

HAMPTON ROADS STATION BUILT ON GROUND NOT COVERED BY LEASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—At an informal inquiry into the Navy Department's expenditure of $7,000,000 for the development of East camp at Hampton Roads, Naval Training Station, Capt. William M. Crose, commandant at the station, told the House Naval Committee today that work on the camp continued after the signing of the armistice, although the Navy Department had no lease or agreement for purchase of the 500-acre site.

Capt. Crose declared he was "not sure" whether the government would even have the right to salvage the 310 buildings erected at the camp and believed the land owners would claim damages for the government's work. The property was acquired in November, 1918, as "an urgent war measure," he said, and the buildings were completed with the intention of using the camp as a training station for crews of the merchant marine.

Chairman Butler declared he would not vote to spend "another dollar" at the camp and would request a thorough investigation.

A board of officers appointed to examine the accounts of Lieut. C. F. Bennet, naval disbursing officer in charge of accounts of officers on duty in Washington, today submitted a report showing an apparent deficit of about $75,000. Lieut. Bennet, it was announced, left on leave last December 22 and has not been heard from since.

INJECT STRIKE THREAT IN SOCIALISTS' TRIAL.

CLAIMS POSSIBILITY OF COUNTRY-WIDE WALKOUT IF ASSEMBLYMEN OUSTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY, Jan. 21.—"The question of whether a general strike will follow if the five Socialist Assemblymen are permanently ousted from the lower House "is a question which only the labor organizations of the country can decide," declared S. John Bloch, State chairman of the Socialist party.

Mr. Bloch made this statement when asked if a question put to a talesman today at the trial in New York of former Assemblyman Gitlow, charged with criminal anarchy, was to be taken as an intimation that a general strike was in prospect. The question was:

"If the representatives of the Socialist party or Communist party, elected being duly elected were thrown out of the State Assembly and such an act were followed by a general strike, would you consider the advocacy of such a strike an unlawful act."

Mr. Bloch, who is one of the counsel for the ousted Assemblymen, replied:

"The Socialist party is a political organization and does not concern itself with fomenting strikes, but I will not say that such action is unlikely if the workers decide representative government is a dead letter."

Mr. Schlesinger recently has been investigating conditions in Pacific Coast shipyards in connection with charges of fraud.

FOR SHIPPING POLICY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Consideration of legislation establishing a permanent national shipping policy was begun today, by the Senate Commerce Committee. Extensive hearing on the measure passed by the House and on suggestions from the shipping board and private inteest is planned.

Benjamin S. Grosscup, of Tacoma, Wash., urged private operation rather than extension of Federal operations, and the sale to private operators of the smaller vessels, at least of the Government Merchant Fleet. Such sales, he said, should be at a price which will enable the American flag to meet foreign competition. Federal aid to American shipbuilders also was urged.

A Federal corporation with power to issue $3,000,000,000 of five per cent. bonds to take over and operate the shipping board's fleet, pending sale of the ships to private American interests, was urged by A. F. Haines, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Steamship Company. Under the plan, the corporation would sell the ships to private interests on long-term credits while the shipping board would continue as a regulatory body with maritime functions similar to the Interstate Commerce Commission's authority over railroad affairs.

"It is impossible for Americans to operate the American boats under the American flag without some Federal aid," said Mr. Haines. "It is doubtful whether sufficient money is available for citizens to absorb the fleet, except upon long time easy payments."

WANT JOBS BACK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Shipyard strikers of the Bay District through the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council today, by mail, requestd the California Metal Trades Association for resumption of the official joint Conference Committee with a view of terminating the strike after five months' duration. This follows the granting of a temporary injunction by the United States District Court here Monday, restraining strikers from picketing one of the shipyards.

MISSISSIPPI DEFEATS SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JACKSON (Miss.) Jan. 21.—The Federal woman suffrage constitutional amendment was rejected today by the lower house of the Mississippi Legislature after ten minutes of debate. Cheers and laughter marked the announcement of the vote.

The vote was 106 to 25.

Those opposing ratification argued that the amendment would give negro women the right to vote and was an invasion of State's rights.

SENATE GETS IN MEDAL DISPUTE.

Bitter Debate and a Filibuster Add to Wrangle.

Hale's Plan to Get Counsel is Successfully Blocked.

Lodge Squelches Resolution Criticising Sims.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The naval decoration award controversy twice reached the Senate floor today, each time bringing forth bitter debate, while the investigating subcommittee continued its inquiry with Maj.-Gen. Barnett, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Rear-Admiral Grant, war-time commander of the first battleship force of the Atlantic Fleet, as witnesses. The controversy first reached the Senate when Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, introduced a resolution criticising Rear-Admiral Sims for his recent testimony before the investigating subcommittee, "in which instructions of the most confidential nature," the Senator said, "were laid before the world." After sharp debate, on objection of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, the resolution went over.

Later the dispute bobbed up when Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, aided by Senator Pittman of Nevada, conducted a successful filibuster against the resolution of Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the committee, to allow the committee to employ counsel. Chairman Hale interrupted the debate to say that as it was evident that a filibuster was in progress, he would withdraw his motion for immediate vote.

ADJOURN TO FRIDAY.

Pending further action by the Senate on his resolution Chairman Hale adjourned hearings of the subcommittee late in the day until Friday, when Rear-Admiral Knight, head of the board, which passed on the recommendations before their submission to Secretary Daniels, will be heard.

Gen Barnett, in his testimony, took issue with Admiral Sims, saying that there was no need for promulgation by Secretary Daniels of a definite policy on naval medal awards as Admiral Sims had contended. The act authorizing decorations, the Marine Corps commander held, was sufficiently explicit to guide commanding officers in selecting men to be rewarded.

Declaring that Thomas A. Edison, contrary to popular belief, "had little to do" with the perfection of submarine detecting devices during the war, Rear-Admiral Grant told the committee that two young officers on his staff, Commander C. H. Dowell and Lieutenant-Commander Miles Libbey, were largely responsible for the successful development of the apparatus. The admiral said that he recommended both officers for Navy Crosses but that they did not receive the awards.

WALSH RESOLUTION.

The Walsh resolution quoted from the letter read by Admiral Sims last Saturday before the Senate committee investigating naval decorations in which the admiral said that before he left the United States for Europe in March, 1917, he was told by a high naval official not to "let the British pull the wool over your eyes; it is none of our business pulling their chestnuts out of the fire; we would as soon fight the British as the Germans." Admiral Sims must have and did consider these instructions, if they ever were given, to be of the most highly confidential character, the resolution said, adding that his action in making them public deserved universal and unqualified disapproval.

"I cannot but believe that whether the above admonition was or was not given to Admiral Sims the disclosure under almost any circumstances must receive the disapproval of every American," said Senator Walsh.

Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, declared the resolution affected a matter that was to be later investigated by a subcommittee and Senator Lodge objected to consideration of the resolution on the ground that it contained grave charges against one of the most prominent officers in the American navy without giving him an opportunity to defend himself.

MARINES GOT THEIRS.

Every marine who served in the northern aerial bombing group who was recommended for a D.S.M. by him received the award, Gen. Barnett told the committee, while only two or three of the marines recommended for their service on this side were approved by the board and the Secretary.

"I made my recommendations so conservative that anyone who received one of the medals on my recommendation could feel he got something worth while," Gen. Barnett said.

"I do not feel that the Knight board should have consulted me before changing my recommendations."

Rear-Admiral Grant told of the fate of his medal recommendations, most of which, he said, were disapproved by Secertary Daniels.

Senator Phelan, Democrat, California, inquired whether the committee's investigation proposed to consider censure of Admiral Sims if he acted improperly, and Senator Hale replied that the whole field would be covered, including general investigation of the conduct of the war in connection with naval matters.

SOCIALISTS FOR RUSSIAN SOVIET.

counsel, declared that this investigation will not be a "tempest in a teapot," but that before it ends the question will be whether the Socialists can continue to "masquerade" as a political party.

He added that what the charges against the defendants meant was they were "for Trotsky and Lenine" to erect an autocracy, on the ruins of a republic "to whose constitution we all subscribe."

An outburst of applause occurred when Mr. Littleton denounced the attitude of the Socialists in opposing war and then said:

"Mr. Hillquit said yesterday that 'what may be treason today may be the law of the land tomorrow.' It will be the law tomorrow if you let traitors write the law."

Chairman Martin, who ruled yesterday that there should be no demonstration, restored quiet.

CHARGES TREASON.

Mr. Littleton predicted "not as a threat," that "before this investigation ends this country will understand that this so-called political party, masquerading as a political party, is agent and co-conspirator of an invisible empire whose object is the forcible overthrow of constitutional liberty in America."

Mr. Stedman, discussing America's entrance into the world war, declared every man had a right to oppose war before the United States entered.

"The Socialist party opposed it on humanitarian grounds," he said.

"He insisted the Socialist party had a right to its opinion why America entered the war.

Patriotism, he said, was a "much misunderstood term," and that he judged so "by the glorious methods used by the profiteers in wrapping themselves in the American flag."

He said the party believed "the underground" motive of war to be economic, and that President Wilson later had termed the war an economic one.

He added it was not an offense in or out of Congress, to oppose war, and "it was not an offense on the part of these men." He added also that the first American officer killed was a Socialist who did not believe in war.

URGED AGAINST WAR.

Mr. Stedman declared that the only charge against the suspended members he considered had any merit is that charging the Socialist party urged members not to engage in war or war work.

He declared the party will prove its innocence of the charge.

In answering Mr. Stedman, Mr. Littleton declared that the defendants were not charged with being "political philosophers," but with being "citizens not of the country which maintains them, but citizens of an invisible empire which projects itself as a revolutionary force into other countries and menaces their institutions."

Mr. Stedman, in reply to questions by committee counsel, if he admitted that the five Socialist members had given their resignation from office to a committee on election and if they were representatives of an "unseen empire," replied "no" to each inquiry, adding "and we are not charged with it."

LONE CANYON BANDIT.

Gunman Plys Successful Trade on Passing Autoists.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 21.—Daring in manner and action, the lone bandit that has held up several autoists on the coast road recently, is believed to be plying a profitable trade. Shortly after midnight this morning, he forced S. L. Smith of 312 South Hill street, Los Angeles, to get out of his machine and empty his pockets of $20 and his watch, at the point of a revolver.

It is thought that the man of last night is the same one who held up a party the night before, taking a valuable watch and $25.

TAKES PEN IN HAND.

Mayor will Sign Big Batch of Bonds; Also Acts on Hollywood Issue.

Mayor Snyder this morning will begin the signing of 700 bonds for the $700,000 bond issue authorized by Municipal Improvement District 11—the Westgate district—for the purpose of constructing a water system to be served by the Los Angeles aqueduct through water to be stored in Stone Canyon Reservoir, now under construction.

The Mayor also instructed Assistant City Attorney Jess Stephens to immediately prepare the required certificate showing that the Mayor, the City Clerk and the City Treasurer have destroyed the original issue of the Hollywood water bonds, in the sum of $1,020,000. As soon as this document is in readiness these three city officials will burn the bonds and then certify to their action. They are canceled because of a reissue with a different rate of interest.

BANDIT GETS BEATING.

Intended Victim Answers "Hands-up" Command with Hard Punch.

Detectives yesterday started a search for a youthful bandit with a bruised and swollen jaw. The bandit, according to the police report, encountered C. A. Hanson, of 146 West Twenty-eighth street, at West Washington and Budlong streets early yesterday morning and got the worst of a fistic encounter that took place just after he ordered his intended victim to throw up his hands.

Hanson, after knocking the bandit down by a straight left to the jaw ran for assistance. Returning with a police officer he discovered that the bandit had fled.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS
Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—[Advertisement.

UNCLE SAM ONLY WHISKY DEALER
Commissioner Roper Recommends Federal Monopoly.
Sixty-two Million Gallons are Now Held in Bond.
Medicinal Demand is Only Drain, and that Small.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Uncle Sam may take over all the whisky in the United States and conduct its dispensation for medicinal purposes as a monopoly.

In a letter to Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, Internal Commissioner Roper recommends a plan by which the government may take over the whisky in bonded warehouses, and issue treasury certificates to the owners.

This whisky, amounting to approximately 62,000,000 gallons, including 4,700,000 gallons of rum, gin and brandy, is now held in 178 government warehouses in the country, and it can be disposed of only for medicinal purposes and for use in the country.

In his letter Commissioner Roper says that the supply cannot be exhausted for many years to come, and great loss will follow unless the government establishes a monopoly on its distribution for medicinal purposes.

It is proposed to issue treasury certificates to make good the warehouse certificates and loans made by banks in whisky now in bond. These loans, it is estimated, reach $20,000,000.

Many banks face losses unless the government finds a way out. These certificates will be redeemable from time to time as the government receives payment from the sale of whisky for medicinal purposes.

However, they will have the same negotiable value as other government obligations, and thereby will relieve the banks from carrying warehouse certificates, which in many cases are of no immediate value.

COMMITTEE IS FAVORABLE.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee, including those favorable to prohibition, are inclined to support a bill along the lines suggested by Commissioner Roper.

Unless the government takes over this liquor and concentrates it in a number of large warehouses, an army of 5000 or more men will be necessary to guard the 173 government warehouses and the 200 and more private warehouses in which it is now stored. Mr. Roper estimates that this army will cost the government at least $5,000,000 a year to guard a supply which may not net to the government more than $200,000 or $300,000, the income depending entirely upon the amount of whisky taken from storage for medicinal purposes.

Kentucky heads the States with the amount of whisky held in bond, with 38,134,858 gallons. Pennsylvania is second with 12,297,075 gallons while Maryland is third with 6,001,726 gallons. Ohio has 2,162,922 gallons and West Virginia has 224,738 gallons. California holds 1,502,000 gallons.

"With a majority of the medical profession opposed to the prescription of whisky for the relief of bodily ills it will take the country a generation or more to consume the millions of gallons of spirits now stored in bonded warehouses, says Commissioner Roper.

MEDICAL DEMAND SMALL.

"While some physicians," said Mr. Roper, "take the position that whisky is a valuable stimulant and tonic in certain cases of illness or debility, the majority opinion of the medical profession seems to be that it may be entirely dispensed with as a remedy.

"As it appears that these spirits can be withdrawn only for medicinal purposes, it would seem that the withdrawals in each year can be only in negligible quantities. Since the demand for medicinal and scientific purposes will be very small and the amount remaining in the warehouses is so large it is improbable that the total amount could be distributed before a large quantity had been lost through natural causes."

Another method advanced by Roper was that the Treasury Department might be granted additional appropriations for safeguarding liquors in the present warehouses and if desired, to relieve the holders from carrying charges.

The commissioner's suggestions were in answer to a series of questions from the committee dealing with conditions arising from constitutional prohibition.

Approximately $20,000,000 is tied up in bank loans on the liquor stocks remaining in warehouses, he stated.

SPANISH EMBASSY ACTS IN CALEXICO KILLING.
ASKS GOV. STEPHENS FOR FACTS IN SPANIARD'S DEATH SUNDAY NIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CALEXICO, Jan. 21.—The Spanish Embassy at Washington has requested Gov. Stephens to demand an investigation of the shooting and killing of Manuel Lopez Burgo, a Spaniard, here Sunday night, according to advices received today by members of the Spanish colony here and in Mexicali. The District Attorney on his own initiative today started an inquiry.

A plea to the embassy that an inquiry be asked, was sent yesterday by local Spaniards, after a coroner's jury had returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, freeing W. A. Jackson, a lodging-house proprietor, held in connection with the affair. Jackson admitted the shooting, but claimed self-defense, saying Burgo had attacked him first with a club following a dispute.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—A message from Calexico, signed "Spanish Colony," was received at the office of Gov. Stephens late today, saying an appeal had been made to the Spanish Embassy at Washington, asking an investigation of circumstances surrounding the death of Manuel Burgo, a Spaniard, shot and killed there Sunday night.

No word from the Spanish Embassy had been received, and pending receipt of any communication from this source, Gov. Stephens has withheld action, it was said.

THIRTY-FIVE HEROES GET CARNEGIE MEDALS.
LARGE SUMS IN PENSIONS ARE GIVEN TO KINSMEN OF THOSE WHO LOST LIVES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—Thirty-five acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie hero fund commission at its sixteenth annual meeting here today. Two silver medals and thirty-three bronze medals were awarded. Thirteen persons lost their lives while trying to save others and pensions aggregating $5520 a year were granted to the dependents of seven of them, while to the dependents of three others $4100 pensions were awarded, to be spent as the commission may sanction. In seven cases, $11,200 was given for educational purposes, and in thirteen cases $9500 was awarded for other worthy causes.

LITTLE GIRLS LOST.

Two of those who lost their lives were little girls, Lottie C. Steen, who was killed while trying to drag a 9-year-old boy from a railroad track in front of an approaching train at Dale, Minn., and Marjorie A. Brown, 14, who was drowned while trying to save a girl companion in the Goose River, at Belfast Me.

Owen Carter of Denver, a moving-picture camera operator, was drowned at Canyon City, Colo., July 1, 1914. Mrs. Grace E. Forman, acting in a cinema play, had ridden a horse into the Arkansas River, where the current was swift. The horse fell and threw Mrs. Forman into the water. Carter was drowned while trying to save her.

Lloyd A. Osborne, Sioux City, Iowa, lost his life at Fremont, Iowa, while attempting to save another man, and the Rev. E. W. Bruner of Ekron, Ky., was drowned while trying to save Osborne.

Others who lost their lives while helping their fellows include the following:

Edward J. Butler, Fredonia, N. Y.; Edward E. Murray, Baltimore; Albert A. Slaline, Cincinnati; Oscar A. Deming, Stuart, Neb.; William H. T. Zoamon, Picher, Okla.; George F. Batteiger, Porter, Ind.; A. G. Peterson, Dutton, Mont.; Milton Garter, New Haven, Ct.

In the list of those who risked their lives in an attempt to save human life were no less than eight children, 16 years of age or under.

The complete list follows: Louise B. Smiley, Franklin, Pa.; Clarence J. Richards, St. Petersburg, Fla.; J. W. Mathewson, Marian Bridge, Cape Breton, N. S.; Michael Moran, Sydney, N. S.; Raymond G. Mathon, Lancaster, N. H.; Clarence A. Hitchborn, Fruita, Colo.; R. Austin McDonald, Fortune Bridge, Prince Edward Island; Leo A. Gorman, Utica, N. Y.; Fred M. Clay, Chester, N. S.; Thomas J. Boyer, Ragsdale, Ind.; James McCormick, Box 28, R.F.D. No. 7, Waco, Tex.; Frederic C. Brown, Boylston, N. S.; H. Harcourt Heal, Trueo, N. S.; Marco C. Swift, Butler, Ind.; Arnold F. Voss, St. Anne, Ill.; M. M. Roscoe, Batavia, Ill.; Clarence K. Smith, Day City, Mich.; R. J. Jacobson, Moorhead, Minn.; J. Hathaway Taylor, Baltimore; Carlton E. Brown, Cincinnati; Charles W. Burrows, Cincinnati; G. Elmer McArthur, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Bronze medals were awarded in every instance except G. Elmer McArthur and Albert G. Peterson, who received silver medals.

LONG BEACH HELPS REDUCE EXPENSES.
TO FURNISH GRADUATING GOWNS—OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Jan. 21.—Owing to the high cost of clothing, the Long Beach Board of Education has come to the rescue with an unprecedented example by announcing that the gowns and caps for the girl graduates this month will be furnished by the board.

The girls of the sewing class are making the dresses and caps, the board providing the cost of material. The caps and gowns are both of gray material, the caps being adorned with tassels of green and gold, the school colors.

The board's action this year does away with the former custom of censoring the graduation dresses worn by the girls and of placing a limit upon the amount to be expended upon the commencement costumes.

BIG POPULATION GAIN.

Indications that this city has gained between 12,000 and 15,000 in population in the past year, City Assessor A. L. Parmley announced today that his official assessment records will show that at least 3000 new homes, apartments and store buildings have been erected in Long Beach during the last twelve months.

Thieves today entered the apartment of A. F. Bonver, 445 American avenue, and escaped with diamonds and other jewelry and silverware valued at more than $500.

RE-ELECT "Y." OFFICERS.

C. J. Walker, president; Stephen Townsend, vice-president; William Cook, treasurer, and N. H. Nielsen, secretary, of the Long Beach Y.M.C.A. have been re-elected by the board of directors for another term.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tone! Better Than Calomel For Liver
Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and headachy read my guarantee.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—[Advertisement.

Busy Day at Los Angeles Country Club Links in Golf Qualifying Round of Big Tourney.

ARMSTRONG HAS THE BEST CARD.

"Scotty" in Lead First Day of the Golf Tourney.

Beverly Hills Course Busy from Morning to Night.

Two Rounds will be Played on the Links Today.

BY PAUL LOWRE.

One hundred and seventy-nine golfers swung into motion in the qualifying rounds of the invitational tournament, at the Los Angeles Country Club, yesterday, and from early morn till late at night the Beverly Hills course was flecked with the forms of the toiling aspirants for honors.

"Scotty" Armstrong of the Midwick club was the most creditable performer of the day. He turned in a card of 75 for the 18 holes—par for the L.A.C.C. course. Norman Macbeth of the Los Angeles Country Club was close behind with a 78, and San Gabriel was well represented when Elmer Ralphs potted the ball over the links for a 79.

BACON HAS 82.

"Farmer Bill" Bacon, who won the San Gabriel tourney, had trouble in sinking his putts and had to be satisfied with an 82. Bob Hodge just nosed into the first flight with his 84 score. The chaps who had worse than 85 found themselves relegated to the lesser flights.

The best bet score was registered by A. J. Swpet, who made the rounds in 80, which, with his handicap of 10, gave him a 70. E. M. Baker, Jr., was second with 88-12-72.

BOUGHNECK THERE.

W. A. Pearse, secretary of the Ohio State Golf Association and self-styled "roughneck," heads the list of the second flighters. His score was 66-4-62. He enjoys the unique distinction of being the only man in the tourney not a member of the Southern California Golf Association.

J. C. Niven of the Los Angeles Country Club—a scratch man—suffered the tortures of shooting a 91, and instead of finding himself in the first flight is buried in the fourth. Ed Tufts, who endures the joy of being a member of the Greens Committee, is also in the same flight. He has an alibi—Jim Stack kidded him off his game.

DESERVES CREDIT.

The Greens Committee deserves a lot of credit for the clever handling of the qualifying round. There was absolutely no congestion on the course—a fact which brought forth oceans of appreciation from the players.

Many prominent golfers who made the qualifying round yesterday will not continue in the tourney because of business pressure. Among them are A. D. S. Johnston, J. V. Elliott, H. B. Ingalls and Dr. W. V. Spinks.

Two rounds are to be played today and all defaults will be called at 10 and 2 o'clock. Ed Tufts announced last night. Foursomes may be made up in all but the first flight. The first round in the defeated eights will be started this afternoon.

The scores of yesterday's qualifiers and draws for today follow:

FIRST FLIGHT.

(Scratch.)

F. E. Armstrong (75-3-72) vs. H. L. Case (84-8-76.)
W. C. Nevin (82-9-73) vs. W. M. Armstrong (86-12-74.)
George L. Thomas, Jr. (82-4-78) vs. J. C. Black (85-5-70.)
Ed Tufts (85-10-75) vs. A. J. Sweet (80-10-70.)
Elmer Ralphs (79-2-77) vs. W. W. Campbell (83-6-77.)
H. L. Dixon (82-2-80) vs. D. M. Baker, Jr. (85-12-73.)
E. D. Tatum (88-2-81) vs. J. Cady (83-6-85.)
Wm. Tisdale (85-4-81) vs. C. H. Palmer, Jr. (82-9-82.)

SECOND FLIGHT.

WILL ASSIGN ROWING DATES.

Oarsmen's Association to Name Schedule Soon.

America may Compete at Henley and Olympic.

Belgium Events a Strong Magnet for Scullers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Collegiate and amateur rowing dates for the coming season will be assigned at conferences of oarsmen's associations to be held here within the next few weeks, it was learned today. Owing to the possibility of considerable international competition this summer the arrangement of the customary regattas is very difficult. It appears probable that the United States will be represented at both the English Henley and the Olympic rowing championship.

With these foreign invasions in view, local regatta dates must be scheduled to conform with the European events as far as possible.

ARE A MAGNET.

While it is realized that none of the varsity eights of the eastern colleges can compete at the English Henley owing to the proximity of that event and the championship regattas of the university crews, the Olympic events are a magnet that is already proving a strong attraction for the oarsmen. Several college rowing associations have expressed a willingness to permit their crews to continue training after the final inter-varsity races if the American Olympic committee will lend assistance in financing the trip to Belgium.

What action will be taken on this point cannot be forecast, but the majority of regatta dates are being fixed with such a contingency in mind.

The following tentative dates, most of which have been officially assigned, include the feature events for 1920, both in the United States and Europe.

March 27, at London, Oxford vs. Cambridge.

April 5, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania vs. Yale.

April 17, at Annapolis, Navy vs. Pennsylvania.

April 24, at Annapolis, Navy vs. Harvard.

May 1, at Oakland, Cal., Washington-Stanford-California.

May 1, at Boston, Harvard vs. Princeton.

May 8, at Annapolis, Navy vs. Syracuse.

May 15, at Princeton, N. J., Childs cup race.

May 22, at Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell vs. Harvard.

May 31, at Philadelphia, American Henley.

June 25, at New London, Ct., Harvard vs. Yale.

July 1, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Intercollegiate regatta.

July 26, at London, Eng., English Henley regatta.

July 30-31, N.A.A.O. championships.

August 27-29, at Antwerp, Belgium, Olympic regatta.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Jan. 21.—Redlands's two basketball teams will complete the week with two games away from home. On Friday night the High School Terriers are to tangle with the San Bernardino High School team at San Bernardino. On Saturday night the University of Redlands and Throop will meet at Pasadena.

The High School team has a clean record so far and Coach Daniels believes that his men can pull a win away from San Bernardino unless they fail to play as they should. Brown and Parker are doing exceptionally good work as forwards; Powers is a good center, and Rowe and Tillory have developed into fine guards.

The varsity game with Throop also will be hard-fought. Throop has one of the best teams in the league and will have the advantage of playing on a floor with which she is familiar. This means a great deal in basketball.

HOW TO PICK ALL-STAR TEAM

BY KAY OWE.

It looks like the ash heap for Walter Camp.

Ever since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary Camp has selected an All-American football team at the end of each season. This team has been given wide publicity as the greatest eleven on earth for that particular year.

Lately there have been doubters. A good many football authorities have come out flat-footed and said that Walter Camp's mythical eleven is worth about as much as the next fellow's. As far as Walter Camp's observation goes, his judgment is probably O. K., but he only sees a few eastern aggregations in action.

At best Walter Camp's selection is one man's opinion based on the best dope he can get hold of.

It remained for an automobile race driver of fame, Cliff Durant, to spring the proper way of picking an All-American team.

Several years ago it was a pretty hard proposition to pick the champion race driver of America. Every driver that won a race decided he was the champion. Soon the A.A.A. took the matter up and settled the whole argument with a bang. There were a certain number of races listed each year as championship events. Points were awarded the various winners. At the end of the season the man with the most points was the racing champion.

Here's this particular driver's suggestion for handling the football situation. Organize a national body which would be the American Football Association. The first division under the national group would be the various intercollegiate conferences throughout the country. Then in each section where football is played a representative would be appointed.

This representative would keep tab on every player of note who takes part in a conference game in his territory. He would be expected to obtain the most detailed information as to gains, handling of the ball, etc. This information would be sent to the conference head.

At the end of the season the conference representative would submit all information to the national body. Here, after careful consideration of all available material, an All-American eleven would be selected.

The new plan is not water-proof in any sense of the word, and would probably work out a mythical group open to as much criticism as Walter Camp's. However, it would be based on a wider observation, would include all teams of note in the country and would have facts behind it, which would give a certain weight to the selection.

It would certainly be interesting to see how a football team picked in this manner would stack up with W. Camp's.

TO ISSUE TEN-DAY TIA JUANA PASSES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—The passport order governing the boundary line at Tia Juana has been modified, and in this way those attending the races will be enabled to go without inconvenience. A telegram today from the State Department said that restrictions at the international boundary at Tia Juana have been lifted by the State Department to such an extent that ten-day passes may be issued by the local immigration service. Heretofore passes were of one-day limit.

PROF. TODD TO SIGNAL MARS FROM BALLOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, Jan. 21.—A. Leo Stevens, balloon expert at Fort Omaha, who for four months has been planning an altitude record flight, in which he will carry Prof. David Todd, noted astronomer, has just received a letter from Todd stating that Todd will take up the details of the flight as soon as he leaves the New York hospital, where he recently underwent an operation.

Stevens, with a new type of balloon, his own invention, expects to reach an altitude of 50,000 feet, where Prof. Todd, the inventor of an electrical device, will attempt to signal Mars. Stevens hopes to make the flight by April, and is elated over Todd's enthusiasm over the project.

DOYLE WINS HIS BACK SALARY SUIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—William T. Doyle, Portsmouth, O., former baseball scout, won an $800 verdict against the Philadelphia National League baseball club in common pleas court here today. Doyle sued for back salary and interest alleged to be due him on a contract which was cancelled by the club when the national "work or fight" order went into effect in August, 1918. Doyle now is with the Milwaukee club.

The suit was regarded as important in sporting circles, as it was the first test in this section of the "work or fight" order as applied to baseball contracts.

KILLEFER TO INVADE EAST.

Angel to Go in Quest of Talent for Seraphs.

Will Try to Make Trade for Brown and Pertica.

Cherubs are Much in Need of Strengthening.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Bespangled in his best suit, and panoplied in a stiff collar, Manager Red Killefer will depart Saturday for the East. Red was observed in the act yesterday of having the old suit case varnished, and the well-known steamer trunk freshly calked.

Contrary to published reports and general belief, Killefer will not be accompanied by Cactus Cravath, manager of the Phils. The departure of Cactus has been delayed for several days.

Killefer is going East expressly to trade Curly Brown and Bill Pertica to some big league club or clubs for four or five hired hands which he feels he needs in his business. The Angels need about three pitchers, a catcher, an infielder and an outfielder. However, unless he can secure the men he wants, he will retain Brown and Pertica, although feeling that they are entitled to a whirl in the big show. Failing in his attempts to make any trades, he will endeavor to buy a bunch of players outright.

Killefer is the second delegate sent east by Powers within a few months in an effort to land reinforcements. Late last season, Jim Morley was commissioned to round up some talent. Jeems took east with him a large bank roll and several hundred dollars' worth of hard licker. The money didn't appeal to the big-league magnates, as they had all of it they needed. But they lapped up Mr. Morley's alcohol, after which they expressed keen regret that they were looking for players themselves, and therefore could do nothing for him.

Killefer will not be as well fortified as Morley, except in the matter of money. He will carry only hair oil in his suit case. If he can turn the trick with hair oil he will have to be regarded as a greater man than Morley.

Red will first visit St. Looey, going thence to Chicago, and later to Cleveland. He will then will return to Chicago for the National League meeting February 11, when he will confer with Cravath and others.

Baseball writers, even when requested, sometimes hesitate to introduce a third party to a ball player, especially if the T. P. is a fan. There never is any telling what turn the remarks of a baseball bug will take. Made with the best intent, they may strike in a sensitive spot, for be it known that the average baseball athlete is highly temperamental. Also he would prefer to discuss almost any subject except baseball with an outsider. Malcolm MacLean of the Chicago Post, who will accompany the Cubs here in March, cites an incident illustrating the point.

Fred Merkle was in a hotel lobby one night when Larry Doyle entered with an acquaintance. Meeting Merkle he introduced him to the third party. The T. P. was delighted. He grabbed Merkle by the mitt and almost wrung it off in sheer, muscular adoration.

"So this is Merkle, the famous bonehead," he effused. "I've always wanted to——."

But that is as far as he got. It took Larry and two others to pull Merkle off the well-meaning but thoroughly undiplomatic and ignorantly offensive T. P.

This bird didn't realize that he had touched Merkle in a spot, and that it hurt worse than an ulcerated tooth. He had seen so many jokes about the "Merkle play" in print that he didn't realize it had been little less than a tragedy in the life of Merkle himself.

Bert Whaling, formerly with the Boston Braves and later with the Vernon Tigers, has signed up with the Los Angeles fire department, and is seeing his first service at the Hill-street station near the ball park. He had his first call Saturday, and the truck he was riding rumbled past the ball yard. Bert was clinging to the hurricane deck, and didn't appear to be the happiest, most carefree man in the world. However, a guy accustomed to braving glittering and freshly-honed spikes at the plate will soon learn not to mind a little thing like a seven-story conflagration.

Doubts expressed regarding Babe Ruth's ability to play a polished game in the outfield are dissipated by American League players in Los Angeles. It is true that a number of good outfielders, including Cy Seymour and Mike Donlin, started their baseball careers in the box. However, as a rule they did not pitch for as long a period as Ruth before going to the outfield. Players who watched Ruth's work in the outer garden declare that his work was above that of the average big-league outfielder and claim to have detected possibilities of actual greatness in that department of the game. Some of them aver that he plays the left field line better than any American League outfielder in that position.

CARPENTIER COMES IN FEBRUARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Private advices from France indicate that Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, will arrive in this country about the middle of February. The French pugilist, challenger for the world's title, now held by Jack Dempsey, will come to the United States to fulfill a contract entirely outside his ring activities, but there is understood to be no obligation which would prohibit him from engaging in either exhibition or limited-round boxing contests.

While Carpentier's manager, M. Descamps, refuses to divulge the actual conditions of the contract, various promoters take it for granted the French fighter will engage in some form of restricted ring activity and there is certain to be a wild scramble for his services. In view of his early arrival, it is considered unlikely that Carpentier will definitely sign for a championship bout with Dempsey before he reaches America. It is understood that the French pugilist and his manager prefer to do business directly with the promoters, who have already passed the $500,000 mark in their bidding.

BOWLING NOTES.

By taking all three games this week, the Fahy-Atterburys are now undisputed leaders in the Southern California Bowling Association tournament and promise to hold their lead until the finish, being two full games ahead of their nearest competitors, the Eldorado Alleys and the Scott Bros. The Knock 'em Dead Gene Murphy aggregation, winners of last year's tournament and the big noise in the early weeks of this year's event, are now only a few games from the cellar. How the mighty have fallen. The Harris & Frank's were on a wild rampage, and celebrated the demise of John Barleycorn by turning in two games over the 1000 mark.

Bill Schubert and Rufus Meek are putting up a spirited battle for leadership in the B ranks, and are running neck and neck. Ernie Shay with his five-point lead, appears to have a strangle hold in class A.

JACK SHARKEY PUTS IT ON JABEZ WHITE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Jan. 21.—Jack Sharkey of New York won a newspaper decision over Jabez White of Albany, here tonight. Sharkey exhibited superior speed, landing volleys of blows to his opponent's head and body. White, however, mixed it gamely throughout the ten rounds.

FULTON MAKES A SHOW OF COWLER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Fred Fulton, the Minnesota heavyweight, so far outclassed Tom Cowler of England in their scheduled six-round bout here tonight that the referee stopped the fight in the third round to save Cowler further punishment.

The third round had gone only one minute and twenty seconds and Cowler had been knocked down four times, when Referee Lew Grimson stopped the fight.

The first hard blow of the bout, a left hook to the stomach, sent Cowler down for the count of nine, and a few seconds later he was again floored with a right hook.

Although apparently weak from punishment, Cowler came up gamely in the second round, but only a few blows had been exchanged when he was knocked down for the third time. He was on his feet almost instantly, but Fulton sent over a succession of blows that almost finished him. When the round ended Cowler backed into his corner and collapsed. He was stretched out in his corner during the interval, and had to be helped to his feet at the start of the third.

WANT A PALACE? AUSTRIA EAGER TO PAWN SEVERAL AT A MILLION EACH TO GET MONEY TO BUY BREAD.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Austria wants a hundred Americans to loan $1,000,000 each, and in return the Austrian government will pledge as security various castles, palaces, shooting boxes, game preserves and chauteaus owned by the former Emperor and other members of the Hapsburg family. Besides this, the Austrian government will offer museums, public buildings, fortresses and other government property as security until the loans are repaid.

Dr. Paul Seifferer, Austrian publicist, now in Paris, trying to arrange a loan to Austria, said this morning his government will pawn everything it possesses to obtain funds to buy bread to save the population from starvation.

On his desk he had photographs of emaciated Viennese school children. Stripped naked, the little bodies showed gaunt, protruding shoulder blades, match-like arms and legs, furrowed ribs, deep-set eyes and hollow cheeks.

"Time is getting short and we must get credit," Dr. Seifferer said. "We have no time to negotiate, parley and discuss while our people are slowly starving to death. Won't America help us? We can offer all the security needed. Surely, there are hundreds of American millionaires who would lend Austria a million dollars for ten or fifteen years to save the entire nation from perishing.

"We will put up everything we have as security—even the city of Vienna. There is the Schoenbrun palace, which is another Versailles, and the Emperor's home. Won't someone lend a million dollars on that, with its priceless porcelains, its Gobelin tapestries, Severs plate and wealth of furnishings? There is the Hofburg palace in the capital and the Hofmuseum, Lichtenstein gallery and Harach gallery, with its invaluable art works, paintings and statues.

"The royal family had more than a score of residences throughout the country and we will pledge them and let the American millionaires come to Austria and live in them until we repay the loan."

American bankers are wanted to go to Vienna and to reorganize the Austrian National Bank, which has been divorced from the old Austro-Hungarian bank by the German treaty. The whole institution must be set up anew and Austrians want American bankers to do it for them.

All Austria's coal mines were taken away by the treaty, but Austria contains more undeveloped water power than all Europe. The water falls can generate electricity and make the nation independent of Czecho-Slovak coal. The Austrians want American engineers to foster and to develop the properties and to install the machinery to utilize the vast horse-power.

The new state tax on capital is before the Austrian Parliament and, despite opposition from the bourgeoisie, it will be passed, it is announced. This will give the government 3,000,000,000 more crowns, but 3,000,000 are used monthly to buy food to sell to the people again at a reduced price, owing to depreciation in value.

Only 14,000 tons of breadstuffs have been sent to Vienna since Chancellor Renner left Paris, and efforts are being made to obtain the other 16,000 tons.

WORLD TEMPERANCE HYMN.

BY MRS. WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

(Tune, "Materna.")

Our thanks we raise, O Lord of Hosts,
In gratitude to Thee,
Whose mighty arm has given us strength
To win this victory.
We need Thy aid, Thy presence still Do not withstay Thy hand
Till subtle foes Thy will fulfill
Throughout our peaceful land.

Shall morning sun flee from the day?
Shall raindrop cease to bless?
Shall beacon send no cheering ray
O'er wat'ry wilderness?
No more can we refuse to share
The blessings God bestows
To ease the burdens others bear,
And lessen human woes.

A voice from overseas we hear
As in the days of Paul
The Macedonian cry rings clear
A summons for us all.
Then when a world reclaimed at last
Is brought to Wisdom's ways
Will hosts in heaven join hosts on earth
In worship, love and praise.

MEXICAN IN SECRET WASHINGTON MISSION.

CLAIM LEON SALINAS IS TO CONFER WITH LANSING ON OIL CONTROVERSY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Mystery has surrounded the coming to Washington of Leon Salinas, subsecretary of industry and labor of Mexico, to attend the Pan-American Financial Congress. His arrival here was kept secret by the Mexican Embassy, and he has refused to receive Americans who desired to interview him.

Salinas is not an accredited delegate to the conference. Reports from Mexico City say his departure for Washington was very precipitate. The object of his visit to this city, it is officially asserted, in Mexico City, is to present Mexico's side of the oil controversy to the financial conference.

It is said, also, that while he is not an accredited delegate he has been commissioned by the Mexican government to handle the oil question. Senor Santella, chief of the Department of Industry and Labor, is quoted as declaring that Salinas has all the data on petroleum production.

Salinas is accompanied by a technical expert, Angel Berea, and a staff of secretaries who are engaged in tabulating figures for presentation to the financial conference, supplemental to information to that furnished by Ambassador Bonillas.

It is reported Salinas will ask an interview with Secretary of State Lansing "to enlighten him on the situation in Mexico with regard to petroleum."

Children's Colds.

Every parent can add to the health of the community and his or her peace of mind by guarding against coughs and colds. When your child has snuffles or watery eyes, don't hesitate to take him from school for a day or two so that you may break up the cold he has contracted. You are perfectly safe in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children as it contains no opium or other narcotic. It acts on nature's plan, loosense the cough, aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and opens the secretions, helping the system to throw off the cold.—[Advertisement.

FITZGERALD

MARIE MORRISEY

Distinguished Contralto

Hear Her Monday Evening

January 26th, at Trinity Auditorium

This famous concert artist will be heard in a specially arranged complimentary recital, under the auspices of the Fitzgerald Music Company. She will sing alone and also in direct comparison with the New Edison.

Metropolitan critics and audiences have paid many glowing tributes to the rich, colorful quality of Miss Morrisey's genuine contralto voice —but of all the tributes that have been paid to her, of all the tributes that could be paid to any artist, the highest is her selection by the Edison Laboratories as an artist whose voice is worthy of perpetuation through the wondrous science of Thomas A. Edison.

ONLY on the New Edison is it possible to hear a RE-CREATION of the art of many of the world's supreme vocalists and virtuosi—among which are Lazzari, recognized as the greatest contralto in the world today, and the successor to Mme. Schumann-Heink in the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company; Anna Case, "the Miracle Girl" of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company; Marie Rappold, Thomas Middleton, Margaret Matzenauer, Albert Spaulding, an American violinist who equals the world's-greatest; Sergei Rachmaninoff, distinguished Russian composer-pianist, called "Beethoven at his best," the consummate artist of modern times—and innumerable other artists—all chosen because they were NOTEWORTHY, not merely noted.

To have their art faithfully RE-CREATED for posterity by the New Edison is an inducement to the true artist that is causing the greatest stars in the world to make exclusive contracts for this supreme instrument.

FOR SALE—

BYRON A. BEARCE,

FIG GARDENS.

The demand for these fig gardens has made probable an early shortage of nursery stock.

We cannot hope to plant but the limited holdings remaining of the present subdivision.

Our contract, carrying care and cultivation and marketing for five years, or ten years, and the certainty of fig crops, which are credited to the purchase price, is a great help to buyers, and assures the success of our undertaking.

You only pay a small portion of the purchase price, and then easy payments for a short period, the crops of your garden taking care of the balance of the obligation.

During five years of contract, your crops should pay out every dollar of cost of your Fig Garden.

At the end of your five years of contract, your Fig Garden is worth $2000.00 per acre, and has not cost you a cent.

Write us for the details of this splendid offer—California's greatest Land-Investment Opportunity.

PERSHING TALKS TO THRONGS IN TACOMA.

VETERANS OF THREE WARS GIVE SMOKER IN HONOR OF GREAT ARMY LEADER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA, Jan. 21.—"The largest crowd outside of the army that I ever talked to in my life," was the way Gen. Pershing described the welcome which he received in the Stadium here, today, when 20,000 citizens cheered him there, following the general's inspection of Camp Lewis earlier in the day.

A banquet at the Commercial Club and a smoker later at the Armory, given by the American Legion, G.A.R. veterans and veterans of the Spanish War, concluded the general's public programme here.

When Gen. Pershing started to Camp Lewis, Samuel Hawkins, a boyhood friend of his in Laclede, Mo., stepped out of the crowd.

"Hello, Johnny Pershing," he said.

"Well, if it isn't 'Feather' Hawkins!" Pershing responded.

"How do you like the West?" Hawkins asked.

"All right. I never felt better," the general answered.

Arrangements were made for a long talk tonight between the two boyhood friends. Mr. Hawkins is foreman in a local sawmill.

A parade and review of the First and Thirty-fifth Infantry and the Thirty-first Artillery Brigade was held at Camp Lewis, and later Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. J. F. Morrison gave a reception and luncheon to the general.

SHIP GOES DRY; SAILORS LEAVE.

Confiscation of Liquor in Crew Locker Brings Row.

Captain, Former Naval Officer, in Consular Fight.

Wardell Wants State Aid for Impoverished Vineyardists.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Confiscation of about twenty cases and forty bottles of liquor belonging to the crew of the Shipping Board steamship Lake Elkwood by Capt. William Chabliss, the commanding officer, in an effort to enforce the dry law aboard his vessel, was the prelude to many difficulties encountered on a South American voyage related here today before a United States commissioner. Four members of the crew were arraigned, charged with deserting the ship at Rio de Janeiro. Decision was reserved. Capt. Chabliss turned the liquor over to the Brazilian customs authorities with a request that it be given to a hospital or sold and the proceeds donated to charity.

The captain, formerly a naval officer at the Pelham Bay training camp, said he would prefer charges against Augustus I. Hasskarl, American Vice-Consul at Rio de Janeiro, by whose orders, he alleged, he was removed from the Lake Elkwood and had to appeal to the Brazilian courts to get his ship back. He alleged that the Vice-Consul caused the steamship to be delayed forty-nine days, while a broken propeller blade was being repaired, at a cost of $57,000. He also charged that the vessel's cargo of coal was sold below market value.

HELP VINEYARD MEN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Development of a plan for the State to guarantee to owners the value of vineyards in California at least equal to the value established before prohibition was advocated today by Justus S. Wardell, United States collector of internal revenue.

Wardell's suggestion is that by legislation, by issuance of bonds or otherwise, the State guarantees the value of the land, with the privilege of the vineyardist to sell it to the State at that figure to be used by agricultural colleges in experimental work. Those owners who did not sell could proceed to develop their property secure in the knowledge that its value was guaranteed by the State," he said.

CHILDRESS (Tex.) Jan. 21.—Four men are dead at Memphis, thirty miles west of here, and six others are recovering from the effects of drinking hair tonic, believed to have contained wood alcohol. The men died Monday night, according to information received here today.

HINDUS WIN LAND SUIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Judgments totalling $29,000 in favor of a group of Hindu rice farmers were given in the Superior Court here today against F. B. Cross and Howard M. Payne, holders of rice land in Glenn county. The Hindus sued the land owners, known as the Providence Irrigation Syndicate, for money and labor lost in preparing ground for which they alleged the syndicate failed to furnish water as agreed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Max Bedacht, who was indicted by a Federal grand jury at Chicago today as an alleged radical, was said to have been a former editor of the German Vorwaerts, and for many years was a leader in the Socialist movement in San Francisco. He was arrested here November 19, on a criminal syndicalism charge.

The Boy
Our Greatest Asset

THE boy of today is the man of tomorrow. Trite, but how terribly true. A man almost before we know it—and we wonder how he happened to get there without our knowing it.

The time has passed when Los Angeles can afford to neglect for a single moment a careful supervision of her growing boys. Police court records here as well as elsewhere are convincing evidence of the rewards of such neglect.

From the ranks of 160,000 boys in Greater Los Angeles will come in a few short years the heads of families, of business enterprises, of political expression, of civic movements, of moral interests, of religious organizations, provided that the proper investment is made in those young lives during the formative period.

The Y.M.C.A. Plan Successfully Solves the Boy Problem

The Y.M.C.A. knows boys; that has been its principal work for the past 75 years — understanding and working with and reclaiming boys. It has developed trained leadership for boys of all ages and thoroughly tried and tested its methods of interesting and helping the boy to attain his highest development.

In the post-war period, when conditions in family life as well as civic life are so unsettled, the Y.M.C.A. offers its successful work as a constructive force in behalf of boys — a four-fold program which includes recreational, educational, social and religious activities. Boys of Los Angeles and its adjoining communities are one of the chief arguments for asking the unqualified support and endorsement of the public in the

THE CHEAPEST WAY TO DO ANYTHING THAT IS WORTH DOING IS TO DO IT RIGHT.

If the food is not properly prepared by chewing, the stomach has to break up the food as well as digest it. This places too much work on the digestive apparatus and thus causes trouble.

When the stomach is thus disturbed the whole body suffers.

TEARS LETTER ACCUSING HIM.

Silk Theft Case Defendant Accused of Seeking to Dynamite Jail.

"Yes I wrote that letter," declared Willis E. Carter, on trail before a jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday, charged with robbing the warehouse of P. A. Newmark & Co. of silk shirts worth $2000. The next moment he tore the letter into pieces and threw them on the courtroom floor.

Judge Houser will sentence him for contempt tomorrow. The case on trial is expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Willis, according to the letter which Jailer Gallagher intercepted, wrote to some one outside to go to Fullerton and get dynamite to help him get out of jail.

...if it is then shown that it inflicts serious injury on any special interests there can be modifications.

President Edgerton of the Railroad Commission, opened the conference yesterday by stating that:

"The members of the Railroad Commission have come to Los Angeles in the spirit of helpfulness." He declared the present condition of congestion in the downtown streets of Los Angeles is admittedly bad, and as a result, street car service is anything but satisfactory, and is rapidly growing worse.

"This no-parking proposal," he continued, "was not designed to increase the revenue of the street car company, but was prepared and suggested as a step necessary to be taken in the whole programme of street car readjustment.

MUST KNOW SOON.

"The Railroad Commission must know," he said, "within a reasonable time, what the city will do in this matter, as the action of the city will in some degree influence the action of the commission.

"We do not believe that the no-parking proposal is an unreasonable request to make of the city of Los Angeles. It can only be called a sacrifice as to a comparatively few individual interests. From the standpoint of the city as a whole rather than a sacrifice it is a positive help. Other cities have been called upon to endure 6, 7, 8 and even 12-cent street car fares—to an actual cutting down of service, to all manner of sacrifices, such as foregoing paving, transfers, etc., etc., and it would seem that where Los Angeles, by merely clearing up the congestion

FRESH CHARGES AGAINST CLINE.

Interest on Trust Funds of Sheriff Asked About.

His Mountain Cabin and Even the Jail Under Fire.

He Promises Real Battle in Trial of Ouster Suit.

"I am not a grafter," said Sheriff Cline yesterday in reply to the proceedings brought by County Attorney Hill on behalf of the Supervisors to oust Mr. Cline from his job as Sheriff, which he has held since January, 1915. "I have never taken a cent of money of the county or of anyone else that did not belong to me, and I shall beat this case when it comes into court. It is a case of persecution."

"Persecution?" said County Counsel A. J. Hill. "Nonsense! In the spring of 1917 I started an inquiry into the manner in which the office of Sheriff was being administered under Mr. Cline and the evidence has been rolling in ever since. Something new concerning wrongdoing at the Sheriff's office comes to light every day. The system of accounting used by the county is efficient, but by making false returns to the county, as we charge the Sheriff has done, the Auditor's department can be and has been fooled for a long time as to the amount of actual business done by the Sheriff's office. While the amount of money passing through the Sheriff's office and handled privately, we charge, by the Sheriff for his own purposes, amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. The amount of money actually due to the county is about $30,000, and we shall sue the Sheriff to recover this money. We have one suit now pending against Mr. Cline to recover $8142, which we claim he received from the Federal government for feeding prisoners at the jail."

The county counsel has investigators at work preparing for the ouster proceedings, which are due to be called January 29 in Judge Monroe's court. Further revelations are promised. It is believed that Sheriff Cline's entire administration will be gone into, especially as concerns conditions at the jail.

NEW CHARGES.

New evidence brought to light by the County Counsel's office yesterday concerned the building of a cabin near the Malibu ranch, which accordingly to evidence in the possession of the county attorney, salaried county deputy sheriffs were assigned by the Sheriff to build, and county automobiles were used in transporting lumber and materials to the cabin site.

"That cabin story is a lie," said Sheriff Cline. "I built it two years ago. It cost $4000. No deputy sheriffs worked on it, and no county materials were used in building it."

The County Counsel's office also began an investigation yesterday to find out the alleged profit made by the Sheriff in withholding from the county treasury as alleged in the complaints filed, large sums out of so-called trust moneys placed with the civil department of the Sheriff's office to cover litigation awards. According to the County Counsel's office, these trust funds average about $75,000 a month, and they are deposited with the Hibernian Savings Bank. The question in the mind of the county prosecutor is who gets the interest? The county has no record of receiving any interest on these funds.

"I have no trust funds on deposit drawing interest," said Sheriff Cline in reply to this charge. "On August 21, last, H. R. Jones, cashier of the civil department of the Sheriff's office, deposited with the County Treasurer, $36,546.49, of these so-called trust moneys, leaving a balance at the Hibernian Savings Bank of $8786.52. The system of bookkeeping by which we keep some transient so-called trust moneys on deposit with the Hibernian Savings Bank was installed by the Board of Supervisors on January 2, 1918, and we receive no interest from the bank, because the account costs more in book-keeping than the money is worth to the bank. The volume of checking business is enormous, but the law requires that we place the money in a bank, and draw checks. Before this system was installed, litigants and attorneys formerly exchanged the cash at the office of the civil department of the Sheriff."

SHERIFF'S STATEMENT.

Sheriff Cline offered the following financial statement for December, last, of the civil department of his office as evidence that all financial business of the office is carried on openly and above board and said that these reports are filed monthly with the County Treasurer and Auditor:

POLITICS CHARGED.

Friends of the Sheriff declare that the present suit to oust the Sheriff is the climax of a long political fight which has been brewing for more than two years and that one Supervisor is trying to "get" the Sheriff in order to place Undersheriff Edward D. Zehner in as Sheriff.

On the other hand, County Counsel Hill and Supervisor Dodge declare that there is nothing of a personal or political nature in the present fight against the Sheriff, but that it is simply the result of his regarding the Sheriff's office as his private business, and that he has been using the public funds for profit; that he SAYS HUSBAND IS NOT GUILTY.

Wife of Will McDonald, Here, Flouts Trio's Testimony.

Though Brother and Sisters Say He Slew McNutt.

Wilkinson, "Our Husband," to Seek Second Divorce.

In spite of the sworn testimony of Helen Fay Wilkinson and Jewel and Ted McDonald, that their brother, Will McDonald, was the one who murdered W. H. McNutt, a wealthy real estate broker, in Spokane, last July, Mrs. Augusta McDonald, wife of the accused brother, declared in this city yesterday that he is innocent of the crime and that she still loves him.

Mrs. McDonald is living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aristich Vieux, 511 Hancock street, where she has resided since the disappearance of her husband following the death of McNutt. She told Detective Belger of the Burns agency that she is confident Will McDonald will appear later to vindicate himself.

Another angle of the remarkable case came to light in Los Angeles yesterday with the declaration of W. P. Wilkinson, husband of Helen Fay Wilkinson, that he will seek a divorce as soon as the trial in Spokane is over and that he will thereafter have no more to do with the McDonald family, which he declares a "bad lot." Mr. Wilkinson, who is a car oiler employed at the Southern Pacific freight yards here, says he will base his action on the admission by his wife on the stand that she has another husband living and undivorced. She said she married Mr. Wilkinson three years ago and that last year she married a man named Steel in Denver. To add to the tangle Mr. Wilkinson was formerly the husband of Jewel McDonald, the elder sister. He divorced her four years ago and married Fay. The sisters, in their testimony, referred to him as "our husband."

"WILL IS INNOCENT."

"Of course, I know my husband is innocent," Mrs. Will McDonald said. "My heart tells me that, for I love him devotedly. I know nothing of his two sisters and brother, who are now trying to blame Will for the crime. I am not separated from my husband, nor do I intend to be, even though he is arrested. I do not know where he is now. If I did I would go to him and fight for him with my life. I do not believe he is in hiding. Instead, he is probably working some place up north and knows nothing of what is going on at the trial in Spokane."

Will McDonald has been missing since his marriage to Augusta Vieux in this city on August 4, about six weeks after the disappearance of McNutt. His two sisters and brother were arrested here on October 2, charged with complicity in the murder of McNutt. Following their arrest and while awaiting extradition to Spokane they regarded the affair nonchalantly and continually jested about it. While authorities throughout the West were looking for Will McDonald, who was regarded by the police as the principal participant in the killing of McNutt, the trial began a few days ago in Spokane.

When Jewel McDonald took the witness stand she startled the occupants of the courtroom by immediately testifying that McNutt had been killed by her missing brother Will during a fight waged in an apartment-house occupied by the McDonalds. Fay McDonald Wilkinson told the same story. The body, they said, was taken by Will to the Scotia ranch and buried.

CASE GOES TO JURY.

SPOKANE (WASH.) Jan. 21.—The case of Marie, Fay and Ted McDonald, charged with the murder last June 26 of W. H. McNutt, Spokane real estate broker, went to the Jury at 4:30 p.m. today, at the conclusion of arguments by Thomas Corkery and C. T. McDonald, an uncle of the defendants, counsel for the defense, and Prosecuting Attorney J. B. Lindsley. The two women and their young brother are alleged to have killed McNutt in a local rooming-house operated by McNutt and Marie McDonald. McNutt's body was found buried on a ranch near Scotia, Wash. The defendants are children of a former Whitman county (Washington) jurist, deceased.

KIN FIGHT WILL OF SERVICE MAN.

Relatives Say Widow Used Undue Influence on War Gas Victim.

Alleging that John H. Gardner, an ex-soldier, was poisoned with gas in France, and was ill and incompetent to make a will, Mabel Gardner Lancaster and Emma Gardner Rosser, relatives, yesterday instituted a contest to the probate of his will. The estate consists of an insurance policy for $10,000, which was bequeathed to Mrs. Lillian I. Sward.

The contestants allege that Gardner was unduly influenced by Mrs. Sward. He died January 11, 1919. The will was written the day before. It was filed by Mrs. Sward. The contestants allege that Mrs. Sward was not living with her husband and that she induced Gardner to live at her home.

MEYERS WINS TORRID CASE.

"The court is not going to waste any sympathy on either party," said Judge Taft yesterday in deciding the marital tangle of Charles G. Meyers, wealthy cattle man, and his young wife, Iona Meyers, by giving Mr. Meyers a decree on his cross-complaint, but stating that Mr. Meyers is old enough to have had better sense in making the marriage he did. Mr. Meyers was not entitled to as much as a man without fault would be, the court remarked.

He allowed Mrs. Meyers $75 attorney's fees and the costs of the case, but stated he would leave the property where it was, Mr. Meyers having given his wife a half interest in it, "without expectation of getting it back," Judge Taft said.

"In the vernacular of the street, he was an easy mark. I hope he has learned a lesson," said the judge.

The trial of the case reeked with sensational charges. Mrs. Meyers was charged with making love to four men, one of whom was identified in the courtroom, but she denied the charges, as did Mr. Meyers the ones made by his wife.

"A tongue-fest," is the way the court described their married life.

"I am satisfied," said Mrs. Meyers. "I did not care who got the decree. Marry again? Never."

She declared she has a contract with a motion picture company and intends to make her living on the screen.

NEW JUROR DEFENDS PANEL

Taking exception to the charge of the defense counsel in the case of Harry S. New, convicted of second-degree murder for the slaying of Freda Lesser, that the jury decided the verdict by lot, or the flipping of a coin, C. H. Green, one of the jurors, yesterday sent to Dist.-Atty. Woolwine a letter of protest. The letter follows:

"My attention has been called to the fact that the defense in their motion for a new trial in the New case charge that the jury was guilty of misconduct in arriving at their verdict, and that their decision was reached by 'casting lots' or 'flipping a coin.'

"Is it possible that two and three-fourths days of valuable time was required by the bright legal lights in the case to examine and select a jury of that caliber. I consider the charge a gross and abominable insult. I do not believe a more honest or conscientious twelve men were ever selected to try a case in the courts of this county, or had in their hearts a greater desire that their verdict should be just and above reproach. There is not the least grounds for such a charge. You are probably aware of the results of the several ballots taken, in which there was but little change until the final ballot was taken, when the three jurors who were for acquittal agreed to compromise on a second-degree verdict, and which was absolutely without any qualification or rider. We did agree to make a request to Judge Craig that New's mental condition be looked into by the State Medical Board, but this was separate and distinct from the verdict, and those same jurors who now seem to be disgruntled said in 'these words' they did not care if the judge tore up this paper and threw it in the waste basket, they were satisfied and had done their duty—and I am sure this statement I have made would be corroborated by our foreman and the other members of the jury. I cannot let such a charge go unchallenged, and you are privileged to use this letter as you desire.

TWO HELD IN DEATH CASE.

Two women giving the names of Lila T. Atherton and Sarah J. Williams were arrested last night by Inspector J. M. O'Connell of the State Board of Medical Examiners, and held at the county and city jails, respectively. Mrs. Atherton is charged with murder. Mrs. Williams was held at the Central Station, where she was booked on the charge of suspicion of felony. According to Mr. O'Connell, the arrests grew out of an illegal operation charged to the two women a little over a week ago. Today, Inspector O'Connell said, he will ask for a murder complaint against Mrs. Williams. Both women were taken into custody at 1205 West Twenty-third street, the officers say.

Mrs. Williams, Inspector O'Connell said last night, was recently freed in the justice court when a case against her, charging an illegal operation, was dismissed for insufficient evidence. Last night's arrest, the officer said, was for another case, in which Mrs. Williams is alleged to have been associated with Mrs. Atherton.

The murder complaint in the Atherton case was issued by Deputy District Attorney Dennison. It is charged that she caused the death of Ellis Allen, a young woman of Upland, by performing an illegal operation. The operation took place on January 12, according to the complaint, and the young woman died on January 18.

According to information given Attorney Dennison by J. M. O'Connell of the State Board of Medical Examiners, the young woman made an ante-mortem statement in a hospital at Ontario, accusing the defendant.

An endeavor has been made recently to have an old charge against the defendant put back upon the court calendar for action, but so far the case has not been set. The charge in the first complaint is illegal operation.

ALIBI IS GRANEY'S DEFENSE.

That Donald C. Graney, accused of attempting to rob Herbert G. Flint, cashier of the Bank of Hynes on October 2, was not at Hynes at the time, but was eating a meal in a restaurant near Thirty-ninth street and Western avenue, was the claim made yesterday by defense attorneys, Guy Eddie and E. M. Torchia. Witnesses testified that he was in the restaurant at 2:20 o'clock. The attempted robbery took place and the four bandits had fled before 2 o'clock, according to reports to the Sheriff's office, the day of the affair.

In spite of this, Mrs. Flint, wife of the cashier, testified that she saw Graney and three companions enter the bank shortly before 2 o'clock. She also said she recog-

RE-ELECTS OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting and luncheon of the Nathan Straus Palestine Advancement Society, which was held at Christopher's yesterday, Louis M. Cole was unanimously re-elected president of the organization. Alexander Brick and Joseph P. Loeb were elected vice-presidents and E. M. Riese financial secretary. Henry Klein was re-elected treasurer and Morris Kauffman recording

FLOOD CONTROL CASE IS HEARD.

Charges by Hartranft Aired Before Supervisors.

Both Sides Claim Victory at End of the Hearing.

Critic Denies He Intended Political Accusations.

M. V. Hartranft, whose published charges against the flood control check-dam system induced the Supervisors to ask him to appear before the board yesterday and air his criticisms, disavowed any intention of charging the board or the flood control officials with playing "peanut politics," or with the lack of good motives in the prosecution of any of the check-dam work.

Questioned as to whether he had submitted the information in his report to the Supervisors, before he made it public, he stated that he had done so to Supervisor Woodley. He said that all the information had been for five weeks, he knew, in the hands of Supervisors, presented to them by their own engineers.

A petition of the board of managers of the Lukens's Memorial Forestry Society, of which Mr. Hartranft is president, asking that the charges made by Mr. Hartranft and approved by them, and of the total denial thereof, be made immediately by a disinterested committee from leading organizations of the city, was not acted upon by the Supervisors.

After the hearing, Supervisor McClellan, who has charge of the flood control work, asserted that Mr. Hartranft, while before the board had been unable to make any direct statement on first-hand knowledge as to what happened to the check dams in Stewart Canyon, about which the charges center. Supervisor Cogswell, who has inspected the dams, declared that he did not believe that Mr. Hartranft had proved anything. Mr. Hartranft, on the contrary, declared that he made every statement direct and that his original report, as substantiated by the board of managers of the forestry society, contained the information which he presented at yesterday's hearing.

INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Hartranft appeared before the Supervisors with members of the Lukens Memorial Forestry Society. He stated he had made personal investigation of the damage done by floods to the check dams in Stewart Canyon and that he had personally gone over much of the work, examining more than twenty or twenty-five of the 130 check dams built in the canyon, and, further, that the forestry society had engaged competent engineers to inspect all the dams in the main Stewart Canyon. These engineers were present at the hearing yesterday to personally answer questions, if called upon to do so, but the board did not quiz them.

He expressed the opinion that no

BALKS AT VERY PERSONAL QUIZ.

Query Insulting, Degrading, Says Mrs. Thorkildsen.

Racy Doings of the Wealthy Told in Divorce Suit.

Wife Admits She, Man Guest Wore Scanty Clothes.

A very personal question, touching on the intimate relations of Mrs. Selina Livingston Thorkildsen and her husband the "Borax King," a query which attorneys for the former resented as "insulting and degrading," entered into the divorce suit which started yesterday before Judge Works. Forcing of an answer was temporarily blocked by her counsel Bradner W. Lee and P. I. Manson, the latter of San Francisco. The question was put by Attorney Michael Shannon, who, with Theodore Martin, appears for Mr. Thorkildsen. Judge Works said the question may be repeated when Mr. Shannon has marshaled his evidence in the form of depositions from Chicago.

The court over-ruled the objection that the question is "insulting and degrading." Judge Works held that it is proper in view of the charge Mrs. Thorkildsen has made against her husband concerning a matter in which Mr. Shannon seeks to prove by his question, that Mrs. Thorkildsen herself was at fault.

IN THE NUDE.

Mrs. Thorkildsen's evidence was designed to show mental cruelty and humiliation. It shed a sidelight on the doings of the rich in their private homes and among privileged friends. Mr. Thorkildsen, she said, once answered the telephone in a nude state, while her mother was present. He again plunged into the historic bathing pool at the beautiful Thorkildsen home at 2100 Canyon Drive, and when she asked him to come out, he appeared entirely nude while Mrs. Ramsey, a guest was present. These and other acts, Mrs. Thorkildsen claimed, caused her extreme humiliation.

As an offset to Mr. Thorkildsen's nature stunts, Mr. Shannon asked Mrs. Thorkildsen if she never appeared in scanty attire. She indignantly denied the insinuation. Mr. Shannon then showed her Kodak pictures, one showing herself, her mother, Mrs. Livingston, and Andrew S. Gunn in bathing suits, standing at the bathing pool. She admitted she sometimes went like that.

She told how one night Mr. Thorkildsen turned on all the lights in the house, and finally appeared in her bedroom carrying a fully-lighted candelabra in either hand. When asked what he meant, he said:

"It's a wake."

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

How to Manage a Husband.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

When a woman asks for advice about how to manage a husband she does not desire to be given a reliable recipe for "bossing" him. Not one wife in a thousand would have her husband obey her, if she could, for by no one is the henpecked man more despised than by the domestic tyrant who pecks him.

No. By managing a husband a woman merely means getting along with him without friction, getting him into his evening clothes and out to a party once a week without a scene and generally getting what is coming to a wife without having to use a sandbag or a jimmy to obtain it. And, more especially, she means working some sort of a conjure on him so that he will always see her surrounded by the romantic halo of a lady love, instead of in the prosaic attitude of a useful household convenience.

Therefore the study of how to manage a husband is not only a proper one for wives, but one that shall be accounted unto them for merit, as Mr. Kipling would say. Especially by husbands, for undoubtedly it is much more soothing to have our fur rubbed the right way than the wrong and pleasanter to be beguiled along the pathway we should go than it is to be prodded along it.

The great original tip on this important subject is that which the first woman whispered into the ear of her eldest daughter. She said: "Feed the brute," and Lillith, or Eve, or whatever her name was, shook her coarse red hair out of her little eyes and, smiling wisely, passed over the narrow bones and the liver and the tenderloin of the beast she had just slain to her liege lord, and he grunted contentedly as he gnawed them and stood his club up against the cave wall, and thus was domestic diplomacy born into the world.

Aeons of time have elapsed since then, but it has not changed the masculine stomach, nor its relation to masculine psychology, nor made less potent the ameliorating effects of a good meal on a man's disposition. When God made a man's tummy twice as big as his head, or his heart. He delivered him over into his wife's hands, and if she has not enough gumption to work her cinch for all it is worth it is her own stupidity.

The wise woman, however, never forgets that beauty may fade, and wit pall, but that a good dinner is always a good dinner, and draws a man as irresistibly as a magnet draws a needle. No superlative cook ever figures in the courts in the ranks of the deserted wives. No man who can count on finding on his own table just the particular tid-bit that he most fancies, prepared just as he likes it, becomes around-the-town rounder, nor are all the ten commandments so potent in keeping a husband nailed to his own fireside of an evening as that gorged feeling, that makes one too heavy and satiated to move in search of adventure.

Observe, ladies, and you will see that all the Don Juans have, like Cassius, a lean and hungry look. The fat men never figure as Lotharios, and affinities, and soul mates. Then realize that a wife's best aid in keeping her husband is her gas range, and act upon the knowledge.

The first axiom in managing a husband is: Feed him. The second is wait until he is fed, and has smoked his first cigar, or pipe, before you make a request of him, or tell him anything unpleasant. Don't meet a tired, hungry, nerve-wracked man at the front door of an evening with a budget of bad news. The poor fellow has already had about all of the disagreeable things to bear that he can stand during the day, and to dump even one single additional worry on him is the straw that breaks the camel's back, and makes him roar out a surly "No" to the most reasonable suggestion, and say things that reduce you to tears.

An hour later when he is rested, and soothed and comforted and the world looks better to him, he will be amenable to reason, happy to please you, and you may push your affairs with success, as the soothsayers put it. But in managing a husband never forget the importance of waiting and watching for the psychological moment in which to tackle him.

The third important point in managing a husband is to learn to drive with a loose rein. Most wives make the mistake of thinking that when a man enters the holy estate of matrimony he is committed to a penal institution that forever shuts him out from any more personal liberty. Also that they are their husband's lawfully constituted jailers.

That is why there are so many wandering husbands. Any man with a spark of spirit in him would rebel at having to punch a time clock, and produce an alibi for every hour of his day and night. More than that, the forbidden fruit stuff is eternally alluring. Hence, the woman who wishes to keep her husband bound sets him free, and she who wishes his confidence asks no questions instead of putting him through the third degree. Any woman who has enough sense to grant her husband a little freedom has him so grateful he will eat out of her hand.

The fourth point in managing a husband is to learn to play his game instead of expecting him to always play yours. Don't fill the house up with your friends and your family, and exclude his. Don't drag him to see problem plays when he wants to go to vaudeville shows. Don't be a wet blanket who is forever saying, "We can't afford this," and "We can't afford that," when hubby suggests some little treat. Don't let him go gadding alone because you think you can't leave the baby.

Just remember that a man is bound to have amusement and companionship, and somebody to laugh with and have a good time with, and if you won't qualify for the job there are plenty of others who will. Also that while you are sitting at home holding baby's hand, some good-looking lady is probably holding husband's hand. But the only way you can make your husband enjoy taking you out is by adding to the gaiety of the occasion. No man drags along a killjoy with him willingly.

Finally, in managing a husband remember that the whole art is summed up in studying your man and learning how to jolly him along. Do things the way he wants them done. Put things in the light he prefers. Have an interest in his interests. Laugh at his jokes. Listen to his stories. Show him off before people. Praise his achievements. Let him see you really love and appreciate him, and admire him. Heaven knows it is little enough to do for the poor slave who toils unceasingly to give you comfort and luxuries.

But if you will do this he will kiss your feet, and turn over to you his kingdom, for husbands are humble creatures who don't expect much consideration from their wives.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Wanton Destruction.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The other day in a few hours the labor and toil of men's hands and brains to the extent of nearly $150,000 worth of goods was wantonly and ostentatiously destroyed in the city of Los Angeles by the constituted authorities.

It is true this property was in the form of fermented grape juice—which has fallen under the prohibition ban—but all the same it represented the labor of at least twelve different handicrafts and had been manufactured under the protection and with the encouragement of the United States government.

And to tickle the whiskers of long-hair fanatics who boast they carry in their vest pockets the votes of supposedly free and unfettered American citizens, this destruction of private property was presented as a precedent and example for all our people to take notice of.

Parlor Bolshevists are being rounded up and imprisoned or deported for preaching the very same thing that the red prohibition guards have just put into practice in Los Angeles—namely, the destruction of private property for South Dakotans and Iowans did praise the dear Governor! Such a satisfaction this must be to him.

Ye gods, is this my own, my native land? Mrs. So-and-so at Pasadena was horrified to read a cigarette ad in the Red Cross Magazine, and she was certainly going to tell them what she thought of its damnable effect on this country. Boy, I'm an ex-overseas man, put in eighteen months, and how that dear, old Red Cross did come across with those peace-bringing cigarettes. I will never forget it, nor will thousands of others just like me.

We love our country, yes, and we wanted to come back to it worse than Mrs. So-and-so's imagination could ever tell her, but if they don't stop taking everything we have from us, we're going back and we won't come back till it's over over here.

A. BUDDY.

To Stop Crime.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The first thing to greet our eyes when we pick up our morning Times is a long list of hold-ups, auto thefts, safe cracking, etc. Of course we understand that this is the winter "Paradise of the yegg, the hold-up, the gum-shoer, the safe-cracker, the dip, the sticker-up, the sneak thief, and last, but by no means least, the auto thief." We well remember when it was considered a huge joke by the local courts for a bunch of young thieves to steal a man's auto and wreck it. It was once merely a boyish prank, but now they are running up into the hundreds monthly. There is hardly a night that porch climbers fail to rob a number of houses, and every night several of our citizens are compelled to look down the business end of a dangerous-looking gun in the hands of a thug and deliver all worldly goods which he happens to have with him at the time, or forfeit his life.

The winter still recalls the horse-stealing days in the Middle West, when judge and jury failed a long-suffering public, said public got busy on "necktie parties" and soon made horse stealing a lost art. The old boys of that day broke into the game and after being satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the suspect, he was "hanged to the highest limb." Now some such an heroic measure will have to be adopted here, and the writer would suggest that those caught in the act be sterilized. No punishment could be pronounced that would produce the fear in a healthy young hold-up as that of sterilization, and when he looks forward to a loss of his commission in life it might have more of a deterrent effect on him than anything else that has been tried or suggested up to date. Let's give it a trial.

NO HOME LIFE; DIVORCE.

Nathan A. Hanson, a Long Beach druggist, who was granted a divorce by Judge Crail yesterday, declared his wife, Elsie P. Hanson, "couldn't get my meals on time and seemed unable to make any home life for me." He admitted he worked very long hours.

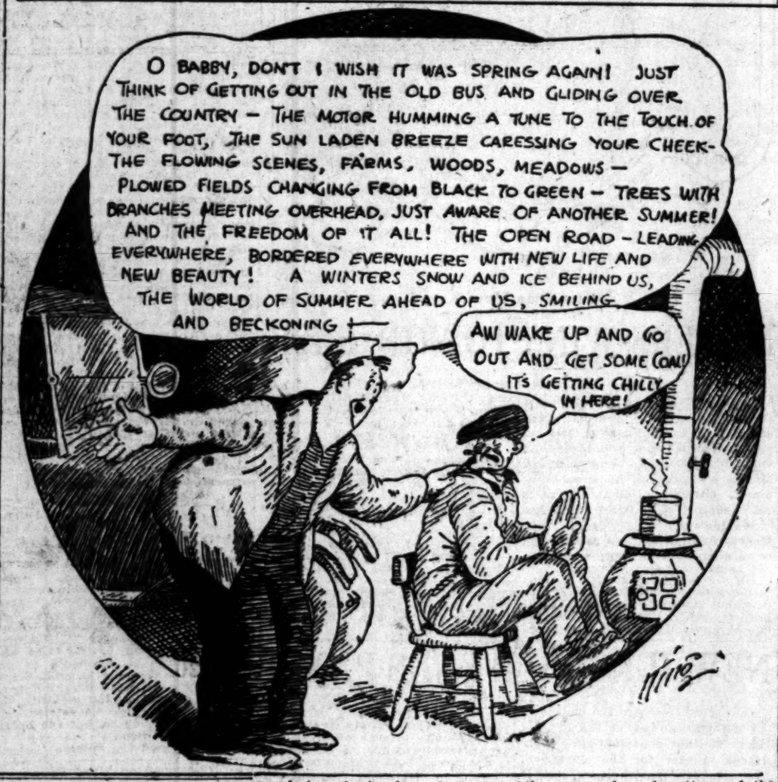
GASOLINE ALLEY—OUT OF SEASON STUFF.



Disinfection is Cheaper than Sickness

An obvious fact, yet how many people continue to ignore the daily and deadly menace of insistent, untiring disease germs.

In the absence of disinfection, germ life breeds, thrives and spreads amazingly—if we could see it at its daily work the sight would be terrifying.

That's why the invisibility of germ life makes the menace doubly dangerous—people forget its existence until a serious contagious disease overtakes someone near and dear. And then the realization comes too late. As a precaution, use

Lysol Disinfectant

No germ life can exist where Lysol Disinfectant is present.

It kills disease germs at the moment of application, or prevents their creation.

Use Lysol Disinfectant at home and in the office. A few drops sprinkled wherever germs might lurk or be created is wise precaution against serious illness.

A 50c bottle makes five gallons of powerful disinfectant; a 25c bottle makes two gallons.

Remember, there is but one genuine Lysol Disinfectant—made, bottled, signed, and sealed by Lehn & Fink, Inc.

Lysol Toilet Soap — 25c a Cake

Contains the necessary proportion of the antiseptic ingredients of Lysol Disinfectant to protect the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he hasn't it, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream in Tubes

Contains the necessary proportion of the antiseptic ingredients of Lysol Disinfectant to kill germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound) and to guard the tiny cuts from infection and give an antiseptic shave. If your dealer hasn't it, ask him to order a supply for you.

IN MEMORY OF LEWERS.

Judge Bledsoe adjourned his department of the Federal court for the day yesterday, as a mark of respect to the memory of Charles B. Lewers of San Francisco, whose funeral occurred yesterday. Judge Bledsoe and the deceased attorney were not only closely associated in the oil litigation involving the claims of the government against the Southern Pacific, but were close personal friends of more than a quarter of a century standing. Judge Bledsoe paid an eloquent tribute to his dead friend.

The Ouija Board.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Pronounce it "we-ya." It is a combination of the French oui (wee) signifying yes, and the German ja (ya) also signifying yes. Thus ouija—weyah. Of itself, it is meaningless.

What is the object of this little appliance? Largely amusement. Much credit is given to it by spiritualists who regard it as one of the means of communication between discarnate spirit and those in earth life. The late Ella Wheeler Wilcox was a victim of that fallacy.

It is simply another means of bringing the operations of the subjective mind above the threshold of consciousness. The little device is guided unconsciously by the hand that rests lightly thereon, but it is supposed to be propelled by an unseen power.

By sufficient practice, one may be able to secure passivity of the subjective mind to the extent of receiving information contained in his own subjective mind or in the subjective mind of another, from a discarnate spirit, never.

We should not attribute to the spirits of the dead the knowledge of the living. Why should a dead man's spirit in abnormal union with a living man's body have more knowledge than his own spirit in normal union with his own body?

The working of the ouija board is largely akin to what is known as "automatic writing," where in quires of paper have been wasted in messages supposedly from the spirit world.

Lovely, Lancer, Lovely.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—[To the Editor of the Times:] Lovely! Three cheers for the Lancer and his attitude about Gov. Stephens and the prize fight passports. Personally, I don't care a fig for a prize fight, but oh boy! I wouldn't raise a little finger to stop anyone who does. And also think how many people have come to Southern California, people who spend real money. Don't we need it? I'll say we do! Does the dear, sweet little Governor think he will stop this naughty fight? Doesn't his intelligence tell him the thing will be staged just the same somewhere else, and all the nice money will be spent somewhere besides Sunny California?

My! how the Methodists and the supposed redemption of the state.

How much longer will the United States stand for this Janus procedure—how much longer will they acquiesce in one law for the prohibitionists and another for the "mere people?" Or do the constituted authorities expect they can successfully preach thrift and economy to the nation while they publicly practice such wanton destruction as was witnessed last Monday on the premises of the North Cucamonga Wine Company?

Yours truly,

NORMAN RICHARDS.

"HOLSUM has the home-made flavor" says HOLSUM HENRY

REMEMBER the bread Mother used to make? Oh Boy! Nothing could beat it! But today Mother is too busy to do the family baking. She spends more time being a real pal to her boys and girls than she used to be able to—because she lets us HOLSUM bakers make her bread. She's satisfied to let us do her baking for her because she knows that HOLSUM has the home-made flavor—that it's just as good bread as she herself could bake.

HOLSUM'S home-made flavor isn't a matter of chance. It's the result of skillful blending of the best materials, mixed, moulded and baked by the most modern methods.

HOLSUM Bread is made by machinery, scrubbed and cleaned every day. Every process in the making of HOLSUM is as sanitary and clean as Science and human skill can make it.

HOLSUM Bread is wrapped by machinery, too. Thirty minutes from the time the loaf leaves the oven it is in its waxed paper wrapper. This insures its coming to your table absolutely clean. Yes, and fresh—for HOLSUM is the only bread in the city that is delivered the same day as baked.

Next time you buy bread ask for HOLSUM—the bread with the home-made flavor. Ask for it, too, because the best ingredients, most modern methods and one hundred expert bakers combine to make HOLSUM the quality loaf. HOLSUM is the body building bread for growing girls and boys. HOLSUM is the right loaf for your table.

INSIST UPON HOLSUM!

Four of the thirteen ovens in which HOLSUM is baked hold 485 loaves each. They are a sight any woman will enjoy. HOLSUM HENRY particularly invites every housewife in Los Angeles to inspect these ovens and the other machinery which makes HOLSUM Bread—the quality loaf. Glad to see you any day!

DEMAND FOR HOUSE PLANS AT LIBRARY

Forty per cent. of the people of Los Angeles now own their own homes and many of the others are thinking it over, judging from the multitude of requests for house plans at the public library. The staff of the art and music department spent more time last year showing house plans than in anything else.

In the science and industry department the librarians are also asked often for material on nut culture and cotton raising. Business books are receiving constant attention.

THORKILDSEN CASE WARM.

Borax King's Wife on Stand; Describes Doings in Scanty Garb.

that at a friend's house he got a roast turkey from the kitchen, took it into the dining-room and spilled gravy over his clothes. She said Mr. Thorkildsen brought her a suit of pajamas from San Francisco. He wore them, and the next morning she said she found them on the floor, torn in shreds.

He became angry with her, and for nine days would have nothing to do with her, she said. On the tenth day he became gracious and gave her $10,000 in bonds. She said he slapped her on one occasion. It seemed from the evidence that Mrs. Thorkildsen had promised before her marriage that she would not go through her husband's pockets. One day, when he thought he had lost his keys, she said she started to feel in the pockets of his clothes at the garage. This made him angry, and he reminded her of her promise.

"BE A GOOD BOY."

Some correspondence figured in the trial. Mr. Shannon produced a letter she had written to her husband from New York, in which she said she was crazy to see him. In another letter she admonished him to be a good boy "and don't do anything which will make me sad."

Mrs. Thorkildsen did not deny that she smoked a bit and drank a little, but she declared she did not like liquor. In a letter to her husband, she wrote that the big thing in her life she had overcome was the cigarette habit. She said she was glad, because "I know it will make you happy."

Dividends paid Mr. Thorkildsen from the borax mine totaled in 1916, $237,000, it developed during the examination of Mrs. Thorkildsen from a letter written by a member of his firm. The trial will be continued today.

WIFE CAN'T TESTIFY IN MANN ACT CASE.

GOVERNMENT'S PLAN TO HAVE SPOUSE ACCUSE PREACHER FAILS AT SAN DIEGO.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—Although Mrs. Eugenio de Luca, wife of the Denver minister arrested at Tia Juana, Mex., and charged with violating the Mann Act, came all the way from Denver to testify in the case, she was not permitted to take the witness stand today in the Federal trial of her husband. Attorneys for De Luca objected on the ground that a wife cannot testify against her husband.

Virginia and Christine, two of the children of the De Lucas, little girls aged 8 and 10, respectively, who had been brought West with their father and Miss Mary Colantonio, with whom he was when arrested, were questioned for a few minutes on the witness stand today. The case was continued until February 5, when another attempt will be made by the Federal attorneys to have Mrs. de Luca testify. De Luca, Miss Colantonio and De Luca's four children came from Denver, and went to Tia Juana, where he was arrested on a warrant sworn to by his wife. De Luca says he had Miss Colantonio with him to care for the children, and that he is innocent of wrongdoing.

FLOOD CONTROL CHARGES HEARD

cloudburst had occurred, as stated, and that the damage done was the result of the unfitness of the check dams to withstand the pressure of the water. He had never visited, he said, the upper watershed of these canyons, where the flood-control engineers report the cloudburst took place. He had relied upon the statements, declared Mr. Hartranft, of the engineers employed by the forestry society.

When asked to explain his public statement that all the check dams had been completely destroyed and washed out, he said he meant that all had either been destroyed or partially destroyed. None, however, he said, is effective. He asserted his statement in this respect was based on the reports of the engineers engaged by the forestry society and on the observations he himself made on three trips to the canyon.

UNEXPECTED TORRENT.

It developed during the hearing that the flood-control department had ascribed the damage done to check dams to a cloudburst that, it was maintained, produced a torrent of water far in excess of anything the dams were intended to restrain. A large number of check dams withstood the tremendous flow of water and withheld a great amount of debris and silt in the canyons, say the Supervisors. If it had not been for the check dams, the flood-control engineers assert, a vastly greater amount of damage would have been done to the Stewart ranch than actually was occasioned.

Mr. Hartranft, in saying he had no knowledge of damage done by this storm to more than 2000 other check dams constructed by the flood-control district in other canyons of the county, declared his report referred solely to the check dams in Stewart's Canyon.

Residents of other canyons addressed the Supervisors, testifying to the efficiency of the check dams constructed in those localities by the flood-control district.

"FRIEND" GETS ROLL.

Lodging and Drink Prove Costly for Visiting Rancher.

Charles Taylor, a ranch owner of Van Nuys, paid $155 in cash for a night's lodging, according to the story told by him to the police yesterday. Taylor was taken to a room on Main street by a young man he met in a picture show. The youth offered to permit him to sleep in the room and save a hotel bill. The new friend, according to Taylor, also gave him a drink of whisky, and while he slept relieved him of his cash.

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT.

W. M. Frazier, 70 years of age, of 1811 South Hollywood is dead, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Mason, 45 years, of the same address, is probably fatally injured, Bruce T. Mason, 44 years, her husband, and Robert Smith, a chauffeur of 1422 South Mariposa street, were painfully injured yesterday, when an automobile in which they were riding was smashed to splinters by a Pacific Electric car at Sixteenth street and Roosevelt avenue. The automobile, witnesses say, was struck squarely in the center by the street car and hurled a distance of fifty feet. All four of the persons in the automobile were pinned beneath the wreckage. No one on the street car was injured.

Police detectives who investigated, place no blame on the street-car motorman. They say the chauffeur of the automobile attempted to cross in front of the car and the machine may have stalled on the tracks.

All the injured were rushed to the Receiving Hospital. Frazier died there and the body was taken to the W. A. Brown undertaking-rooms. Mrs. Mason, who with her husband was visiting the Fraziers, is from Wichita, Kan. She was treated for a possible fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain, a possible fracture of the right hip and internal injuries. Her husband and Smith were found to be suffering from concussion, and lacerations about the body. Mrs. Mason was taken from the Receiving Hospital to a private institution. The other injured were moved to their homes.

Taylor of Decatur, Ill., president emeritus of Millikin University, and Mrs. Taylor, now on a visit to this city, yesterday took rooms at 2526 West Seventh street, with the intention of remaining some time in Southern California. Dr. Taylor was for nineteen years president of the Kansas State Normal School and for about eighteen years president of Millikin University at Decatur. He is, moreover, the author of a number of books on education, one of which has been translated into Japanese and Spanish. His last visit to Los Angeles was in 1898, when he was president of the National Council of Education at a meeting of the National Educational Association.

OR A LONG REST?

Sleeping-car service has been restored on the line between El Paso and the City of Mexico, but it is not our idea of a good place to sleep in.

ON THE ROAD.

An eastern inquiry showed that farmers traveled an average of thirty-four miles to make important purchases—and it was in a rather thickly-settled district, at that. This demonstrates the value of having good roads radiate from every large town.

FLYING HIGH.

They had an aviation show in Chicago and the various exhibitors sold nearly ten million dollars' worth of their wares, including nearly eleven hundred planes. People are so used to being up in the air these days that they feel as if they must have a machine of their own.

FIGHTING FOR IT.

Some of the army and navy recruiting stations in their quest for volunteers are advertising that neither France, Germany, England, China nor Siberia is dry. At a station in Salt Lake the sign reads: "Enlist and Have a Drink." The army doesn't seem to be particularly proud of national prohibition.

SAFETY FIRST.

As Gen. Pershing is head of the army and is being pressed by many admirers as a Presidential candidate he declines to talk either about the army or politics on his tour of inspection. We don't know as we blame him much, but there are a lot of people who would like to commit him to something without being sure as to what it is. The general, however, wisely prefers the photographer to the interviewer.

GREEN GOODS.

California is expected to take about $750,000 as her allotment of the $10,000,000 issue of bonds of an Irish republic now being floated in this country. Here is one drive that ought to be suppressed. The police pinch those who shoot craps or sell Pershing Square to innocent strangers and they ought not to let the salesmen for Sinn Fein bonds get away with it. Why not sell some stock in the Hohenzollern Brewing Company? Don't bonds of the Emerald Isle come under the definition of green goods?

THE ENDLESS CHAIN.

A member of the Federal Trade Commission presents the figures to prove that for every dollar which the government collects on its excess-profits taxes on business the ultimate consumer pays between $4 and $5 in overcharges. Business passes the tax onto the next person even before it is levied. Even an inheritance tax on the estates of the head is made a drag upon the living who are of no kin. An extra tax of $1 on a producer becomes $2, $3 and $4 as it is passed on through jobbers, wholesalers and retailers. Each must not only be reimbursed for the tax, but for the trouble of collecting it, and so it swells as it travels. Finally the government itself must have a flood of high-priced officials charged with its collection. Unless there can be a reduction of national expenditures there can be no reduction of prices.

A SLUMP IN IDEALS.

Sweden is anxious to participate in the operation and conduct of the League of Nations, but its foremost statesman has said that the absence of the United States deprives it of "the incomparably mightiest power in the world." This has "disarranged international feeling, depriving the League of an essential factor in its worldwide prestige and practically reducing it to a European understanding." Without the unselfish participation of the United States it is almost impossible to restrain the petty demands of Italy and the old-time war alliances are revived or invoked. Next to the war itself the greatest tragedy to Europe has been the delay and procrastination shown by the United States in the matter of clearing the road for peaceful progress. Our ideals seem to have been merely paper angels, fit to hang on a Christmas tree, but for not much else.

MY DEAR GASTON.

Lucy Page Gaston indicates her intention of becoming a Presidential candidate. Will Mr. Wilson please stand up and give the lady a seat?

Presumably Lucy would run on the strength of her being a founder and head of the Anti-Cigarette League, which to her is vastly more important than any puny and half-baked League of Nations. Her platform would declare for a smokeless world—that is, except for smoked ham and tongue. The fact that the United States used two billion more cigarettes last year than the year before merely emphasizes the importance of electing a reformer like Lucy who is pledged to curb this iniquitous trade. The United States must be freed from the damnable domination of nicotine and it seems to be up to Lucy to take charge of the crusade. Why not begin by occupying the White House? That is at least a coign of vantage. Now that we are so dry we must 'ware of the smoke. But if we are to have Lucy Page Gaston who will page Alphonse?

PROFITEERING IN RENTS AND BUILDING MATERIALS.

In no American city today is the problem of rent profiteering more acute than in Los Angeles. Since the outset of the tourist season, with its incoming thousands eager to study and enjoy the attractions of Southern California, hundreds of complaints have been registered with the Chamber of Commerce, the daily newspapers and civic organizations against the callousness and greed of some of our local landlords. Many of these stories are of a character to bring a blush of shame to the cheeks of residents who, by reason of choice and admiration, have settled here and who hold the good name of this city as a thing too precious to be destroyed. Naturally a bitter resentment at the rapacity of the profiteering landlord has arisen, and within the past few days a persistent demand has come for legislation which will effectually relieve the tenant; permanent and temporary, of his intolerable burden.

Now comes a second complaint against another form of profiteering—one that strikes as directly at the community's well-being and prosperity as does the shortsightedness of the greedy landlord exacting an unwarranted toll in rent. Building costs within the last few months have mounted to such dizzy heights as to astound even those hardened to the carnival of high prices, and because there is no early relief in sight, but on the contrary a disposition on the part of the lumber interests to make the public bear an even heavier burden, a grave anxiety has arisen as to the probable extent of the damage which must inevitably result to the city from such an unprecedented situation.

No one with a particle of foresight can doubt that a serious blow will be dealt to the progress and prestige of this city if these twin evils long continue. There must be a stoppage of all forms of unfair profiteering—and particularly in rents and building costs—if this or any other American community is to survive the charge that its prosperity is predicated on commercial selfishness and illegitimate gain. Other cities have thought to override the law which operates to prove that compensation is a literal, living fact, and their failure has been utter and dismal. Who, then, is to say that Los Angeles is immune?

We know as truly that no community which regards to any serious degree its obligations to its citizens and its visitors can accept with complacency a situation that, despite their protests and the manifest folly of longer ignoring it, points to no other conclusion than that greedy exploitation has reached the danger limit. There happens to be an especial reason why Los Angeles should condemn the spirit of the profiteer and cry an immediate halt to his exactions.

In a particular sense this city and the surrounding country owe their present amazing progress to the faith of those thousands who have come here to associate their energies and fortunes with the upbuilding of the land. From whatever spot of the world they have come it has been in the belief that fair play would be their portion. By no other consideration were they drawn here and under no less inviting circumstances will they consent to remain. And if such a rule finds application today, as it unquestionably has in the past, why will it not have as true a significance tomorrow or five years hence?

The Times has no wish to disturb the legitimate profits of the individual or the corporation in business. Unless there be a fair profit business cannot survive. But there is a vast difference between a fair profit, whether it be drawn from a rental, a building material or whatnot—and the profiteer's ill-considered gain.

It may be said in warning to those who persist in this folly of commercial blindness that the day is coming when Los Angeles will need every ounce of the potency contained in a reputation for business uprightness and civic fair play to sustain the great progress now under way. Nothing in the long run will work greater harm to our continued growth or prove a more serious setback to our civic morale than to confess to an outstanding reputation for unbridled greed at a time when every circumstance and every dictate calls for an exercise of cool judgment and the rule of honesty.

If the profiteering landlord and the purblind material man reason that they are beholden to themselves alone, as surely as the sun shines they are riding to a fall. In exacting an excessive profit, unmeasured by either justice or good business sense, they are unfairly reaping today's advantage; but beyond this lies a hurt to the city.

Because Los Angeles today is in the temporary grip of these twin profiteers a serious damage is being done, and only by an awakened conscience can the city hope to deal fairly with its own or with those who vision this as the city of their future. It is time that the claws of the rapacious landlord be clipped and a warning finger be raised at the material dealer who holds paramount his right to profiteer at the expense of the city's hard-won growth. In these two disturbing factors we have a dangerous element—one that goes directly to the core of the present-day unrest—and it behooves every thinking citizen who has thoughts of his city's future to ponder seriously over the extent of the damage which their unchecked present practices suggest.

One of the inescapable penalties of excessive material prices, of course, will be to drive business into fields where materials are cheaper—and price quotations show that they are generally lower in several California cities. Already specific instances are known where local contractors, facing the alternative of either keeping their building estimates within a reasonable figure or losing a client, have sought and found the materials they needed in the Oakland market. Another instance is known where a large investor and speculative builder purchased a heavy order of bathtubs and bath fixtures in Chicago rather than submit to the excessive price which had been quoted to him here.

In the face of existing material prices, with no effort either to reduce or to stabilize them, it will not take long to multiply these cases of the hard-pressed investor being driven into other fields—or, worse yet—declining to build at all. It seems a task for the material men themselves to remove the fast-growing conviction in the public mind that the high-price carnival has completely turned their heads.

A Lion in a Den of Daniels.

A SINISTER "INITIATIVE" MENACE.

Back of the appeal to Gov. Stephens to call a special session of the Legislature to consider legislation to check the "peaceful penetration" of Japanese into California is the sinister menace of an initiative amendment to the State Constitution more drastic than any anti-Japanese laws yet proposed. On more than one occasion in recent years The Times has pointed out that initiative legislation is a dangerous weapon in the hands of radicals or zealots. There are certain rights reserved to the sovereign States by the Federal Constitution. Among these is the sole right to legislate on any question affecting education or the owning and leasing of land. The Federal government cannot enter into any valid treaty obligations limiting those rights. Protests of Japan to the Federal government would be futile; equally futile would be any protest to the State government of California, for the right of initiative legislation is expressly stated by the California Constitution to be separate from and superior to that of the Legislature.

Gov. Stephens has given no visible sign that he has even received the thousands of petitions asking him to call the special session of the Legislature to consider the Japanese question. The Governor is sleeping, but he is sleeping on a volcano.

At the 1909 session of the Legislature a strong protest from then President Roosevelt to Speaker Stanton was sufficient to check anti-Japanese legislation. During the 1913 session Bryan, then Secretary of State, carried to Gov. Johnson an appeal from President Wilson to dissuade the Legislature from passing any laws that might be offensive to the Japanese government. The protest was sufficient to secure a modification of the bills introduced, eliminating the offensive parts. A wire of protest from Secretary Lansing at Paris was sufficient in 1919 to block the introduction of bills framed with the intent of blocking the Japanese peaceful invasion.

But if 75,000 names are signed to an initiative petition denying to Japanese the right to attend public schools in California or to own, lease or rent land, even for a habitation, no protest from the Federal government can prevent its submission to the electorates in the November election. Not a single paragraph can be eliminated; not a word can be changed, even if the protest of Japan were backed by that of the League of Nations.

For ten years the Legislatures of California have bowed to the will of the Federal government and failed to pass laws checking the Japanese invasion. The people have been hoping against hope that the "gentlemen's agreement" would keep the Japs out; and during that time the Japanese population of California has climbed from 5000 to 100,000. They have seen the fairest agricultural lands of the State pass under the control of slant-eyed profiteers. Now they are in a mood to take the bit in their teeth and legislate for themselves.

The Times is of the opinion that anti-Japanese land laws should be enacted by the Legislature; that they should be weighed and sifted and not made more offensive to Japan than is necessary to prevent California from becoming a Japanese industrial colony, as Hawaii has become. But we cannot answer the objection that the Legislature cannot act if it is not in session, and the menace of an initiative amendment, containing every clause to which Japan has protested, continues to grow. The temper of the people of the State is such that it is extremely doubtful whether sufficient public sentiment could be aroused against it to prevent its being voted.

But a Governor dozes peacefully away in the seclusion of the executive mansion at Sacramento while the rising tide of resentment against the Japanese invasion threatens to engulf the State government. If the Legislature were to be convened this winter a compromise might be effected with the Federal government which would permit Chinese farmers to be brought here under a three-year contract as France did to till our agricultural land. That would require a Federal law. California can drive the Japanese out by refusing them a habitation, but only the Federal government can permit the Chinese farmers to come in. In return for that concession from Congress giving California sufficient farm hands to break the Japanese potato, bean and green-vegetable monopolies the Legislature might agree to modify the rigor of the proposed Japanese exclusion laws. There is a growing sentiment all over the State in favor of bringing Chinese farmers here under contract until white labor can again be secured to till our millions of fallow acres. Under well-ordered legislative procedure many compromises may be considered. Californians are not thirsting for a war with Japan, but the East might as well understand now that we are not afraid of such a conflict, if it is necessary to preserve California to the Anglo-Saxon race. But the attitude of the Governor is bringing us face to face with direct legislation; and when direct legislation is once invoked no compromise is possible.

PENALIZING BUSINESS.

The joint legislative committee is said to have in consideration a plan to extend the corporation and franchise tax system into all fields of private business. The idea is to license practically every aisle of human endeavor and to collect a State fee therefor. There must be fresh millions for the plunderbund and this plan would not only furnish them, but create a new group of political spenders to serve as cogs in the machine. The demand at Sacramento is for money and more money. Almost every conceivable avenue of tax exploitation has been invaded, but the cry for more millions comes up from the politicians with an insistence that is not to be stifled except by the cash. What is practically a general business tax has been levied by ordinance in the city of Los Angeles. Why not, therefore, enlarge and amplify this by the creation of a State tax? Later the Federal government can also get in the game and a man will have to show three certificates before he can embark in the business of selling hot dogs to his fellows. It is declared that liberty is not license, but the next step will be the government selling licenses for a man's liberty. Under a real progressive administration a man would pay $50 a year for the right to live and another $50 for the privilege of liberty. When it came to the pursuit of happiness he might be tapped for a thousand bucks. The State is threatening to boost the corporation and franchise taxes still higher and thus go after private business for further funds to squander. In the long run it all comes from the public, the consumer, who is the grand goat of the universe.

CHINA'S PATRIOTISM.

There can be little doubt that the Chinese government had officially instructed its delegates to the Peace Conference in Versailles to sign the treaty, recognizing though it did the Japanese appropriation of German rights in Shantung. National sentiment was, however, tremendously aroused. If Japan had set out to instigate a new national spirit which should overwhelm the old local provincialisms she could not have proceeded in a more effectual way to accomplish the purpose.

The people took the matter out of the hands of the government. By cablegrams to Paris, by telegraph to Peking, by mass meetings and agitations, finally by a strike of students and then of the mercantile guilds in the larger cities they made it clear that national sentiment would regard as traitors all those who should take part in signing the treaty. It was an extraordinary impressive exhibition of the existence and the power of national feeling in China.

It was all the more impressive because it had to work without organized governmental agencies and, indeed, against the resistance of deeply-intrenched pro-Japanese officialdom. If there still remained anywhere those who doubted the strength and pervasiveness of Chinese patriotism the demonstration was a final and convincing lesson.—[John Dewey in Asia, Journal of American Asiatic Association.

TAX EXEMPTION OF LIBERTY BONDS

BY JOSEPH A. BLONDELL.

The exemptions set forth below apply to individuals, partnerships and corporations.

The income received from Liberty Bonds is exempt from normal income taxes. Persons whose entire net income does not exceed $5000 pay no income tax at all upon interest from Liberty Bonds. Persons whose net income exceeds $5000 pay no normal income tax upon interest from Liberty Bonds, but pay the surtax with the following exemptions:

EXEMPTION.

3½ per cent. bonds, meaning first bond issue—exempt from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes.

$5,000 may be applied or an exemption claimed once on any of the taxable Liberty Bonds, but not against Victory notes.

$30,000 of first 4¼s (issue of October 24, 1918, only) until the expiration of two years after the termination of the war.

$30,000 of fourth 4¼s until the expiration of two years after the termination of the war.

$45,000 in the aggregate of first 4s, first 4¼s (issue of May 9, 1918, only,) second 4s and 4¼s and third 4¼s; as to the interest received after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of two years after the termination of the war, this exemption conditional on original subscription to and continued holding at date of tax return of two-thirds as many bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

In the Victory Liberty Loan Act: for the purpose of stabilizing the market for the 4¼ per cent. Liberty Bonds, Congress provided the following additional exemptions from taxation:

Under the terms of Section 2 (A) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act the following additional exemption is allowed and is independent of any subscription to the Victory Liberty Loan.

$30,000 in the aggregate of first 4s, first 4¼s (issue of May 9, 1918, and October 24, 1918,) second 4s and 4¼s, third 4¼s and fourth 4¼s, as to the interest received on and after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of five years after the termination of the war.

Under the terms of Section 3 (B) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act, the following additional exemption is provided, conditional upon original subscription to and continued holding at date of the tax return of one-third as many notes of the Victory Liberty Loan instead of expiring five years after the termination of the war.

$20,000 in the aggregate of first 4s, first 4¼s (issues of May 9, 1918, and October 24, 1918,) second 4s and 4¼s, third 4¼s and fourth 4¼s, as to the interest received on and after January 1, 1919.

$160,000 total exemptions allowed for 1919 on taxable Liberty Bonds.

Note.—Victory 3¾ per cent. bonds exempt from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes. Victory 4¾ per cent. bonds exempt from the normal income tax, but subject to the surtax, excess profits and war profits tax.

Following is an example showing how the exemptions may be applied for year 1919:

Exemptions May be Applied on Bonds of	Amount of Exemption		Unused Holdings	Exemptions Applied
May be applied to any loan (except Victory Loan)	$ 5,000	2d Loan	$40,000	$40,000
On First Liberty Bonds converted into Fourth Liberty Bonds	30,000	3d Loan	20,000	20,000
On Fourth Liberty Bonds	30,000	4th Loan	40,000	40,000
Allowed one and a half times the amount of fourth loan bonds originally subscribed for and if held at the time of filing return. This amount may be applied against the Second and Third Liberty Bonds, the first converted into Second Liberty Bonds, the first converted into the Third Liberty Bonds and the Second Liberty Bonds converted into the Third Liberty Bonds. Maximum exemption allowed	45,000	1st 4¼s	20,000	20,000
Additional exemption allowed under the terms of Section 2 (A) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act (independent of any subscription to the Victory Loan) may be applied against all the loans except Victory Loan	20,000	2d 4¼s	20,000	20,000
Still further exemption allowed under the terms of Section 3 (B) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act to the extent of three times the amount of your holdings of Victory Bonds, which amount may be applied against all the loans except the Victory Loan, maximum exemption under this section shall not exceed	20,000		.....	.....
Total maximum	$160,000		$160,000	$160,000
Victory Bonds	.....		10,000	.....
Total	$160,000		$170,000	$160,000

*No normal income tax imposed, but subject to the surtax, excess profits and war profits tax, as the case may be. Also note that no exemption can be claimed on Victory Bonds.

Persons owning a large amount of bonds may find it helpful to keep the table below and in figuring or compiling income tax return to insert their figures in place of the ones below. By so doing it may assist materially in ascertaining whether or not you have computed the exemptions properly:

Description.	Holdings.	Exemptions Claimed.	Interest Taxable on	Remarks.
3½% bonds	None. Converted	None.	None.
4% bonds	None. Converted	None.	None.
First 4¼s	$5,000	$5,000	None.	On the First Liberty Bonds converted into Fourth Loan Bonds you are allowed a maximum exemption of $30,000. As you only hold $5000, you only apply that amount. The balance, or $25,000, may not be applied to any of the other loans.
Second 4¼s	2,500	2,500	None.	As you are allowed $5000 that may be applied against any loan, we shall apply $2500, which would still leave $2500 unused.
Third 4¼s	2,000	3,000	None.	As your subscription and holdings of Fourth Loan Bonds aggregate $2000, you are allowed one and one-half times that amount, or $3000, as an exemption, which amount may be applied against all the loans (except the Victory, Fourth Loan and First Loan Bonds converted into Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds.) In this case you still have $4500 that may be applied elsewhere, but we shall not apply it.
4th Loan, 4¼s	5,000	5,000	None.	On the Fourth Liberty Bonds you are allowed a maximum exemption of $30,000, and as you only hold $5000 of this issue, you only apply that amount. The balance of $25,000, may not be applied to any of the other loans.
Victory 4¾s	5,000	....	$5,000	As Section 2 (A) of the Victory Loan Act allows you $20,000 additional that may be applied to all the loans (except the Victory,) and as the other exemptions exceed your holdings, we shall not apply it. As you subscribed and hold $5000 of the Victory Bonds, you are allowed three times this amount, or $15,000, as a still further additional exemption that may be applied against all the loans (except the Victory.) The maximum, however, is $20,000.
Totals	$20,5000	$15,500	$5,000	The $5000 of the Victory Bonds subject to the surtax, excess profits and the war profits, but not to the normal income tax.

"ILLITERATE DIGEST."

By Will Rogers.

Hello, everybody! Have you had your census taken yet?

That's the last thing we got left to take from us—Los Angeles waits 'till winter and takes its census from the hotel registers.

You know a tourist census counts one just the same as a person who knows enough to stay at home.

I met a fellow up near San Francisco taking Los Angeles census.

A good way to take the census here would be to count the cars parked on the street.

If prohibition and wood alcohol keep on I guess this will be about the last census we will have.

Those Democratic conventions are held to give Bryan somewhere to go every four years.

THE MAIDEN'S PRAYER.

Oh, Lord, send me a man that is just awfully nice and let him whisper those three little words to me, and place a diamond upon my finger that will be the envy of every girl who hasn't one. Let me have a little party and announce my engagement to the girls, the maid of honor and those who will be the bridesmaids. Then let me send the engagement announcement to the newspapers for the whole world to read, hoping much that all will see it. Oh, Lord, let me have a wedding and invite those that I wish and snub those who have snubbed me. Let me give to several girls, including one that has a very expensive car, the privilege of delivering the invitations.

And after the wedding and reception are both over and the guests have all gone and my husband takes me in his arms and kisses me while we wait for the automobile that is to convey us to the railroad station and the train on which we will embark for the honeymoon—after all this, dear Lord, why just leave the rest to me. Amen!—[Judge.

STADLMAN KIN START INQUIRY.

Brother of Accused Teller Here to Check Accounts.

Seeks Details of Shortage Charged by Savings Bank.

Detectives Confident Fugitive will be Captured Soon.

While the detectives working on the case were optimistic, yesterday, over prospects of an early arrest of Wallace J. Stadlman, accused by his former employers of embezzling $44,000 from the funds of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, Roger Stadlman, the fugitive teller's brother, arrived in Los Angeles and started an investigation of his own.

After a brief talk with his mother, Roger Stadlman began the work of familiarizing himself with the details of the case. That he will seek to determine the exact amount of money missing, all the circumstances surrounding the case, and the connection, if any of possible accomplices was the statement made last night by Mrs. Anna R. Stadlman, the mother.

"My oldest son is here now, and will look after his brother's interests. We want to know all the facts, and learn what part others played in ths matter," she sad.

A mystery element was injected into the case yesterday, when it was reported at the office of the Riverside County Oil Company, 400 I. W. Heilman Building, where the missing man was acting as the concern's fiscal agent, that a man claiming to be Roger Stadlman called there and sought information. He asked about the whereabouts of Owen E. Jones, the man to whom Stadlman gave a power of attorney and the complete confession, it was learned from the office attaches. At the Stadlman home it was denied that Roger Stadlman was the man who called at the Riverside Oil Company's office. J. Drew Funk, the company's president, was away on a business trip during the day, and the caller was not recognized.

J. E. Loennecker, superintendant of the Pinkerton's National Detective agency, which is handling the nation-wide hunt for Wallace Stadlman, said yesterday that he expected an arrest soon.

"We have some excellent information, and are working in a dozen places, with prospects of immediate results," he said.

That the bank's auditing forces are now at work checking up the accounts and totals handled by Stadlman last year, was learned yesterday. The task is long and tedious, it was said, and may not be completed for some weeks. It is not expected, however, that the total of the defalcation will exceed the original estimate of $44,000, made by the bank in Stadlman's alleged confession.

A new county grand jury may not be called for several days, it was indicated yesterday by Judge Willis, who is in charge of that body for 1920. The court said that, should occasion arise, he would call the new inquisitorial body, but not until the necessity was apparent.

"It would be a fine thing," said Judge Willis, "if the county could get along for a month or more without the expense of a grand jury, especially when it is not necessary."

CONGREGATIONALISTS TO GIVE BANQUET.

THIRTY CHURCHES WILD SEND DELEGATES TO EXTENSION SOCIETY DINNER.

Delegates from thirty Congregational churches in and near this city will meet tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at the First Congregational Church for the annual dinner of the Congregational Church Extension Society of Los Angeles. Each church will send from twenty to one hundred delegates and it is estimated that nearly 1000 people, both ministers and laymen, will be seated at the banquet tables.

Attorney Dell A. Schweitzer, retiring president, will give the report of the work done, of the churches built and of the prospects for the future. He will be followed by the Rev. George E. Kenngott, superintendent, who will outline the plans for the Congregational extension work in this city. Then will come the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Rev. N. L. Rowell, one of the oldest ministers in the Congregational church, will not be present. He recently suffered a nervous collapse and will leave for a complete rest of two weeks, after which he will resume his duties as pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church.

BURGLARS GET JEWELS.

Steal Wager Heirlooms on Night Family Returns to City.

After an absence of three years in Washington, D. C., and Cleveland, Mrs. Charles Price Wagar and her daughter, Miss Marie Wagar, returned to their home at 1 St. James Park to be visited the evening of their arrival, Tuesday, by burglars. The burglars ransacked a trunk filled with old jewelry heirlooms. A handsome cameo set that came from London many years ago was among the articles stolen. An old-fashioned diamond ring set in French enamel and some bits of old coral are among the missing trinkets.

Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday received a telegram announcing that the 1921 annual convention of the National Bedding Manufacturers' Association will come to Los Angeles. TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP

We find you can bring out the beauty of your hair to its very best advantage by washing it with canthrox. It makes a very simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff, dirt and excess oil, leaving a wonderfully clean, wholesome feeling. After its use, you will find that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is never streaked in appearance and is always bright, soft and fluffy; so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. Just use a teaspoonful of canthrox, which you can get from any good druggist, dissolve it in a cup of hot water; this makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.—[Advertisement.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition in Winter

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the winter term. These things which clog the pores, tend to aid wind and weather in roughing and coarsening the skin. Ordinary mercolized wax will do more for the complexion, and without encouraging the germ to chap, crack or become harsh and leathery. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been spoiled by winds or temperature. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white and soft, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

One Palmer student sold his first play for $3000. Others have received from $250 to $1000 for their stories. Still others have obtained lucrative staff scenario positions and are now working in Los Angeles studios. The Palmer Plan of Photoplay Writing enables the student to master photoplay fundamentals through correspondence instruction without loss of time or present position.

SERIES OF FIRES DO BIG DAMAGE.

RANCH BUILDINGS, EQUIPMENT AND RESIDENCE BURN AT VENTURA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Jan. 21.—Three barns were destroyed by fire on the Limonelra ranch, the property loss aggregating $18,000, which, it is said, was not covered by insurance. Besides the barns, two automobiles, 250 tons of hay, two trucks, twenty sets of harness, three buggies, three wagons and all the spraying outfits for this largest lemon ranch in the world, were destroyed. Quite an amount of live stock was saved. The fire was of unknown origin.

A few hours later a fire on the Haydock ranch, also of unknown origin, destroyed the garage and barn and damaged an automobile. The loss was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Coleman, last evening enjoyed a theatrical performance, in complete ignorance of the fact that their home on Palm street was burning and that the fire company was making heroic efforts to save the building. This was accomplished but the place was damaged several hundred dollars. A pet Chihuahua dog belonging to the Colemans made frantic efforts to reach her puppies, which were in the blazing building, and was smothered to death by the smoke. Firemen brought her out, and endeavored to restore her, but without avail. The puppies were rescued unharmed.

WAR TO BLAME FOR MAN'S MISCONDUCT.

POMONA JUDGE DECLARES NAVY OFFICER SUFFERS FROM PRIVATIONS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Jan. 21.—That J. H. Palmer, naval officer, self-confessed bad-check passer, and, according to Judge U. E. White, at present "A.W.O.L." from his ship, although his discharge is now awaiting him, has been so mentally disturbed by the wounds and privations endured by him in the service that he is hardly accountable for his recent erratic actions is the opinion of the judge, before whom the navy man today had his preliminary examination and was held to answer to the Superior Court. For this reason, especially as the young man made a complete confession, expressing great contrition, and also declaring that he cannot understand how he could have steered such a dangerous course, it is believed that when the case comes to trial he will be given probation.

It was said that the young man had excellent papers covering his conduct during U-boat warfare, and he was in hospitals in France for a long time following severe wounds received in action. He had hitherto been an exemplary young man in every way, it is understood, and comes of a prominent Ohio family, his mother being a widow. It is believed that relatives will come to his aid in making good the amounts which he obtained by the alleged fraudulent checks, so that the local people who have accepted them will eventually receive their money back.

NOT SO POOR.

F. W. Poor, a deputy in the civil department of the Sheriff's office, was busy yesterday accepting congratulations, which he said were not because he or any member of his family were mentioned as candidates for Sheriff. The cause, he said, is that his wife is the mother of an eight-pound baby girl.

TO WELCOME PERSHING.

School Children Will Have Part in Ceremony at Arcadia.

MONROVIA, Jan. 21.—Every boy and girl within a radius of ten miles about the Army Balloon School at Arcadia has received an invitation to be present at Ross Feld next Monday morning and help welcome Gen. Pershing. Supt. A. R. Clifton of Monrovia schools is in receipt of a letter from Col. Ira F. Fravel, commandant at Ross Field, asking that Monrovia school children be present. Col. Fravel says that he wired Gen. Pershing's side for permission to invite the children and received the assurance that the general will be delighted to greet the youngsters. Plans are being made to have all the boys and girls on the field before 9:45, when the ranking officer of the U. S. Army is due to arrive. He will remain in camp about an hour.

RANCHES NEED RAIN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 21.—Reports from the higher altitudes of the Sierra Mountains are to the effect that the snow level stands at about two feet, which is slightly less than for the same period last year, March and April are, however, the heavy snow months, and the situation need not be regarded as necessarily serious for the summer supply of irrigation water. Ranges are suffering, however, and unless there is rain soon the cattlemen of this district must suffer heavy losses.

Chicago Grain Dealer Puts Blame on Railroads.

Pasadena Arranges Reception for Gen. Pershing.

Two City Employees Suffer Painful Injuries.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Jan. 21.—Inadequate transportation facilities are blamed by George E. Marcy of Chicago, president of the Armour Grain Company, for the food shortage that exists. Mr. Marcy, who is one of the grain market's biggest figures, declares that there is plenty of grain and foodstuffs in the world. Mr. Marcy, accompanied by his wife, arrived from the East, and will spend the remainder of the winter here.

"There is a great deal of wheat and other grain in the United States, a great deal of it still in the farmer's hands," said Mr. Marcy today, "but it has not been marketed and properly distributed over the country because transportation is demoralized."

Mr. Marcy blames government control of the railroads as being responsible for the situation. He states that farmers are anxious to ship their grain, but cannot do so because of lack of cars. Concerning the winter wheat crop, Mr. Marcy states that it is too early to make any prediction as to the probable size of the yield.

TO RECEIVE PERSHING.

Plans for the entertainment of Gen. John J. Pershing are being made by the committee of one hundred, representing the patriotic and civic organizations of the city. The famous military commander is to be Pasadena's guest on January 29. Gen. Pershing will be welcomed at the Colorado-street bridge by Chairman Hamilton of the City Commission, and will be taken on a drive through the city, after which he will meet the ex-soldiers at Library Park and deliver an address. He will spend the afternoon visiting Maj.-Gen. W. A. Kobbe, at his home, 116 South Grand avenue, and will leave late in the day for Phoenix, Ariz.

PLEADS FOR POLAND.

Dr. Virginia Murray of Alhambra, who recently returned from Poland, where she was engaged in Red Cross work, was tendered a luncheon today by the Pasadena Chapter of the Red Cross. Dr. Murray gave a short address with reference to conditions in Poland, making a plea for the saving of the children of that and other countries from starvation, disease and misery, which stalk in the wake of the war. Dr. Murray announced that she plans to return to Europe in a short time to inspect institutions for children in Belgium, Italy and France for the Junior Red Cross.

EMPLOYEES ARE INJURED.

A. G. Roberts, chief engineer of the municipal lighting department, and Walter Boyles, a lineman of the department, were injured today in strange accidents. Roberts was burned when a motor was short circuited, while Boyles was badly injured when a bucket of molten lead was overturned and ran down his neck, burning him from his head to his heels. Roberts owes his life to the fact that he used a long stick to pull the switch on the defective motor. There was 18,000 volts in the charge, according to C. W. Koiner, manager of the lighting department. Boyles was injured while installing electric wires and was working at the top of a ladder when the hot metal was overturned.

FAVORS CHURCH MERGER.

Dr. John Willis Baer, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, leaves next week for Philadelphia to attend the conference on organic union of all the evangelical churches in the county. Dr. Baer in discussing the plan today declared he was heartily in favor of it and believes that it will be only a matter of time until there is one great Protestant church in America.

GEESE AND ROBINS START ARGUMENT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PERRIS, Jan. 21.—The weather sharps in this district are sadly puzzled. Some days ago, the passing over of a flight of wild geese going south brought forth the unanimous verdict, that according to all precedents, it presaged a spell of cold weather. The theory is that they were driven out of the north by a cold wave which in time will reach here. But such predictions were made rather ridiculous by the arrival yesterday of a dozen robin red breasts, whose coming has always been a harbinger of warm weather. Accordingly the local weather forum is sharply divided between the relative merits of geese and robins as weather prophets.

PLAN TO BUILD STORAGE PLANT.

Van Camp Company Seeks Location at the Harbor.

Catalina Boats to Have New Dock at Wilmington.

Position of Works Manager at Shipyard Abolished.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Jan. 21.—A $300,000 cold storage plant will be built at San Pedro by the Van Camp Sea Food Company, provided satisfactory leases can be secured for the required land. A tract 225x200 feet is desired, near the Southern Pacific slip, part of which is on city property and part on the railroad property.

Applications have been made for the site to both the Harbor Commission and railroad company.

The Van Camp company now operates a cannery and has a small cold storage plant used in connection with its canning business. The larger plant will be designed to store fresh fish for the market and stabilize prices. There is no plant at the harbor of sufficient capacity to store surplus fish when catches are large.

The result is that fishermen often have to give away fish because of lack of market to absorb their catches while at other times they have no fish to sell when prices are high.

BUILD NEW LANDING.

Work will be started within a few days on the remodeling of the Water street transit shed at Wilmington, where the Santa Catalina Island Company will maintain its freight and passenger stations in the future.

Work of converting the building will cost $15,000 and will include the installation of concrete floors, offices, waiting and baggage rooms. As soon as the new terminal is completed the present dock of the Catalina passenger steamers at the Fifth street landing will be given up by the company.

ABOLISH POSITION.

Officials of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company announced today that no successor will be named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David Hollywood, works manager of the plant, who was killed here last Saturday.

Hollywood built up an efficient executive force at the shipyard under J. A. Talbot, vice-president and general manager of the company, and it has been decided to abolish the position of works manager, dividing the work among Hollywood's superiors and subordinates.

"Everything Agrees With Me Now," He Says.

Is Able To Work Long Day Since Taking Tanlac.

Feels Stronger Than for Many Years.

"Anybody that had received such benefit from a medicine as I have from Tanlac would be unfaithful not to tell others about it," said William Peyton of 420½ Broadway, Redondo, Cal. Peyton is a motorman on the Redondo line of the Pacific Electric Co., running between Los Angeles and Redondo.

"For the past four or five years I have been in the worst kind of health, troubled with indigestion, disordered kidneys, nervousness, sleeplessness and a general run-down condition," continued Mr. Peyton. "It seemed that everything I ate soured on my stomach and turned to gas to form. I often had terrible dizzy spells and everything would turn black before my eyes. I had such a poor appetite that I could hardly force myself to eat, and after I had taken one or two meals I would get up and leave the table, for I was so restless I could not sit still. I was not able to get any good and at times I would actually toss half the night. When morning came I felt weak and worn out, and many a day I was not able to go to my work. My kidneys were badly disordered and worried me almost every night. I had little ambition or energy and my skin looked bad. I was so nervous I would shake and finally got in such bad shape I became alarmed at my condition.

"One day I read a statement about Tanlac that described my condition exactly and decided right then and there to give Tanlac a trial. Well, I went straight after my medicine that today, after taking five bottles, I am in the very best of health. I have gained fifteen pounds in weight, am enjoying my meals and relish everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. The gas has gone from my stomach and I am not bothered with dizzy spells any more. My nerves are steady as a clock and I can sleep a log all night long. My complexion is in splendid condition and my complexion has all cleared up and I have been built up in every way and feel better and stronger than I have in years and I never miss a day from work now."

NO-PARKING LAW IS IMMINENT.

on its streets, and adopting rerouting, can obtain the blessing of a fine street car service with the fare remaining at 5 cents, that it should welcome the opportunity."

In the discussions on the subject it was brought out that 90 per cent. of the merchandise deliveries in the congested district are now made through the alleys or private drives; that the American Railway Express has 100 wagons that visit the congested district daily, and that all others would bring the total of such vehicles up to less than 400.

ACCIDENTS GROW.

An interesting feature of the hearing was the report of Capt. McDowell, head of the traffic bureau, on cause of traffic congestion, the constant increase of accidents due to the congestion downtown. For the first six months of the present fiscal year he showed that the accidents reported to this bureau were: July, 1156; August, 1411; September, 1466; October, 1506; November, 1545; December, 1647, or a total of 7741. This was compared with a total for the whole of the last fiscal year of 11,513.

"Seventy-five per cent. of these have occurred in the congested district," said Capt. McDowell.

These do not include street car accidents, which are reported directly by the companies, and Engineer Sachse stated that this class of accidents have increased more than 100 per cent. in the past year because of the constant increase of congestion.

The opposition of the Auto Dealers' Association representative was based on the plan to permit deliveries of goods in the no-parking district, the statement being made that this association is willing to abide by the proposed ordinance if it is made to apply to all classes. The taxicab owners wanted exceptions made for their business, claiming that the no-parking plan would put the smaller cab operators out of business.

Mayor Snyder stated last night that he is in favor of its immediate adoption, so that plans for improved street car service and less congestion may go ahead at once.

DROP CENSUS CASES.

Most of Charges Due to Misunderstanding, Dodson Says.

With the completion of the period within which the national census must be closed, it is understood that the pending cases in the Federal court, charging failure to answer enumerators' questions, will be either dropped or a nominal fine assessed. This is in harmony with the judgment of Supervisor Dodson, it seeming that in but very few cases does an evident attempt to evade the law appear.

The preliminary examination of Mrs. Mescal Munks of this city was set for yesterday, before U. S. Commissioner Long, but it seems that the arrest of the woman arose from a misunderstanding, and she was discharged.

George Kellinger of El Monte, charged with withholding information from the enumerator, was arraigned and gave bond for $100 for his appearance, January 30, then the case was dropped. He declared that his arrest was a piece of spite work on the part of the enumerator.

Derwin Green, a mechanic employed in a garage at Norwalk, was held at his preliminary in a $100 bond, on a similar charge, with his examination fixed for January 29, but was later on released on his own recognizance.

"POTATO KING" SUBPOENAED.

Fair Price Committee to Quiz George Shima.

Japanese to be Asked Why "Spuds" Went Up.

Others also Called Before Investigating Body.

At a meeting of the Federal Fair Price Committee in U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court room at 3 p.m. today an effort to secure all of the obtainable facts in regard to the present high prices of potatoes will be made, and to that end among the witnesses subpoenaed are George Shima, the Japanese potato grower of the San Joaquin Valley, who is declared to control the local potato market.

The recent advance in the price of the tubers, instances being known of the sale of potatoes at 5 cents apiece, has stimulated the inquiry, and it is hoped that something in the way of authentic information on the local potato situation may be obtained. The sessions of the committee will be executive, which is necessary until the groundwork of the activities of the organization are fully developed, it is stated.

Among other dealers close to the potato trade who have been summoned to appear before the committee this afternoon, are J. C. Richardson, representative of the Walter A. Perry Company of this city, car lot receivers; A. Ladow, representing the Klein-Simpson Company, wholesalers; P. M. Young, of Young's Market Company, and F. W. Read, investigator in market surveys, Department of Agriculture.

It is understood that in addition to the quizzing of these witnesses confidential reports on the potato situation, prepared by special agents of the Department of Justice, will be submitted to the committee.

This will probably be the last meeting of the committee in the Federal building, as the facilities at the command of the organization are not sufficient. A downtown selection of new quarters is to be made.

REQUESTS CREMATION, ASHES "THROWN AWAY."

OAKLAND MAN WRITES LETTER TO CORONER, THEN ENDS LIFE WITH POISON.

After writing a letter to the Coroner, in which he asked that his body be cremated and the ashes "thrown away," George Allgewahr, an Oakland engineer, 55 years old, committed suicide by drinking cyanide of potassium, in a hotel at 216½ East Fifth street, last night, according to a report by Police Detective Rico, who investigated. The body was taken to Bresee Bros.' undertaking parlors. Funeral arrangements will be made after the authorities receive instructions from the man's brother, L. Allgewahr of 665 Fifty-seventh street, Oakland.

At the hotel, where Mr. Allgewahr registered several days ago, no reason for his act was known. His letter follows:

"I just had to do this. I got four $20 American Express orders on me—my watch and chain and money—about $19. I want you to send this to my brother, L. Allgewahr, 665 Fifty-seventh street, Oakland—I want the lodges that I belong to see that I am cremated and my ashes thrown away.

"G. ALLGEWAHR."

BARES ORGY OF BURGLARY.

Believed by the police to be one of the most skilled burglars that ever operated in this city, John Bertsche, 20 years of age, who confessed after his arrest that he has broken into more than a score of homes during the past few weeks, was arrested yesterday at Fifth and Main streets by Police Detectives Rich and Harris, following a chase of several blocks. Police attention was called to Bertsche when he attempted to sell a quantity of clothing stolen from the residence of Mrs. Charles P. Wagar, 1 St. James Park, early yesterday morning.

Detectives Rich and Harris say they have been hunting Bertsche for weeks. Loot taken in various burglaries in the city has been sold in second-hand stores in their district and the two officers some time ago secured a description of the thief. Until yesterday morning, however, they were unable to learn his whereabouts.

Bertsche was first seen by the two detectives with a package under his arm, walking on Main street. The youth turned into a second-hand store and the police officers followed him. While Bertsche was attempting to sell his loot, they arrested him, but he broke from the store and ran. A chase of several blocks resulted in his capture.

An episode will also be devoted to Athens, using the glories of the Acropolis as the background.

According to the communication from Italia Films conveying the invitation to Mr. Holubar, the reason for the offer is the profound impression made upon the representatives of the company by "The Heart of Humanity." It is also stated in the communication that the plan is to use American directors, American players and American technical staffs, with the view to teaching the Italian producers the Yankee methods of producing shadow drama.

A dramatic feature of the plans of the company is that Eleanore Duse, the famous French actress who once jilted D'Annunzio, is to be featured in some of the productions.

Mr. Holubar's connection with Universal is such that it is possible he may be unable to leave that organization, though he asserts Universal has itself broken the contract.

"And I hope to be able to accept the big offer," said Mr. Holubar, "for I consider it the opportunity of a lifetime. If I go it will be next summer."

Tom Forman is Director.

Tom Forman is out shopping for a megaphone and goggles today, according to one of the most interesting announcements emanating from the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation in some time. This announcement is to the effect that Mr. Forman, one of the most popular young leading men of the screen, is to be promoted to a directorship.

Mr. Forman will have as his first subject no less lovely and talented a star than Ethel Clayton, who is shortly to commence work in "The Ladder," adapted from the story of Harold Vickers.

Parks His Pencil.

From space writer on a big Chicago paper to hand-painted leading man with Hudson seal hair and those long, dreamy eyelashes, is the rather amazing leap recently taken by Tom Gallery, son of Chicago's most popular police captain, "Mike" Gallery.

Zasu Pitts and the Brentwood Film Corporation are the beneficiaries of Mr. Gallery's ambitions. The youth recently breezed into town from the windy city to pursue his profession as pencil pusher and magazine writer on screen subjects and people. But the more he saw of how they put it over from behind the scenes at the different studios the more he argued with himself that "they" had nothing on him in those qualifications which the screen demands.

Over at the Brentwood studio, one day, he watched Zasu Pitts in the making of "Seeing It Through," and summoning all that personal charm and those taking ways which he doubtless inherits from his father "Mike," Tom soon became a close friend of everyone on the lot. He even managed to persuade the hard-boiled director, in this case Henry Kolker, that just because he could write a good newspaperstory was no sign he couldn't also be a tear-teaser on the screen; and one day Kolker decided that Tom Gallery was just the boy to play opposite Miss Pitts in her next picture, entitled "Bright Skies." So Gallery has packed up his 314 Eagle and scratch-pad, and, having learned the gentle art of make-up, is posing under the Kleigs opposite Miss Pitts.

And now Gallery is doing so well that it is more than hinted around the Brentwood lot that he is to be starred in the near future.

Robert Gordon Starred.

Robert Gordon has signed up with J. Stuart Blackton Productions to star in a series of pictures. His wife, Alma Francis, is to return to the vaudeville stage.

—o—

Bill Farnum's Plans.

William Farnum, Fox star, who arrived in town last week with a party of seventeen people, including his wife and little daughter, has come West, according to announcement from the Fox studios, to make six western pictures, the first of which will be "The Orphan," by Clarence Mulford. The location for this picture has not yet been selected, nor has the cast, with the exception of Louise Lovely, who will play the feminine lead.

The star's second picture will be "The Desert Shall Blossom," by Kate Borbaley, in which Farnum will play the part of a young engineer.

Mr. Farnum declares himself very glad to be back in California, especially as he hopes it will benefit his wife's health, she having been ill during the past several months.

Before going to work, Farnum will spend a short vacation at Catalina. In fact, the star enjoyed several intense hours last Monday selecting fishing tackle, rods, etc. He and brother, "Dusty," are to have some real old-time fishing sport together.

J. Gordon Edwards, Mr. Farnum's director, will arrive in town in a few days, and then the star's vacation will come to a close.

"But I don't care," said Farnum with a grin, "if he does stop to play marbles by the wayside."

Sylvia Breamer Out.

Sylvia Breamer has left the J. Stuart Blackton Productions, and is considering a number of offers from various companies.

Some Comfort Anyhow.

Horsley Studio Populous.

Henceforth, according to an announcement just at hand, all Warner Brothers productions will be made at the David Horsley studios, 1919 South Main street. The studio, one of the oldest in the Southland, was taken over last week by the Warner Brothers, and hereafter the Helen Holmes serials and Paramount-Al St. John comedies will be shot on that lot.

Miss Holmes has begun work on her second serial for the Warner Brothers. The picture has been named "The Danger Trail," and will be made under direction of Gilbert P. Hamilton.

Al St. John will shortly commence work on his fifth comedy. The fourth, "The Aero-Nut," has been subtitled and forwarded to New York.

—o—

Sounds Reasonable.

Mary Miles Minter, who has just begun work on a new feature at the Morosco studio, was waiting for her machine the other day. She happened to be standing near the office of Jessie Hallett, the casting director, and this is what she says she overheard between that representative of artistic fate and a certain middle-aged lady extra:

"Not for $5 I won't! I should say not!" exclaimed the extra, indignantly.

Miss Minter wondered what it was the lady objected to doing for $5.

"Them there things cost me $75 and—"

"But—" began Miss Hallett, soothingly.

"No, ma'am!" from the indignant applicant for extra work. "Not for $5! $10 is what I get if I have to take my teeth out!"

Anita Stewart Works.

Anita Stewart has come home from a short vacation in the mountains, has again donned the grease paint and is now at work at the Maier studios on a film version of Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," with Edward Jose directing.

Miss Stewart went to the Kinema on Tuesday night, and declares she got a warmed-over thrill viewing her celluloid double in that rescue fire scene with the horse.

Will Rogers Took It.

A trainload of easterners became quite mortified, the other day, after they had collected a hatful of money and presented it to Will Rogers, following a bit of roping he did at the station in Santa Cruz, where he was at work on his current picture for Goldwyn.

It all happened this way. The gum-chewing expert of the lariat was sitting lazily in his saddle down at the depot when the eastern train pulled in. Several of the cowpunchers of the company were with him, and as the train came to a stop Rogers started doing a little fancy roping. He did his tricks and then took the applause. Some enthusiastic person on the train took off his hat and cried "Let's make up a little purse for this cowboy; this is the real western stuff; this is great!"

Everybody planked down a quarter or a half, and soon the hat was bulging. Just as the train started the enthusiastic individual presented it to the smiling Rogers. Bill took it, doffed his hat, and said: "Guess this will help the kids at the Children's Hospital, all right. Thanks!"

Moreno and Tally Guests.

Antonio Moreno, fear-proof devil of Vitagraph thrillers, and T. L. Tally, vice-president of the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, were the guests of honor of the Spanish Theater in Los Angeles, Monday evening, on the occasion of a special performance, at which M. Lerdo and his musicians appeared following the Spanish comedy, "Zarapa Nacional," written by the star, Felix Medel.

Antonio Moreno has consented to appear at the Spanish Theater in a new play by Mr. Medel.

TO PRESENT PLAYS.

Drama League Plans Programme for Tomorrow Night.

One of the most interesting of the programme of the Los Angeles Center Drama League of America is promised for tomorrow night at the Little Theater, 1324 South Figueroa street, when "The Locked Chest," by John Masefield, is presented. Walter Randeck, Robert S. Wallace, Alfred Drew and Emma Nichols are in the cast. In addition, a sketch entitled "Moonlight" will be presented with Carolina Abrams and Alfrod Hollingsworth.

The musical features are to be furnished by Miss Elsa Robinson, Mrs. Vincent Lehigh, Miss Henderson and Nells W. Gade. An added feature will be the interpretation of "Hamlet" by James Young.

SEEKS HUSBAND HERE.

Unable to find her husband after following him to this city from Buffalo, Mrs. Lawrence Gruler yesterday asked the police to assist her in the search. According to Mrs. Gruler, her husband, Lawrence Gruler, a house decorator, left Buffalo on December 10, to come to Los Angeles. He told Mrs. Gruler that after obtaining employment in this city he would send for her.

Doris Pawn is registering her charm in the leading feminine role in "Toby's Bow," the Tom Moore film play, at the California; Belle Bennett is brightening the Triangle special, "The Mayor of Filbert," at the Hippodrome, while Helen Jerome Eddy is appearing in Mary Pickford's happy childhood romance, "Pollyanna," at Clune's Auditorium and will be seen opposite Sessue Hayakawa in "The Tong Man" next week at Miller's.

BRIEFS.

BECK DUE HERE SOON.

ORPHEUM CIRCUIT HEAD TO DECIDE ON NEW HOUSE.

By Edwin Schallert.

Martin Beck, generalissimo of the Orpheum circuit, recently reorganized and financially expanded, is expected to arrive here within a few days from the East, with plans for the construction of the new three-a-day theater in this city. Mr. Beck was due here January 15, but owing to important new enterprise of the Orpheum, was delayed in Chicago.

The exact plan for the new theater, its probable location, will not be determined until Mr. Beck's arrival. The Orpheum has already in operation similar houses in other cities on the circuit, which have enjoyed a very distinct success, and it is believed that Los Angeles will be a profitable field for the establishment of a similar institution.

Competition in the vaudeville world during the coming season promises to be unusually intense. The fact that Pantages Theater is to move into its new house on the corner of Seventh and Hill streets within the next few months, places this circuit on a new footing in the competitive circle here. This organization has lately been bringing forward a much higher class of vaudeville acts. Such people as Eddie Foy, Sophie Tucker, and others, have been engaged to lend greater brilliance to the bills, and the understanding is that the expansion of the circuit which has gone forward very rapidly in the past year, with the construction of new theaters and the invading of new localities, is the fore runner of even more elaborate feature vaudeville acts.

The success of the Pantages vaudeville enterprises in Texas are reported to have caused the withdrawal of many of the Marcus Loew activities in that State. It is known that Mr. Pantages has further large plans for strengthening his position in the vaudeville world.

While the Orpheum and Pantages do not come into direct competition, the increased activities on both circuits are redounding to the benefit of the attractions offered by each. The vaudeville business is apparently in the healthiest state of prosperity at the present time, and has fully recovered from any effect which the picture game has had upon the trend of its success.

—o—

The Bard's Island Romance.

Shakespeare's "Tempest," reckoned as his greatest romantic drama, will be presented by the Pasadena Community Players at their theater, commencing Monday evening. Gilmor Brown, managing director of the theater, is said to have worked out an interesting production along Gordon Craig lines. A special orchestra of reed instruments is to play the musical score for the presentation, under the direction of Miss Alberta Jones. The cast of characters will include Mrs. J. W. Morin, Virginia Timberlake, Wendell Wilson, L. E. Estes, Lois Austin, Fisher Joy, Raymond Jarecki, Ruth Walker, Gilmor Brown, William Reis, Jr., Albert Greenstreet and Maurice Wells.

—o—

Few Songless Roles.

Julie Ring, who is achieving a very brilliant success in the leading feminine role in "Up in Mabel's Room" this week at the Mason, is perhaps better known to local theater audiences from her vaudeville appearances, for she has been seen at the Orpheum on several occasions in sketches and variety offerings. It was her ambition to keep to the singing role, and she studied with this end in view. She also learned to play the violin. "Up in Mabel's Room" is, however, her fifth songless play. So, except for incidental musical numbers in her vaudeville engagements, she has had little chance to gratify her leaning toward melody.

—o—

The Familiar Alibi.

While Douglas MacLean, who is fond of motoring, was filming the police court scene in "What's Your Husband Doing?" now showing at Clune's Broadway, the director told him to say something that would make him feel natural in the character of the prisoner.

"Your Honor, I was only driving twenty miles an hour," said Mr. MacLean promptly and earnestly.

—o—

He Hedged Later.

"Tell that kid she can come in here and change her clothes if she wants." This invitation was from a storekeeper in Norwalk, who overheard members of Mary Pickford's company seeking a place for the star to doff her kid costume so she could don her grown-up clothes, while working in "Pollyanna."

"That Kid!" exclaimed Al Werker, property director. "Why, that's Mary Pickford!"

"She ain't," said the storekeeper. But a few minutes later, when Miss Pickford emerged from her impromptu dressing-room in her street garb, he fenced with, "There, now, that's Mary Pickford—you movin' picture fellers can't fool me."

—o—

Planning Concert Soon.

The Woman's Orchestra are planning to give their first seasonal concert at an early date. The orchestra has been rehearsing a movement from Dvorak's rarely-heard symphony in G minor and the "Patrie" overture by Bizet as novelties. Director Schoenefeld has just received word from the East of the large success of his American suite as performed by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. This suite is an early composition by Mr. Schoenefeld.

—o—

Goldwyn Head en Route.

Felix Feist, vice-president and manager of the sales for the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation, is on a transcontinental tour of the country, during which he will visit and consult with prominent exhibitors. He left New York early this month. He will probably visit the Goldwyn studios here the first week in February.

—o—

Charlie Popular Star.

Charles Ray will gladden the picture fans at two different theaters next week. A revival of his "Clodhopper" is to be staged at the Palace and "Red Hot Dollars," his latest picture release here, will have a second run at the Garrick.

—o—

Santell with Numa.

Following the completion of his contract with the Universal in April, Al Santell, director of comedies at the U plant, has agreed to join forces with Louis Weiss, vice-president of the Numa Film Company and general manager of Artclass, according to announcement yesterday. It is stated that Mr. Santell will receive a high salary, in addition to a percentage of the profits on each picture he produces. His series will be made in the East.

—o—

Opens Another Theater.

The opening of Oliver Morosco's Little Theater in New York takes place this week, Rachel Barton Butler's Harvard prize play, "Mamma's Affairs," being the premier production.

Back from Vacation.

Claude Mitchell, director, and Henry Woodward, leading man, who worked together in the recent Brentwood production, "Seeing It Through," have returned to Los Angeles from a brief vacation trip to San Francisco.

—o—

Has Gossip Parlor.

Manager Holt of the Hippodrome now has a special room set aside off the stage at the theater, where actors can chat with their relatives and friends between shows. Many of the vaudevillians at the Hip are visited every week by eastern acquaintances or members of their families who are wintering in Los Angeles.

—o—

One Gloom Eradicator.

Kolb and Dill as usual are up to date in the farce with music they will offer for their engagement at the Mason, opening February 2. Naturally, their choice would be expected to fall on the subject of prohibition. And it does, for the title of the show is "Wet and Dry." And there isn't a dry moment in the show. So you can see where the prohibs get off.

—o—

Adapts "Fighting Chance."

The scenario for "The Fighting Chance" has just been completed by Will M. Ritchey, adapter of "Everywoman," which is showing at Grauman's Rialto, and the new story is now in production at the Lasky studios. Writing the scenario for the late Walter Browne's modern morality drama was no small task, according to Mr. Ritchie. The enormous bulk of the material, the peculiarity of the symbolism and the necessity for the situations reconciling the great throng of characters made a difficult and involved task.

Edwards to Retire.

Gus Edwards, the producer-author-composer, whose musical revue will be staged next week at the Orpheum, plans to retire from the stage next summer and devote all his time to composing and producing. When the Orpheum circuit heard of his intention they at once tendered him a route which would take him to every city on the circuit as the head of his own act. Mr. Edwards's present show is entitled "The Welcome Home Song Revue." He will be supported by a company of "newly-found" youthful talent including Vincent O'Donnell, "the kid McCormack," and Hazel and Alice Furniss, billed as "the sunbeam sisters of song and steps."

—o—

The Nickname Stayed.

Little Nancy Caswell, the 5-year-old starlet in "The Day She Paid," at the Victory, is known around the film studios as "the littlest rebel." She received the nickname because during the war she played the title role in "The Littlest Rebel," with William Farnum and Dustin Farnum in the leads. She has appeared in the support of Lew Cody, Gladys Brockwell, Francelia Billington, Elmo Lincoln and others during her young career.

—o—

Now with Symphony.

"Mac" McCarthy, formerly associated with the W. H. Clune enterprises in an executive capacity, has been elected house manager of the Symphony Theater, succeeding Wally Carter, who resigned to assume the direction of a large suburban playhouse.

"OTHELLO" TO HAVE PRODUCTION HERE.

ELEGANT PERFORMANCE IS PLANNED FOR COMING MONTH.

A dramatically elaborate presentation of Shakespeare's "Othello" will prove an event of the present season. The production is to be staged under the direction of Reginald Pole about the middle of February at Trinity Auditorium, the cast to be recruited from the ranks of the prominent actors in this city, while special music from the Verdi opera is planned as a feature. It is probable that a double string quartette or similar ensemble, selected from the Philharmonic orchestra members, will play this music.

Mr. Pole is a noted lecturer and authority on the Elizabethan drama. He came to California some years ago for his health, and has since his residence here mounted some very unusual productions at colleges and schools. The coming presentation will be on a far more elegant scale. It will be achieved in distinctive and simple fashion characteristic of the Elizabethan period. Beside his other activities here, Mr. Pole was interested in the production of "Everyman" in the modernized version given here several years ago.

FOR RABBIT SHOW.

Judging to Start Tomorrow, Then Doors to be Open to Public.

Final preparations are being made for the annual exposition and championship show of the Southern California Rabbit and Pet Stock Association at 241 South Broadway. The session of the association will start tomorrow, but the doors of the show will not be thrown open to the general public until Saturday, as tomorrow is to be given over to the judging, according to Andrew T. Wilson, manager of the exhibition.

All this week entries have been pouring in at a rapid rate, from tiny four-pound bunnies to twenty-pound Flemish Giant bucks. Indications are that there will be an extensive entry list of guinea pigs.

Cash prizes, cups and merchandise awards will be given to the prize-winning entries. The show has the sanction of the National Breeders and Fanciers, the National Flemish Federation, California Commercial Rabbit Association, and the United Cavy Breeders. The annual banquet of the association will be held Saturday night. The show will run five days, ending on Wednesday, January 28.

Officers of the association are: William D. White, president; L. H. Salisbury, vice-president; C. E. Chittick, secretary, and J. E. Love, treasurer. Carl E. Sherman is superintendent of the show, Andrew T. Wilson manager, and Homer Sanderson, secretary-treasurer.

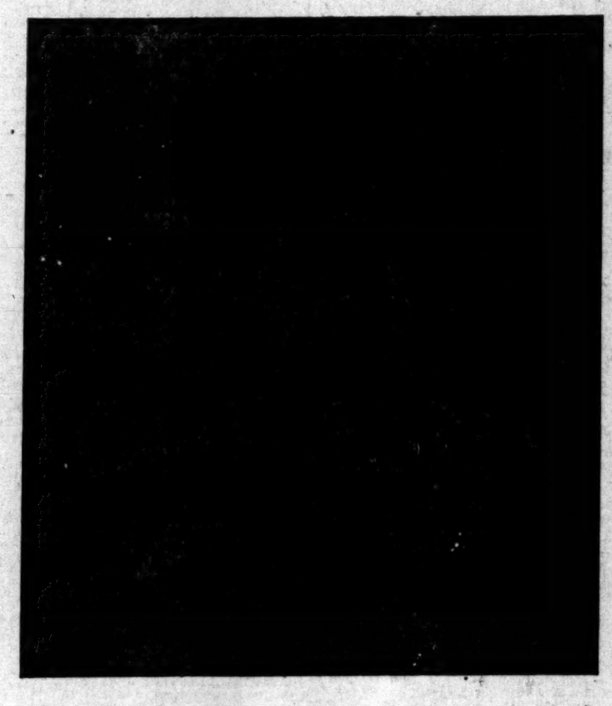
What Happens in the Dark?



HIGH PRICES paid by the consumer for vegetables, for meats, for fruits, for garments of cotton or wool, are disproportionate to the amounts received by the producer on the farm.

Between the time the farmer sells his produce and the time the city consumer buys it from grocer, butcher or huckster, some one, somewhere, adds a charge enormously above the original selling price.

The city consumer, knowing little of the intricate system by which food journeys from farm to table, shrieks that the farmer is a profiteer, and the farmer has been powerless to refute that accusation.

Meantime the middlemen—the speculators, the wholesalers, the jobbers, the retailers—working in the dark, are permitted to continue the disproportionate charges at the expense of both farmer and consumer.

* * * * * * *

IF ONLY the Nation's farmers could compel efficient, economical marketing of their meat animals, their grains, their vegetables, their fruits, their wool, their cotton, consumers as well as producers would profit in more equitable prices.

This sort of marketing is one of the things for which the American Farm Bureau Federation stands.

* * * * *

THE American Farm Bureau Federation is the new national voice for agriculture, speaking not only for its farmer members, but also for everyone who eats food and wears clothes. The day of cheap food is past, and the public must realize that the only basis for greater food production is a just profit to the farmer.

The American Farm Bureau Federation stands for the regulation of corporations dealing in foodstuffs, for support of coöperative enterprises, for economy in public affairs; it opposes government ownership of public utilities.

FOLKS everywhere, are asking: "What is the American Farm Bureau Federation? What does it stand for? What does it propose to do?"

Those questions have been partly answered on this page. They are fully discussed, fully answered, in a great series of articles by Eugene Davenport, Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois, beginning in the January 24th issue of The Country Gentleman.

* * * * *

EVERY city consumer who hopes for lower prices should read this series of articles in The Country Gentleman dated January 24, 5 Cents a Copy on News-stands; $1 a Year by mail; (address The Country Gentleman, Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.)

It will point the way to that understanding between town and country that will bring about just prices for food and clothing—will uncover what happens in the dark.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Meat Crisis Impends; Taxes Affect Bond Market; Business News.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The condition of the live stock market is not altogether satisfactory either as to price or marketing, and, it follows as a matter of course that the condition of the retail market is even less satisfactory. It has been pointed out before that there is a wide discrepancy between the prices being paid on the hoof and those collected from the ultimate consumer, but the various stages through which the commodity passes; the wastage; the refusal on the part of a large percentage of the public to have anything to do with the so-called cheap cuts; the transportation problems; the tremendously increased labor costs; the augmented overhead charges of every description, make it difficult to intelligently co-relate these divergences and establish a fair price basis.

So far as local conditions are concerned, and by local is meant all of Southern California and a portion of Arizona, there is a tendency to reduce ranges and put them to other usage; to view with discouragement the demands of the various middlemen, and to face an almost ruinous condition when dry feed must be resorted to at present levels. A number of cattlemen have decided that the game is not worth the candle and have been selling off their herds. Milch cows are being sold for beef, and we are face to face with rising prices.

In a recent statement issued by The American Live Stock and Loan Company, of Denver, it is stated that in the Southwest there is a decided decrease in both number and weight of cattle, while conditions in Wyoming and Montana are rated as "deplorable."

Live stock receipts in 1919 at the seven principal markets of the country, show a loss over the preceding year of 779,000 cattle and 204,000 hogs, but sheep gained 2,139,000.

The statement, however, finds a silver lining in the cloud for the reviewer reaches the conclusion that after all "the livestock business is the best business in the country today. We have a big population, a considerable demand from foreign countries, and whether we have good times or bad times, people have to eat, and it is our advice to those who have made that business their life work, to plan to continue in it, possibly more moderately than during the last year or two, but to gradually get back to normal and not let the bad luck that has come stop them entirely."

Styles and the H. C. of C.

That the multitude of styles have a good deal to do with the high cost of clothing is the opinion of some Los Angeles dealers, who agree with the opinion that increased production and stabilized modes will help solve the problem. Wages in the garment industry have increased 100 per cent since 1917. "Reduce the number of styles and the manufacturers will produce more garments. I think the government should limit style changes, at least until conditions are normal," said one dealer at a recent trade convention.

Railroad Baiting.

That the policy of railroad baiting which was a popular indoor sport before the war is to be resumed with the return of the roads to private ownership, is indicated by the reported announcement of the attorney-General, of Wisconsin who is planning a campaign for 2 cents per mile fares.

Credit Men to Meet.

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association will be held at the City Club at 5:45 this afternoon. The principal speaker will be Judge William Rhodes Hervey who will discuss our relations to foreign financial conditions. There will be a talk on The Ideal Credit Man From the Sales Manager's Viewpoint, by William Henry, sales manager for the Pioneer Paper Company, and J. M. Rust, credit manager for the Union Oil Company will reverse the topic and talk about The Ideal Sales Manager from the Credit Man's Viewpoint. By the courtesy of Mr. Harold L. Arnold, the motion picture, Trail of the Arrow, will be shown.

The Bond Market.

Bond men are discussing the effect the excessive excess profits and income tax is having on the market. That this is considerable cannot be gainsaid, and until the government sees fit to readjust the application and collection of these taxes the big investor will continue to hold back from the purchase of good industrial issues. According to Woodside, of the bond department of the Citizens' National Bank, during the holiday season, Liberty Bonds were dumped upon the market in thousands, and the repurchase of these is not likely to be rapid. The public is pretty well "fed up" on this class of security, good as it is. Many of these bonds are not entirely tax exempt, and only a certain amount of them can be held anyway, by the big investor. Corporations which bought heavily of Liberties are getting rid of them, because, it is claimed, they cannot afford to hold them at the low yield. The United States Steel Corporation is among the heavy sellers. The big investor is now in a position where, on account of the high tax rate he cannot afford to buy corporation bonds unless they yield 7 per cent. or better and corporations must pay heavily for the money they borrow in order to compete with the tax-exempt municipal bonds. The present high tax rate, moreover, is throttling industry, and, this is a condition which is making it difficult to market good foreign government bond issues in this country, for those governments are forced to pay excessive rates for the money they borrow here. The latest Belgian government loan, for instance, cost that government about 10 per cent. interest., including cost of underwriting, floating, etc. This is not a healthy condition; practically all bonds are brought into competition with tax exempt municipals, and rates are forced unreasonably high. A reduction in the operating expenses of government, followed by a lower tax rate, appears to be the only way out of the shallows into the clear sea beyond.

Bank of Italy Election.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Italy held in San Francisco yesterday, President Giannini presented reports showing the past year to have been one of the most profitable and of greatest increase in deposits in the history of this institution, already remarkable for its marvelous growth. Resources during the year increased in round numbers $45,000,000, and deposits $41,320,787, and this was accomplished without the absorption of any already existing banks, there having been no purchases or consolidations during the year 1919. Increase in number of depositors was 27,885. President Giannini announced that the bank has now reached an earning capacity of $2,000,000 per annum.

During the year an international business department was organized and placed under the direction and supervision of John J. Arnold, for-

LATEST NEWS OF FOOD PRICES.

Although flour millers of the Middle West have reduced the price of patent hard wheat flour 50 cents per barrel, there will be no reduction of price for the flour milled here, local millers declare. The market in Los Angeles, they point out, is the cheapest in the United States; flour which has been selling for $17 per barrel in other cities has been disposed of by the local millers at $13 per barrel. Any reduction in flour prices is the result of a reduction of the price of wheat, and the local market for hard wheat is firm, with indications of going higher. Prices in the East and Middle West have been too high for flour, and under the present conditions, prices here are too low, millers state. This means that the Middle Western millers should further lower their prices, and it may be found necessary to advance prices here until the market has reached a balance.

That local millers have been able to sell at lower prices is due to the fact that California hard wheat has been selling for $4.20 per hundredweight, while Idaho hard wheat has been bringing $5.30 per hundredweight. Wheat producers, however, are refusing now to sell their wheat on the California basis; they are holding for a higher market, and if they get their prices, flour costs will advance correspondingly.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Another severe slump in foreign exchange and the extreme lethargy of the stock market, resulting in greater ease of demand money, were the outstanding features of the day in the financial district.

The break in international remittances carried the pound sterling down to $3.60¾, or 3½ cents under its previous low record, during the market session. French, Italian, Belgian and Austrian quotations suffered in greater degree, but the so-called "neutral" centers were firm.

To find a parallel for today's dull market, in which the turnover barely totaled 475,000 shares, it is necessary to hark back to the middle of last February, when trading dwindled to less than 400,000 shares.

Price tendencies were upward for the most part, pointing anew to the over-extended position of the short account. It was not until the last half hour, when exchange was at its lowest and currency was given to rumors of additional credit restrictions, that the market became unsettled, closing with a heavy tone.

The only noteworthy features at any time were steels, equipments and oils, the first two named deriving their support from weekly reviews, which denoted further large bookings by the leading mills.

Call money opened at 6 per cent., the lowest renewal rate since last October, that quotation holding throughout the day. Time money was quotably unchanged, but again virtually unobtainable except for moderate amounts.

In the bond market the only noteworthy features were the fractional improvement in Liberty issues and local tractions. Total sales (par value) aggregated $13,575,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 6. Sterling, demand, $3.60¾; cables, $3.61½. Time loans, strong; all dates, 7½.

Call money, easy; high, 7; low, 6; ruling rate, 6; closing bid, 5; offered at 6; last loan, 6.

Sterling rallied in the later dealings. Sterling sixty-day bills, 3.58; commercial sixty-day bills on banks, 3.58; commercial sixty-day bills, 2.57½; demand, 3.61 1-4; cables, 3.62.

Bar silver, $1.32 1-4; Mexican dollars, $1.00¾.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Bar silver, 79 5-8d per ounce. Money, 3 1-4 per cent.

The Stock Market.

The market was somewhat easier than the day before with a further development of strength, the close averaging fractionally higher. This situation was in sympathy with the stronger tone of the New York market, where the bulls are beginning to emerge from their parking places. Foreign exchange is still demoralized, and rails were largely neglected. Sugar stocks looked higher and in the home pit Union sold up to $56.50, with no stock in sight at the close for less than $56.50. Oils were generally in good condition, General Petroleum advancing to $159 and the rights to $12. United was weak and fluctuated between 84 and 86 cents. Republic Petroleum registered its customary eighth advance and sold to 28 1-8 cents. Industrials were stronger. Goodyear preferred, was traded in at par and a quarter, and Los Angeles Investment again touched par. Home Telephone bonds in a block of three sold at $85, informally. Union Oil was inactive around $183.50, and the Delaware company was at $25, although there were off-board transactions half a point under that figure. Mines were inactive and government bonds showed little change. Eastern advices indicate a sold out condition and the belief that a dull traders' market will continue for some time pending developments and readjustments.

The World's Best Currency.

Ira Clerk, chairman of the board and manager for the Los Angeles branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, told the retail credit men of Los Angeles, in an address, that "the Federal reserve note is the best currency in the world today because it has behind it a very large percentage of gold; liquid short-time paper bearing the indorsement of banks of good standing; short-time promissory notes of stockholding banks, secured by government obligations, which obligations have behind them the taxing power of the American people; the double liability of stockholding banks, and the entire resources of the Federal Reserve Bank. It is not denied," said Mr. Clerk, "that there is at present great inflation of credit. There is considerable need for credit deflation and not until credits begin to contract will our currency commence to diminish. The longer that the time is postponed for the undertaking of steps for the conservation of credit, the more difficult the task is going to be."

Consolidated Gas.

Local distribution is being made of a $25,000,000 issue of five-year secured 7 per cent. convertible gold bonds of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York, at 100 and accrued interest. The Consolidated controls the entire gas and electric-lighting interests of the Borough of Manhattan, New York City. One of the most important of the company's subsidiaries is the New York Edison Company, which owns one of the largest power plants in the world for the production and distribution of electric current for light, heat and power. Among the Los Angeles distributors are Frank & Lewis, E. H. Rollins & Sons, Stephens & Co., R. H. Moulton & Co., and Stevens, Page & Sterling. The National City Bank of New York is the trustee.

Men and Bonds.

The National City Company has just added to its publications a booklet, which bears title, "Men and Bonds." "A bond," the author says, "is something more than an obligation to pay back to the owner an invested sum of money, with interest. It unites the energies of large numbers of men and women for the performance of great public works or useful private undertakings. It fuses the strength and hopes of the present with the needs of the future. Buying a bond keeps men at work, money at work, progress at work. The man with a bond is as useful as the man with a hoe."

Dress Silks to Advance.

According to the Dry Goods Economist, the demand in the dress silk market is still acute, as it is realized that the needs of buyers cannot be satisfied with the stocks of goods made and in process of weaving and finishing. Latest quotations from Yokohama quote raw silk at 3700 yen per picul, a new high record, being 210 yen over the figure of a week before, and there is no telling what the next cable report will put the price at. When, however, the silk sold this week at this staggering price is made up into dress material its makers will put a price on it that will call forth emphatic protest.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW

merly vice-president of the First National Bank of Chicago, a recognized authority on international trade expansion. The purpose of the department is to furnish information concerning market conditions, credit standing, transportation costs and routing, customs requirements, duties, etc., throughout the world. The bank is going out strongly for foreign business. During the year 1919 the amount of seasonal loans made to agricultural, horticultural and stock raising communities, and to packers and canners of the State totaled over $40,000,000.

The number of directors was increased from twenty-five to twenty-seven, and Joseph A. Migliavacca, of the Migliavacca Estate Company of Napa, and John G. Mattos, Jr., president of the Bank of Centerville, were elected directors and vice-presidents to fill the newly-created offices.

The old board of directors was re-elected, as were all of the old officers, at the meeting of the board immediately following the stockholders' meeting.

PEAK OF CAULIFLOWER SEASON IS NOW PAST.

POTATO PRICES DECLINE 10 TO 15 CENTS PER HUNDRED; LETTUCE IS WEAKER.

An advance in the price of onions and a weaker market for potatoes were the outstanding features of yesterday's produce market. For other commodities, particularly those produced locally, the market was for the most part firm and unchanged. Receipts from the country were heavy, but the buying demand yesterday by local retailers and peddlers was fairly active, and few price changes occurred, although arrivals of cauliflower were particularly heavy, and many of the offerings were of inferior quality, prices showed no tendency to weaken. The peak of the shipping season for cauliflower is now past, supplies are diminishing to some extent, and the poorer grade offerings are more in evidence. Cabbage was very firm yesterday, selling for the most part at 5 cents per pound, or $3.00 per hundredweight. Lettuce prices remained unchanged, but the tone of the market was weak, demand and movement being very dull.

White onions made an advance of 25 cents per hundred, the ruling quotations being from $4.25 to $6.50 per hundredweight. Arrivals during the past week have been very light, and local dealers claim that the supplies in storage are not sufficient to meet the active local demand; that as a result prices must advance. Slow buying interest on the part of local dealers at the ruling prices, and heavy arrivals caused potato prices to weaken again during yesterday's session. Burbanks showed a drop ranging from 5 to 15 cents per hundred, while the decline in russetts and Idaho rurals amounted to 10 cents per hundred. A similar decline was in evidence in the carlot market for potatoes, all varieties showing a fall of from 10 to 15 cents per hundred. Dealers assert that the slump is only temporary, however, and that prices cannot go much lower unless unusually heavy supplies are placed on the local market, an event which is not now anticipated.

The shipping market for local produce showed considerable strength yesterday for cabbage and cauliflower, but the demand for lettuce was weaker. Cabbage of good quality brought as high as $90 and $100 per ton, the high point of the season, and the equal of the high point of last season. Both local and Imperial Valley lettuce was in small demand, and prices were lower. During the past two days the Imperial Valley product has declined from $3 per crate to $2.25, while the local produce yesterday was selling at prices ranging from $1.85 to $2.25 per crate.

MILO AGAIN ADVANCES; BARLEY MARKET FIRM.

Milo continued to register advances during yesterday's session on the grain exchange. The failure of receipts to show any increase seems to be the chief factor contributing to the strong milo market, near-by deliveries in particular are showing daily gains. The barley market remained very firm, although prices were for the most part unchanged. Immediate shipment milo was 25 cents per ton higher yesterday with a car for 20 days delivery selling at $2.08½. The futures were unchanged to 25 cents per ton higher, sales in all February milo were made at $2.08½, while the second half of March delivery brought $2.17½. At the close of the session bid prices for January milo were about 50 cents per ton higher, but there were no sales at that figure. All deliveries of barley were practically unchanged, with the exception of May delivery, which edged up to the extent of 25 cents per ton. There were no sales of barley, however. During the call 800 tons of milo were sold. A car of Kansas bran brought $33.

Investigation of County Police is Promised.

SHERIFF FOOLED COUNTY AUDITOR, HILL CHARGES.

Cline Comes Back with Categorical Denial of Every Complaint Against His Office; Calls it Politics.

has been and is profiteering off of jail prisoners by using his jail-feeding allowance to make money, and, in general, accuse him of using his public office as a private graft. And to all of these chart charges Sheriff Cline replies: "I am not a grafter."

ON PER DIEMS.

Mr. Dodge said yesterday that in the present difficulty with the Sheriff he spoke in his official capacity as chairman, and as representing the united opinion of all five members of the board. He said:

"One of the very hotly contested differences has been the per diems collected by the Sheriff. The law provides that when a prisoner is taken from the jail and delivered to a State institution, that the State will then reimburse the Sheriff for all expenses incurred in transportation, and in addition thereto pay over a per diem, usually of $5—occasionally $10—depending on circumstances. In the two suits brought by the county, judgment was had against the Sheriff for the recovery of per diems collected by him, in one suit amounting to $496, and in the other suit to something over $17,000.

Whereupon, the Sheriff refused and declined to include a per diem charge in his requisitions against the State, and collected only the expenses that were incurred. Afterwards, when the grand jury called the Sheriff before it and investigated the subject, the Sheriff relented from his position and agreed not only to collect these per diems and turn them into the treasury, but agreed to write a letter to the Board of Supervisors, stating that he would do so. No such letter has ever been received, and so far as we know, collections have never been made from the State and it is barely possible that the same cannot now be made after the original settlement in each case has been completed.

"The Sheriff on his part has claimed that he has had to advance moneys for these expenses and wait upon the State for repayment, all of which is true. In estimating the amount of money that the Sheriff had to advance he has stated the amount sometimes at $5000, sometimes at $10,000, sometimes at $20,000 and once as high as $35,000. As a matter of fact, the amount should not run in excess of a few thousand dollars.

"The county has always been willing to provide a revolving fund to take care of this expense, and in the last Legislature a bill was presented which authorized this county to so provide. When this bill was brought on the floor of the Legislature a telegram was read by Assemblyman Baker, signed by John C. Cline, bitterly opposing the passage of the bill, although it was entirely for the benefit of the Sheriff and would relieve the condition of which he complained. Assemblyman Fleming has informed this board that the bill would very likely have been enacted into a law except for the opposition of the Sheriff himself."

Sheriff Cline said yesterday in reply to the statement of Mr. Dodge that on January 5 the Sheriff's office had turned over to the county all fees which had been collected during December and that these amounted to $2492.63. Mr. Cline said that these fees are turned over every month. Regarding the per diem of $5 received by the county from the State, Mr. Cline said that on December 18 he had sent a demand to the State for unpaid per diem of $2190 and that as soon as this money is received it will be turned over at once to the county.

YOSEMITE TRIP.

Sheriff Cline was particularly wrought up yesterday over the charge that he had taken a county car and chauffeur, his wife, daughter and son-in-law last August for a ten-day trip to the Yosemite Valley, for which outing the county paid.

"That's a lie," said the Sheriff. "The county did not pay for that trip, nor any trip that I have ever taken in this car outside the city. I did take the trip, on public business, and I went in the Cadillac automobile and chauffeur provided for my use by the county. I did take members of my family along. The expenses of the trip were paid for by myself. The voucher I turned in was the usual voucher required to explain the absence of and where the car had been. I turned in no expense account for the trip. When I come into court I'll surprise them with a few facts about that trip."

The Sheriff said that, while he could have charged the county for his own meals and hotel bills, and those of the chauffeur on the Yosemite trip, as he was on official business, he did not do so, and has never made charges for any out-of-town trips he has taken. He said: "The bills are more bother than the small amount of money involved makes them worth."

Examination of warrants, vouchers, etc., in the Auditor's office yesterday brought to light no expense account for the Sheriff for the trip, except the voucher referred to, which is in the possession of County Counsel Hill, and which bears Mr. Cline's statement that the trip was for "criminal investigation." Also on file in the Auditor's office are the records of moneys paid to the Sheriff for feeding prisoners at the jail. For October he received $2004, for November, $1800, and for December $2190, based on the number of prisoners in the jail. The Sheriff says that he makes no profit out of this feeding arrangement, but at the rate of 12 cents a meal per prisoner just about breaks even. The County Attorney's office claims that as all overhear charges are paid—light, heat, etc., are paid for by the county—the Sheriff is making money and that the quality and quantity of the food served the prisoners proves this to be true.

Sheriff Cline says he intends to retain former Gov. Henry T. Gage and John T. Foley to be his counsel with George Cryer in his fight against the ouster proceedings.

Sheriff Cline was elected Sheriff and first took office in January, 1915, and served four years, and was re-elected for four years, so that he is now entering on the second year of his second term. His salary is $6000 a year.

Kansas City Man Held for Forgery to Waive Extradition.

H. B. Moore, held on a charge of second degree forgery for the police at Kansas City, yesterday told Deputy Sheriffs Lips and Anderson, who arrested him, that he is willing to go to that city without extradition. The complaint against the man, who was a conductor on a local street car line, accuses him of forgery of a check for $200.

The complaining witnesses are Claudia Moore, who, the man says, is his wife, and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Bank of that city. Moore says that the money in question was his own.

A record was established by the house at its opening, as every room was taken by guests the first day.

The boat has a speed of approximately eighteen knots an hour.

irresistibly turns to treasures for the home—

—And she will surely find treasures of every kind at Hamburger's. Why, a trip through the Art and Gift Shop reveals untold objects of value from the almost inaccessible corners of the Old World.

—Baskets from Japan are crowding themselves out of this delightful section of Hamburger's, there so many and so artistic! You may select every kind from a waste-paper basket to a baby basket or shopping basket—priced from 50c to 2.50!

—And here are wondrous marbles from Italy, to forget to see them when visiting this alluring corner.

And English Prints

have come to leave a lasting impression of color

—Cretonnes so gorgeous as to remind one of a tropical garden. For the most exhilarating hand-blocked-dyed colors go a-rioting through these prints until they gain a conquest from all fabrickers. You'd succumb to their color-scheme, too, for their designing is a thing of many generations—a deep-dyed art blocking, unfadable and lasting!

—The quaint little patterned tapestries are, each, their just share of attention in the Drapery Section at Hamburger's. The demure chintz patterns look like the kind that a rare old walnut or a rosewood should have as a covering. You'd know that they were English the minute you looked at them.

—And, gracious, don't forget the madras from India land. It comes all ready made up in curtains or by the yard. Lovely! Indeed, it is!
